Prior to LAUSD Board of Education approval of an initial Charter petition, and if a renewing Charter School intends to operate as a “school of the district” for special education services, Charter School shall execute a Memorandum of Understanding (“MOU”) by and between LAUSD and Charter School regarding the provision and funding of special education services consistent with applicable state law and the LAUSD Special Education Local Plan Area (“SELPA”) Local Plan for Special Education and shall be considered a “public school of the District” for purposes of Special Education pursuant to Education Code Section 47641(b). However, Charter School reserves the right to make written verifiable assurances that it may become an independent local educational agency (LEA) and join a SELPA pursuant to Education Code Section 47641 (a) either on its own or with a grouping of charter school LEAs as a consortium following the requirements of Education Code section 56195.3(b).

SELPA Reorganization
The Los Angeles Unified School District is approved to operate as a single-District SELPA under the provisions of Education Code section 56195.1(a). As a single-District SELPA, the District has created two charter school sections (District-operated Programs and Charter-operated Programs) under the administration of one single Administrative Unit pursuant to a reorganization plan approved by the Board of Education on January 4, 2011 (149/10-11). Full implementation of the reorganized LAUSD SELPA commenced in the 2013-2014 school year requiring all District-authorized charter schools to elect one of the three options available under the LAUSD SELPA. Prior to an option election, all District-authorized charter schools were required to participate as a school of the District under the District-Operated Programs Unit. Prior to the beginning of the 2013-2014 school year, all District-authorized charter schools, other than those that had previously executed an Option 3 Memorandum of Understanding (“MOU”), were required to execute a new MOU setting forth the LAUSD SELPA option election for the remainder of the charter petition term. The Charter-operated Program schools do not have LEA status for the purposes of special education but will function in a similar role in that each charter school will be responsible for all special education requirements, including but not limited to services, placement, due process, related services, special education classes, and special education supports. Charter schools that have elected to participate in a District-operated programs option may apply for membership in the Charter-operated Program section of the SELPA. Charter schools accepted for participation in the Charter-operated Programs section receive support from a Special Education Director for the Charter-operated Programs.

Modified Consent Decree Requirements

All charter schools approved by the LAUSD Board of Education are bound by and must adhere to the terms, conditions and requirements of the Chanda Smith Modified Consent Decree (“MCD”) and other court orders imposed upon the District pertaining to special education. The MCD is a consent decree entered in a federal court class action lawsuit initially brought on behalf of students with disabilities in LAUSD. It is an agreement of the parties approved by the federal court and monitored by a court-appointed independent monitor. The MCD includes nineteen statistically measureable outcomes and facilities obligations that the District has to achieve to disengage from the MCD and federal court oversight. All charter schools are required to use the District’s Special Education Policies and Procedures Manual and Welligent, the District-wide web-based software system used for online Individualized Education Programs (“IEPs”) and tracking of related services provided to students during the course of their education.

As part of fulfilling the District’s obligations under the MCD, student level data requests from District-operated and Charter-operated charter schools are made on a regular basis. The requested data must be submitted in the Office of the Independent Monitor’s (“OIM”) required format in accordance with the OIM’s required timelines and as follows:

- End of Year Suspension

  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, date of birth, gender, grade, date of suspension, number of days suspended, and reason for suspension.

- Statewide Assessment Data

  The standard file including District ID.

- Norm day

  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, date of birth, gender, grade, location code, school name and local district for all students enrolled on norm day.

- CBEDS

- All Students enrolled as of December 1 of each school year

  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, date of birth, gender, grade, location code, school name and local district for all students enrolled on norm day.

- Dropout

  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, middle name, date of birth, grade, last location, school name and local district

- Monthly SESAC and Suspension data
The MCD requires charter schools to implement the District’s integrated student information system, which is currently referred to as My Integrated Student Information System (MiSiS). MiSiS is a suite of applications which is designed to capture all District student data. All charter schools are required to utilize MiSiS directly or interface with MiSiS via a web based Application Programming Interface (API) in compliance with the requirements of the MCD and applicable timelines. Upon charter school full utilization of MiSiS either directly or via a web based API, the list of required data above will automatically be captured within MiSiS.

1.1 COMMUNITY NEED FOR CHARTER SCHOOL

Overview & Introduction:

PUC Lakeview Charter High School (PUC LCHS) is an outgrowth of the vision of founder, Jacqueline Elliot, four teachers, and 100 families who sought to reform public education in the Northeast San Fernando Valley. The journey began in 1999 with the founding of Community Charter Middle School.

Established in 2010 as an alternative to existing public high schools in the Northeast San Fernando Valley, PUC Lakeview Charter High School began with 97 students in grades 9 and 10, and 7 teachers in 7 portable classrooms. Since then, the school has grown into a rigorous, vibrant California Distinguished school that serves approximately 450 students through a holistic, urgent, student-centered, college and career readiness focus. PUC LCHS offers a college-preparatory and rigorous educational experience emphasizing character development and high academic achievement. The goal that all students will be prepared for college success upon graduation is met through the standard curriculum in core classes, advisory, and extracurricular activities.

PUC LCHS relocated in 2015-2016, to a new, seven acres campus on Glenoaks Boulevard in Sylmar, which it shares with PUC Triumph Charter Academy and PUC Triumph Charter High School. The school is highly sought out by families in the community and has a long waiting list.

2013-2014 marked the first graduating class for PUC LCHS. The focus of school development for our graduating seniors and for all students is the integration of scholarly attributes that will prepare students for college and career success. PUC LCHS continues to improve on developing scholars who are critical and open minded, educating young adults who communicate with clarity, and encouraging students to demonstrate curiosity and creativity while practicing patience and persistence.

CELDT & ELPAC

Based on the data in Chart 1.1 and 1.2 students are advancing in overall language development as measured by the California English Language Development Test (CELDT) and English Language Proficiency Assessments for California (ELPAC). The CELDT demonstrates EL students are remaining steady in overall “Early Advanced” or “Advanced” over the three year period. The percentage of students scoring Early Advanced or Advanced during the 2016-2017 and 2017-2018 school years was 57 percent. During the 2017-2018 those scoring “Early Advanced” increased by eleven percentile points. Note: CELDT data charts came from the Monthly Student Score files because the CDE does not provide numbers when the population is less than three students. 2017-2018 ELPAC scores corroborates CELDT data with 83% scoring a Level 3 or Level 4.

ACT College Admissions Key Highlights

PUC LCHS juniors and seniors take the ACT Exam + Writing in spring of their 11th grade and fall in their 12th grade year. Exam scores provide data necessary to position students for success after high school and are a key component to support students’ college application processes.

For the past 3 school years PUC LCHS has partnered with Revolution K12 to provide ACT + Writing test-prep. At first the program was delivered via train-the-trainer model, with PUC LCHS teachers delivering the test-prep (2017-2018), then switching to the model of a push-in Boot Camp (2018-2019). We are exploring test-prep vendors to provide a Boot Camp style of test-prep service for PUC juniors for the upcoming (2019-2020) school year. In addition to the PUC provided ACT test-prep, PUC juniors are encouraged to take advantage of the many free test-prep resources provided by: Los Angeles Public Library branches, ACT’s ACT Academy – Free online learning tool and practice program.

Analysis of Other Data:

Student Engagement:

Attendance:

As indicated by Chart 1.11 the high school was very close to meeting its school-wide goal for both years and were consistent with a 95% for both years. In addition, the following sub-groups almost met their goal by one percentage point: Hispanic, Socio-economic. During the 2017-18 school year, English Learners met and surpassed their goal by one percentage point. SPED students did not meet the goal by one or two percentage points during the same two-year period. This is an area of growth and the high school team will include this as an area of focus when designing the School Site Plan.

Dropout Rate for PUC LCHS:

The high school met their goal with regards to the dropout rate for the two years reported. Chart 1.13 shows that the high school’s dropout rate for 2015-16 and 2016-17 is much lower than that of LAUSD during the same two-year period by two to three percentage points. The data also shows that the high school’s dropout rate declined between 2015-16 and 2016-17 by .5 percentage point. The high school continues to work on preventing student dropouts by providing a wide-range of supports as outlined in the LCAP plan.

Graduation Rate:

Analysis of the 4-yr Cohort Rate over the last reportable three years highlight that not only did the high school meet their graduation goal but also it exceeded it. During the 2-year period the high school increased its 4-yr cohort graduation rate to 95.2 percent in 2017-18. When comparing the Resident Schools and Similar Schools median score, the high school outperformed in both areas. In addition, when compared to LAUSD’s 4-yr cohort data, the high school outperformed the district for each of three years. See Chart 1.13. This is even more evident when looking at PUC LCHS’ and LAUSD’s overall percentage of graduates with UC/CSU Requirements over a three-year period. In 2016-17, PUC LCHS outperformed LAUSD by over 38 percentile points. See Chart 1.14.

School Climate:

Suspension and Expulsion Rate:

Chart 1.15 below shows that for the 2017-2018 school year the high school nearly met their suspension goal. The expulsion rate over the four years was at zero percent. This reflects the high school’s core value of providing a consistent and on-going educational experience for all students.

Stakeholder Surveys:

PUC Schools annually administers stakeholder surveys that cover different metrics depending on stakeholder being surveyed. The Student Survey is modeled after Tripod’s 7Cs™ framework of effective teaching. The survey measures essential elements of instructional practice. Student survey results aligned with the 7Cs framework offer a streamlined way to provide actionable feedback for teachers and school leaders. Better survey results on the 7Cs components predict higher student achievement, engagement and motivation, as well as success skills and mindsets (Ferguson & Danielson, 2014; Ferguson et al., 2015; Kane & Cantrell, 2010; Kane et al., 2013; Stuit, Ferguson, & Phillips, 2013).

The 7Cs framework groups components into three conceptual categories: personal support (care and confer), curricular support (captivate, clarify, and consolidate); and academic press (challenge and classroom management).

Analysis of data as highlighted in Chart 1.16 show consistency and growth in each of the seven areas. Students mostly score their teachers in the high seventies or above. Survey data for the 2018-19 shows that “Safety” as one of the highest areas with 84 percent of students responding “Totally” or “Mostly True.” Safety was added during the 2017-18 school year. 87 percent of students said they “feel that my teacher will address situations of harassment, teasing or bullying if I let the teacher know.” 85 percent of students said they felt physically safe their classrooms. Overall, students felt they were safe from being bullied and that their school provided a safe and nurturing environment.
The Family Survey is administered annually to our parents/guardians as a necessary part of our continuous improvement process and is broken into six different categories: Facilitation, Family Event, Family Expectations, Respect, Safety, and School Climate.

As Chart 1.17 demonstrates, overall percentage of parents responding favorably has increased from 87% overall in 2017-18 to 92% overall in 2018-19. All six areas were scored in the upper eighties or higher. It also shows that a majority of our parents/guardians are happy with the school. One key take-away is that parents have high expectations when it comes to their child graduating from high school or going to college. This is evident with an average score of 97% families responding either “Agree or Strongly Agree” when it comes to “Family Expectations.” The school's average score increased from 4.24 to 4.39 out of a possible score of 5.
CCSA Academic Accountability Report

The report below is an evaluation of our school according to the California Charter Schools Association’s framework based on publicly available academic indicators. All non-DASS public schools with 30+ CAASPP test-takers and in operation for 4 or more years are evaluated by the California Charter Schools Association (CCSA) based on the past three years’ worth of assessment results and post-secondary outcomes.

Per CCSA’s accountability framework, as described below, our school is above CCSA’s minimum academic criteria and has met the academic threshold for CCSA’s public advocacy support for renewal. See Chart 1.18 below.

Chart 1.18 CCSA Accountability Framework for PUC LCHS
CHALLENGES:

English Language Learners in the Context of PUC Schools

There are 14 PUC schools in total, each of which is part of one of the 3 Partnerships to Uplift Communities corporations: Partnerships to Uplift Communities Valley; Partnerships to Uplift Communities Lakeview Terrace; and Partnerships to Uplift Communities Los Angeles. PUC Lakeview Charter High School is part of the Partnerships to Uplift Communities Valley corporation. Combined, the PUC schools serve a population of approximately 4,900 students in the Northeast San Fernando Valley and Northeast Los Angeles. Approximately 13% of the combined PUC schools’ population are English Language Learners (EL’s). Our elementary schools have the largest percentage of EL’s, mostly due to kindergarten and first grade enrollment.

As apparent in the data, our students classified as English Learners are one of our most vulnerable populations. This is specifically true for PUC LCHS. We see the need to focus intensively on increasing the language and literacy skills of our EL students. As with supports for any sub-group, we believe that the effective teaching practices for ELs will also positively impact the general population. Additionally, we recognize language learning and English Development as a life-long process. Thus, intentional language support and instruction will benefit all students of PUC regardless of their language classification.

CHANGES:

Deputy Superintendent of Academics

In the 2019-20 school year, PUC hired a Deputy Superintendent of Academics in support of our expected academic achievement across the organization. We are focused on the academic success of all students, K-12, in all academic settings and with each significant subgroup. The role of the Deputy Superintendent of Academics is to set a yearly academic vision based on our academic data and desired academic results as an organization and work with the superintendent, site leaders, counselors, special education, and academic support staff through professional development to strengthen practice in support of the academic achievement of all students and each significant subgroup. Our Deputy Superintendent of Academics has set an academic vision for the school year along with academic focus areas, via each school’s School Success Plan, to address the academic achievement of all students and each significant subgroup per school site. We are excited about this new role at PUC Schools in order to ensure we have a visionary academic leader that is working to analyze data, streamline curriculum and instruction, enlist research and best practices, & support the development and coaching of those in support of student achievement throughout the organization.

ELD Coordinator

In the 2019-20 school year, PUC will hire an English Language Development Coordinator. We look forward to having someone in this role to further support of our students, teachers, compliance, and site leaders in support of achievement. The ELD Coordinator will directly report to the Deputy Superintendent of Academics and work as a member of the PUC Academic Team in support of the academic achievement of all students, particularly our English language learners, throughout the organization. The ELD Coordinator will facilitate professional development both at school sites & site leader developments, analyze data to inform practice, research best practices, support with implementation of practices related to EL curriculum & instruction, support all EL compliance efforts, & attended parent nights at school sites to help parents understand classification, ELPAC results, reclassification, & organization-wide and on-site EL supports for students. We are excited about this role at PUC in order to ensure we have an EL academic leader that is working to analyze data, streamline curriculum and instruction, enlist research and best practices, & support the development and coaching of those in support of our EL’s throughout the organization.

PUC Professional Development

We are a data-driven organization that uses data to inform practice in support of our desired academic outcomes for all students. We have a PUC Schools Professional Development Scope & Sequence, developed each school year based on our academic data, to support the ongoing development of all tiers in our organization (i.e. Coordinators, Directors, Principals, Assistant Principals, Deans, Counselors, Teachers, & Teacher Assistants). This is a comprehensive PUC Schools PD Scope & Sequence that highlights the ongoing professional development tied to our organization wide initiatives. We have professional development that is site based, regional, and organization wide in support of all professionals throughout the school year. Our academic data, over the last three years throughout the organization, indicates that we need to continue our efforts focus on developing our understanding and practices around Academic Rigor, Cultural & Community Responsiveness and Backwards Planning Using Data. We are a learning community that actively uses current data and research to support our ongoing developing and response to student data and our desired outcomes. We are continuing our work around ongoing data analysis and our response to data, for all students and each significant subgroup, in each of those professional development categories in order to help ensure success for all. We value the development of all through professional development and strategic coaching in support of all students.

The image above shows rigor defined as “students engaging in multiple iterations of application of learning that are intellectually stimulating in meaningful, novel, and real world contexts.” We know that rigor can be seen through teacher and student actions. “In order to engage in rigorous tasks independently, students must develop skills such as verbal and written evidence-based... communication, critical analysis, problem solving, engineering and modeling, procedural and conceptual mathematics, and technical skills coupled with content knowledge.” If students are expected to do this, it is expected that a “teacher models curiosity, sets high expectations aligned to grade level standards in a growth mindset environment, and facilitates student centered productive struggle.” The language of this collective definition shows close alignment with the California ELA/ELD Framework and our vision for supporting our English Learners, which was also anchored from ideas from the Framework.

The following image reflects our understanding and beliefs about planning. We know that in order to achieve rigorous lessons and an intellectually stimulating learning environment, this means teachers must be intentional with their planning. First, it is important to identify the desired results of a unit or lesson - what will the students know, understand and be able to do? It is pivotal to anchor those results within the context of the standards and essential question. Next, teachers must determine the acceptable evidence that students have met the desired results. This means that they have planned a summative assessment with clear success criteria and with opportunities to collect data formatively throughout the unit or the lesson. With this vision for results and evidence, teachers then plan instruction by thinking about the lesson cycle, objectives and the learning experiences in which students will partake. Again, if an intellectually challenging curriculum is what we expect to be facilitated within our learning environments, especially with our English Learners in mind, then we must be intentional with our planning. If we hope to grow the language development and proficiencies of our ELs then using data to inform this cycle of backwards planning is critical.

We recognized that in order for teachers to effectively backwards plan to implement a rigorous and stimulating curriculum, they first needed to grow their knowledge about their students. Who are they as scholars and as people? What is their academic and personal story? What do they aspire to? What do they need to realize their vision? We believe that acquiring knowledge around students would prepare teachers to plan and facilitate learning in a responsive fashion. Thus, in the 2017-2018 school year, we began our work with Culturally Responsive Teaching (CRT). By focusing on CRT this year, we will build our teacher’s capacities for shared responsibility of all of our students, especially for our vulnerable subgroups like our English Learners. We believe that students learn best in environments that support and value their identities with teachers who are eager to know their individual stories and courageous to push and support them to achieve at their potential. Making the space for teachers to reflect on their beliefs and awareness of culture can allow for shifts in teacher practice that service the partnership and enhance learning environments and increase English Learner student growth. We have both integrated ELD and designated ELD at each of our schools in support of our English Learners. Each school site is responsible for creating a School Success Plan, each school year, in support of desired academic outcomes for all students and each significant subgroup based on academic data. We have a distributive leadership model at our schools where one school administrator is the lead of academics while the other is the lead of culture. The lead of academics works closely with the Deputy Superintendent of Academics and colleagues throughout the organization to create School Success Plans, Site Based Academic Coaching that is responsive to the needs of all students and each significant subgroup at each school site per school year. Each school site has academic goals for all students, particularly subgroups in support of academic learning and achievement for all.

We have restructured our allocation of resources and professional development, based on our student data, to best meet the needs of all students and each significant subgroup. We have welcomed a new Deputy Superintendent of Academics who has set a vision for data informed practice, differentiated professional development for all, and ongoing progress monitoring in support of powerful teaching and learning. We are excited to welcome increased differentiation for all adults in support of desired academic outcomes for all students.

PUC LCHS has embraced challenge over the past 5 years and is proud of the accomplishments of its students, staff, and community. “Our mission is to ensure that every student graduates high school prepared for college success.” We look forward to continuing our efforts to uplift the community and supporting our students at PUC Lakeview Charter High School.
1.2 STUDENT POPULATION TO BE SERVED

Key Demographic Data

PUC LCHS currently serves 790 students in grades 6-12. PUC LCHS recruits the majority of its students from the Northeast San Fernando Valley cities of Lakeview Terrance, San Fernando, Sylmar, and Pacoima. See the map below to help visualize the neighborhoods of Northeast San Fernando Valley.

While PUC LCHS will be open to any child who is eligible under the laws of California for admission to a public school, PUC LCHS expects to serve a population that is representative of the Northeast San Fernando Valley (See Demographic Information). Given the high percent of Hispanics living in the Northeast Valley, we will enroll a student population that serves a high percentage of English Learners (ELs). Further, because of the low socio-economic status of families in the community, PUC LCHS expects the majority of its population will be facing basic financial, social, and educational challenges.

The school serves a student population that partly mirrors the diversity of the community, though with a significantly higher proportion of Latino students. The population in the Northeast San Fernando Valley area is: 84.8% Hispanic, 7.6% White, 3% Black, 3.5% Asian, .1% Native Hawaiian and Other Pacific Islander, .1% Some Other Race Alone, and .7% Two or More Races.
An important statistic for PUC LCHS is the overall population in the area is very young, with more than 40% of the overall population aged below 24. These young people need educational opportunities that will support their needs and allow them to become educated people of the 21st Century.

(Source: 2010 Census Demographic Profile Data)
Socio Economic Data

Almost 30% of the population in the Northeast Valley live below the poverty level, slightly higher than the percentage overall in LA County. Income disparities and inequalities are evident, across communities.

San Fernando Valley Residents’ Income

The chart below shows the income breakdown by thousands of dollars, according to the 2010 US census. It shows, while many San Fernando Valley residents are upper class and upper middle class, nearly a third of all residents are near or below the poverty line. This is especially the case in the communities of Pacoima, Sylmar, Sun Valley, San Fernando, and Lakeview Terrace, all of which we serve.

Education Enrollment and Attainment

Finally, as depicted in the following chart, almost a third of the population in the Northeast San Fernando Valley has failed to earn a high school diploma and another fifth have only attained a high school or equivalent diploma.

PUC LCHS is needed in response to the continued high drop-out rate in the area we serve.

- The majority (79.65%) qualify for Free or Reduced lunch status.
- 13.57% receive special education services.
- The majority (96.28%) are Hispanic.

Our student population is, therefore, one that requires a lot of individualized attention and academic and counseling support. We are committed to providing this.

1.5 VISON & MISSION

The mission of PUC LCHS is to offer every enrolled student a dynamic learning environment within a small community committed to educational excellence and personal integrity. PUC LCHS will guide and nurture its students as they discover and cultivate their unique gifts and talents, challenging each individual to achieve his or her full potential. PUC LCHS will prepare its students to enter and succeed in college and inspire in them a lifelong commitment to intellectual growth so that they will enrich and serve the communities in which they live.

The vision for PUC LCHS is guided by PUC’s 3 Commitments:

1. Five times more college graduates within the communities we serve.
2. After four years with us, students are proficient.
3. Students commit to uplift our communities now and forever.

1.6 EDUCATED PERSON OF THE 21ST CENTURY

Carl Beriter (2002) asked, "What should it mean to be an educated person in the twenty-first century?" 1) To answer that question we must first recognize that there has been a major shift from a manufacturing-based economy to a knowledge-based economy. Linda Darling Hammond (2010) highlights that at least 70% of US jobs now require specialized knowledge and skills, which is a major shift from the beginning of the last century, where only 5% of jobs required specialized skills. 2) Our current system of education was established based on last century needs. As Ken Robinson opined, we cannot meet the challenges of the 21st century with the educational ideologies of the 19th century. 3) In 2008, the report, Benchmarking for Success: Ensuring U.S. Students Receive a World-Class Education (NGA et al., 2008) argued that in order to close the international education gap between the U.S. and other top-performing nations and retain its economic edge the US should adopt standards of "internationally benchmarked standards that would ensure students are equipped with the necessary knowledge and skills to be globally competitive." (p. 24). 4) Vivien Stewart states in her book, A World-Class Education, that "the hyperdigital and global world of the 21st century will demand different knowledge and skills from our students if they are to be successful."
With the adoption of the CA Common Core State Standards and their implementation, the US and California have shifted to providing our students with 21st century skills that will allow them the ability to develop the essential skills and knowledge which will allow them to be self-directed, self-motivated and self-relevant in an information-based society and economy.

PUC LCHS defines a 21st century person as having the following foundational 21st century skills for college and career Readiness:

Academic Skills and Knowledge
- Demonstrate effective written and verbal communication to a variety of audiences.
- Identify and understand mathematic facts, concepts, principles, and theories, applying them in problem situations within and outside the school setting.
- Demonstrate comprehension of a variety of printed materials when reading for pleasure and/or information.
- Demonstrate the ability to read, understand, question, and challenge the literal and implied meanings of fictional and non-fictional material.
- Demonstrate a general understanding of history in order to perceive the complexities of social, economic, and political problems.
- Demonstrate a general understanding of major concepts and processes that are common to all of the sciences.
- Demonstrate understanding of the connections between content areas and apply knowledge by gathering, analyzing, interpreting, and integrating information
- Demonstrate critical thinking and ability to solve problems when making decisions.
- Demonstrate an ability to use technology efficiently to achieve specific goals.
- Demonstrate the ability to evaluate information across a range of media.

Non-Academic Skills
- Demonstrate the desire to pursue learning as a life-long endeavor.
- Formulate questions, make decisions, and seek answers using factual information, logical reasoning, and intuitive and creative thinking.
- Demonstrate collaboration, teamwork interpersonal skills and respect and appreciate diversity in order to solve conflicts, strive for consensus, and function as both learner and teacher
- Demonstrate self-confidence and leadership capabilities.
- Demonstrate the ability to set priorities in order to achieve personal and community goals.
- Understand, preserve, and appreciate their culture and the heritage of others.
- Exercise personal responsibility and flexibility; set and meet high standards and goals for themselves and others.
- Demonstrate the ability to engage intensely in tasks even when answers or solutions are not immediately apparent; push the limits of his/her own knowledge and abilities; generate, trust, and maintain own standards of evaluation; generate new ways of viewing a situation outside the boundaries of standard convention.
- Demonstrate personal, social, and civic responsibility.
- Demonstrate the ability to adapt to an ever-changing environment.
- Participate in creative activity of her/his own and understand and engage with the artistic, cultural, and intellectual work of others.
These persons will be sophisticated, critical, and independent thinkers who are proficient in the use of modern technology and who view themselves as belonging to and serving a global society. They will have a strong sense of themselves and of their cultural values and will be keenly aware of the subtle differences in the cultural values of others.

1.7 HOW LEARNING BEST OCCURS

The assumptions underlying PUC LCHS are that students at the middle school level are in the process of developing the power to reason and they are learning to become responsible and informed contributors to society. Much of what we believe around how learning best occurs comes from Taking Center Stage; The CA Department of Education’s 12 Recommendations for Middle Grades (http://pubs.cde.ca.gov/tcsii/recsforsuccess/recsforsuccessindx.aspx).

“Taking Center Stage builds on and extends Caught in the Middle by showing how to combine a rich student-centered middle grades philosophy with the rigors of a standards-based education”. In addition, Moran clearly articulates the importance of meeting each child as an individual when he says “Learning best occurs when students are treated as individuals, with lessons tailored to their differences and taught in several ways. We believe that all children can learn, and that one child’s potential is not simply higher or lower than another’s, but rather expressed on different dimensions in different ways (Moran, 2009). The school believes that learning is best achieved in an environment that:

- Fosters supportive relationships between students and adults on campus,
- Focuses on students’ individual needs, their natural curiosity and their desire to be challenged,
- Promotes the joy of discovery, the pride of accomplishment and the satisfaction of personal growth,
- Encourages questioning and appropriate experimentation
- Is accepting of varied methods of demonstrating knowledge,
- Promotes depth of learning,
- Promotes physical and emotional health and well-being,
- Is rich and demanding,
- Is developmentally supportive,
- Is psychologically safe,
- Supports self-expression, creativity and appropriate risk-taking,
- Models reflection and self-assessment,
- Models continued learning, interest and enthusiasm,
- Encourages multi-disciplinary and cross-curriculum study,
- Is relevant and authentic,
- Models and requires high-level thinking skills and communication skills,
- Is democratic and student centered,
PUC LAKEVIEW CHARTER HIGH SCHOOL

- Celebrates cultural and individual diversity,
- Promotes the understanding that humans, while interdependent, must ultimately take responsibility for their own lives.”

Current educational research demonstrates that the traditional high school experience and structure has led many at risk students and in particular those of color to drop out, never achieve a high school diploma nor continue into a college or university. We believe that many students drop out of high school because the structure does not allow for the acceleration of curriculum or support a smooth transition into post-secondary institutions. PUC LCHS will be structured around the premise that all students have the interest, ability and desire to move through the formal school process much more quickly, and can, in fact, earn at least the equivalent of the first year of college credit at the same time a high school diploma is awarded. A partnership between PUC LCHS Charter and the Los Angeles Community College District will facilitate the coordination of programs and promote the transfer of students to already established programs in higher education. Our college partnerships borrow from the experience and successes of New York City students in Early College Programs at Bard College, Simon Rock College, and La Guardia Community College as well as lessons learned from the Middle College Consortium which has been in existence for over 30 years. We believe that high academic standards serve as vehicles of equity. We are committed to ensuring that each of our students will achieve high levels of performance as articulated in the State content standards. Therefore, the academic program will not dumb down our expectations of all students. We instead commit to encourage and support students as they partake in rigorous and challenging academic coursework. PUC LCHS will be one of a handful of high schools within the Los Angeles Unified School District to build its entire program around the vision that all students, not just the gifted or highly motivated, will meet the State requirements for a high school diploma while at the same time earning college level coursework credit. PUC’s high school model grew out of the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation’s Early College High School Initiative through a partnership with the National Council of La Raza. Through research the school designers identified five theoretical tenets that will form the basis of the educational and organizational framework of PUC LCHS. The key to ensuring these theoretical tenets are deeply integrated into the school is through professional learning. Therefore, a major component of our development is the implementation of a whole school (teachers, administrators, staff, parents and community members) professional learning model, as advocated by educational researchers Peter Senge, Michael Fullan, Linda Darling-Hammond and Richard DuFour. The theories that inform this learning community include:

1. Individualization. Students proceed through their schooling at different rates, they have different learning styles and bring different needs and issues to the classroom. Traditional high schools do not deal effectively with these problems simply because the size of the school and the number of students in a classroom is too great to allow for individual attention. We will combat these problems in several important ways. First, the school will be limited to no more than 500 students. As a result, faculty and staff and other adults will get to know students on a more personal level. Second, class size will be limited to 25-27 students per faculty member. Third, each student will work under an Individual Learning Pathway that is developed by the student, his/her family and a faculty advisor and is modified and refined at various points throughout the student’s high school experience. Fourth, students will be assigned to groups that meet regularly to discuss educational plans, curriculum issues and problems that occur as part of a growing, developing institution.
2. Small School. There is a body of research regarding the value of small schools. Smaller size is no panacea for all secondary school problems, but there are some very important benefits. For example, smaller high schools have a greater chance of creating a learning climate based on the values of respect and responsibility among students, teachers and the groups that support them. Such value tends to persist within and across these groups. Current research indicates that small schools are safer. As noted in a recent publication of the Gates Foundation, students in small schools, “… are far less likely to experience physical danger, loss of poverty and the demoralizing effects of vandalism. There is also evidence that when students establish relationships with teachers and have adult mentors and advocates, they are engaged in more school activities, stay in school longer, and improve their attendance and passing rates. Small schools are also good for teachers. Teachers have greater opportunities for collaborating with others, addressing the challenges of their work, developing solutions and implementing them. Teachers get to know each other and profit from the experience of their colleagues. This fosters better practice and greater satisfaction with the overall working climate.

3. Connection with the World of Work. PUC LCHS will make significant connections between the subjects of formal schooling and real world applications. These connections are made in several important ways. First, the curriculum will include significant work on projects and real life work applications. The emphasis at PUC LCHS is on active inquiry, rather than on passive learning. Students will use a variety of tools, methods and technologies to produce projects and work products. The aim is not to simply complete a chapter of a book but to conceive of a project and work to its completion. The projects would be geared to the educational level of each student and make the connection between baseline disciplines and real work applications. Second, guest lecturers and practicing professionals who would demonstrate their work in a variety of seminars and demonstration labs will enhance the curricular offerings. Students would be exposed to the real work of scientists, engineers, artists and business professionals who work and reside in the downtown area and have a chance to see how ideas and knowledge are applied to real world settings.

4. Performance Based Assessment. Student progress will not exclusively be the result of completing class time and fulfilling a certain number of subject matter units. Students will be accountable for the same learning standards applied to all secondary students as mandated by the State but also will be judged on the basis of producing products, solving problems and making written and oral presentations. These work products and projects will be aligned to the State content standards and will assume mastery of baseline disciplines that make understanding problems and developing solutions possible. Every graduate of PUC LCHS will compile a performance portfolio that summarizes and presents samples of achievements, projects completed, competencies gained, examinations passed and credit earned.

5. Accelerated Learning. PUC LCHS will continue to offer early college classes to students to support their exposure, advancement, interests, and experience in high school. PUC LCHS will provide opportunities to ease this transition to their post high school goals by supporting students through career education while in high school in order for students make strong post high school education decisions that meet their personal interests and exposure to various career fields.

1.9 HOW THE GOALS ENABLE SELF-MOTIVATED, COMPETENT LIFE-LONG LEARNERS

The PUC LCHS community (students, parents, teachers, and administrative staff) will be focused on fostering educational excellence and creating a dynamic and meaningful learning environment to ensure that all PUC LCHS students are prepared for college success.

Based on the research cited above regarding 21st century skills and our vision, it is imperative that our graduates are self-motivated; self-reliant; literate critical thinkers who are positive participating members of their community. To that end we have set goals that are aligned to achieve this vision. PUC LCHS’s graduates will be able to think, read, write, speak and listen confidently and effectively. They will be fluent in technology, creative in problem solving, literate in scientific and mathematical reasoning, self-motivated and committed to lifelong learning. They will be able to participate in their lives and communities by addressing complex community issues and can communicate capably across race, gender, sexual orientation and class lines. PUC LCHS’s graduates will be capable of making meaningful choices in their lives and in their communities. The following goals will support our students in becoming self-motivated, competent life-long learners.

They demonstrate independence.

Students can, without significant scaffolding, comprehend and evaluate complex texts across a range of types and disciplines, and they can construct effective arguments and convey intricate or multifaceted information. Likewise, students are able independently to discern a speaker’s key points, request clarification, and ask relevant questions. They build on others’ ideas, articulate their own ideas, and confirm they have been understood. Without prompting, they demonstrate... command of Standard English and acquire and use a wide-ranging vocabulary. More broadly, they become self-directed learners, effectively seeking out and using resources to assist them, including teachers, peers, and print and digital reference materials.

They build strong content knowledge.
Students establish a base of knowledge across a wide range of subject matter by engaging with works of quality and substance. They become proficient in new areas through research and study. They read purposefully and listen attentively to gain both general knowledge and discipline-specific expertise. They refine and share their knowledge through writing and speaking.

They respond to the varying demands of audience, task, purpose, and discipline.
Students adapt their communication in relation to audience, task, purpose, and discipline. They set and adjust purpose for reading, writing, speaking, listening, and language use as warranted by the task. They appreciate nuances, such as how the composition of an audience should affect tone when speaking and how the connotations of words affect meaning. They also know that different disciplines call for different types of evidence (e.g., documentary evidence in history, experimental evidence in science).

They comprehend as well as critique.
Students are engaged and open-minded—but discerning—readers and listeners. They work diligently to understand precisely what an author or speaker is saying, but they also question an author’s or speaker’s assumptions and premises and assess the veracity of claims and the soundness of reasoning.

They value evidence.
Students cite specific evidence when offering an oral or written interpretation of a text. They use relevant evidence when supporting their own points in writing and speaking, making their reasoning clear to the reader or listener, and they constructively evaluate others’ use of evidence.

They use technology and digital media strategically and capably.
Students employ technology thoughtfully to enhance their reading, writing, speaking, listening, and language use. They tailor their searches online to acquire useful information efficiently, and they integrate what they learn using technology with what they learn offline. They are familiar with the strengths and limitations of various technological tools and mediums and can select and use those best suited to their communication goals.

They come to understand other perspectives and cultures.
Students appreciate that the twenty-first-century classroom and workplace are settings in which people from often widely divergent cultures and who represent diverse experiences and perspectives must learn and work together. Students actively seek to understand other perspectives and cultures through reading and listening, and they are able to communicate effectively with people of varied backgrounds. They evaluate other points of view critically and constructively. Through reading great classic and contemporary works of literature representative of a variety of periods, cultures, and worldviews, students can vicariously inhabit worlds and have experiences much different than their own.
They care about being precise.
Mathematically proficient students organize their own ideas in a way that can be communicated precisely to others, and they analyze and evaluate others’ mathematical thinking and strategies based on the assumptions made. They clarify definitions. They state the meaning of the symbols they choose, are careful about specifying units of measure and labeling axes, and express their answers with an appropriate degree of precision. They would never say “let v be speed and let t be elapsed time” but rather “let v be the speed in meters per second and let t be the elapsed time in seconds.” They recognize that when someone says the population of the United States in June 2008 was 304,059,724, the last few digits are meaningless.

They construct viable arguments.
Mathematically proficient students understand and use stated assumptions, definitions and previously established results in constructing arguments. They make conjectures and build a logical progression of statements to explore the truth of their conjectures. They break things down into cases and can recognize and use counterexamples. They use logic to justify their conclusions, communicate them to others and respond to the arguments of others.

They make sense of complex problems and persevere in solving them.
Mathematically proficient students start by explaining to themselves the meaning of a problem and looking for the entry points to its solution. They consider analogous problems, try special cases and work on simpler forms. They evaluate their progress and change course if necessary. They try putting algebraic expressions into different forms or try changing the viewing window on their calculator to get the information they need. They look for correspondences between equations, verbal descriptions, tables, and graphs. They draw diagrams of relationships, graph data, search for regularity and trends, and construct mathematical models. They check their answers to problems using a different method, and they continually ask themselves, “Does this make sense?”

They are of service to their community.
Students are achieving the vision that will demonstrate proficiency in communicating their awareness of, purpose for, and link between community service and the school’s mission, vision, and values. They assess the needs in the community and voluntarily are of service to their community service.

In alignment with PUC Schools’ 3rd Commitment, “Students commit to uplift our communities now and forever,” PUC LCHS uses x2VOL online platform which allows non-profits and PUC to post community service opportunities, verify completed hours and track students’ service hours online. In addition, students are required to enter their service reflections into x2VOL, and reference for personal growth and use for college and scholarship application essays. Starting the 2018-2019 school year, per PUC Valley Board, all students are required to complete a minimum of 10 hours of community service per school year. This service requirement supports students’ interpersonal growth, career development, as well as makes them more competitive for college admissions, internships and scholarships.

Consistent with the California Charter Schools Act, these combined goals enable all students to become self-motivated, competent, and lifelong learners. Strong academic preparation aimed at career and college readiness gives students a foundation to continue learning over a lifetime.
1.10 INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGN

The assumptions underlying the PUC LCHS instructional design are that students at the middle and high school level are capable of abstract reasoning (Source: The Adolescent Brain: Beyond Raging Hormones, The Harvard Health Blog) are in the process of developing the power to reason and are learning to become responsible and informed contributors to society. First, the school believes that learning is best achieved when associated with students’ individual needs, their natural curiosity, and their desire to be challenged. Second, learning encourages risk, requires self-examination, and promotes the understanding that humans, while interdependent, must ultimately take responsibility for their own lives. Third, learning manifests itself in the joy of discovery, the pride of accomplishment, and the satisfaction of personal growth. Finally, learning is fostered by supportive relationships with teachers and administrators. PUC LCHS was developed with recommendations from the middle school educational reform documents, Taking Center Stage, and its predecessor, Caught in the Middle, to provide for every middle grade student a common, comprehensive, academically-oriented core curriculum. The high school grades provide a seamless transition, adopting much of the same principles, to move the students all the way down the path to college.

The rationale behind the PUC LCHS instructional design is that a common core of knowledge exists, which all educated citizens should possess. This core includes lessons to be gained from the study of literature, history, science, mathematics, and the arts. We have developed our instructional framework with the end goal of laying the foundation so that students graduate from high school equipped not only to survive, but also to thrive in the 21st century. To meet the needs of the school’s targeted population and to achieve the school’s specific mission, we have drawn on empirical and academic research, as well as the success of the practical experience of educators in the schools in the PUC network.

In order to achieve this mission and vision, PUC LCHS will implement key design elements of the PUC model that have proven highly successful. Implementation of the PUC model will include the following design elements:

- The school curriculum will prepare students with a common core of knowledge, irrespective of primary language or ethnic background.

The assumptions underlying the PUC LCHS instructional design are that students at the middle school level are in the process of developing the power to reason and are learning to become responsible and informed contributors to society. We have developed our instructional framework with the end goal of laying the foundation so that students graduate from high school equipped not only to survive, but also to thrive in the 21st century. PUC LCHS will base its curriculum on the CA Common Core State Standards (CA CCSS), not only because it is required but because we believe that they accurately reflect the skills of the future. California Common Core State Standards for English Language Arts & Literacy in History/Social Studies, Science, and Technical Subjects (2010) reports that “…as a natural outgrowth of meeting the charge to define college and career readiness, the Standards also lay out a vision of what it means to be a literate person in the twenty-first century.” The standards are:
o research and evidence based,
 o aligned with college and work expectations, o rigorous, and o Internationally benchmarked.

PUC LCHS will provide all students with the same rigorous content and will provide scaffolded supports so that all students can access and make use of that content knowledge. Students will not be placed into lower or higher tracks. Learning at PUC LCHS will manifest itself in the joy of discovery, the pride of accomplishment, and the satisfaction of personal growth. PUC LCHS believes that students rise to the meet the high bar that is set for them. High academic expectations, along with high standards, will be communicated, demonstrated, and internalized by all at PUC LCHS – parents, students, teachers, and administrators.

The school will provide a small, nurturing environment.

PUC LCHS will purposefully maintain a small school setting with a maximum of 450 students in which a strong sense of community will be fostered. Research, as well as practice, demonstrates the superiority of small schools. Small school researcher Mary Anne Raywid (1999) has written that the superiority of small schools has been established “…with a clarity and at a level of confidence rare in the annals of education research.” Evidence further indicates that small schools can narrow the achievement gap between White/middle class/affluent students and ethnic minority and poor students. PUC LCHS agrees with findings from the Small Schools Project: “In small schools, student achievement increases, particularly for minority and low-income students. Student attendance improves, graduation rates rise, and college-going rates increase. Students are more engaged in their studies and are more likely to participate in extracurricular activities.” (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Small_schools_movement). “An extensive amount of research indicates that there may be many benefits from smaller learning communities (Supovitz & Christman, 2005; Howley, et al., 2000). The most important benefits include:”

- Raised student achievement
- Increased attendance
- Elevated teacher satisfaction,
- Improved school climate

“Smaller schools may be especially important for disadvantaged students by more individualized attention and teachers being able to address different learning styles. Also, smaller schools may promote substantially improved achievement and higher graduation rates (Howley, et al., 2000).”

The school will provide strategic effective reading and writing instruction.

PUC LCHS ensures effective reading and writing instruction. According to Irene Fountas and Gay Su Pinnell (2006)^1^, there are ten underlying principles of good reading instruction. These underlying principles, coupled with our mission to ensure PUC graduates are successful in college, guide our instructional methodologies.

1. Students learn to read by reading continuous text. It is essential that students spend the bulk of their “reading” time processing text without stopping, as this process allows them to practice orchestrating the systems of strategic actions needed to process text efficiently. They need massive amounts of practice reading for meaning. Additionally, research supports the conclusion that students need sustained exposure to expository text to develop important reading strategies (Afflerbach, Pearson, & Paris, 2008), as expository text makes up the vast majority of the required reading in college and the workplace (Achieve, Inc., 2007). PUC students have time built into their weekly schedule for sustained reading. Within their content classes, they are given time for reading texts closely, often reading a text several times to practice making meaning of complex texts.

2. Students need to read high-quality texts to build a reading process. High quality texts can change the way children think and can greatly expand their language and thinking abilities. Moreover, students will not voluntarily read texts that are boring; instead, engaging texts, say Fountas and Pinnell, are “their own reward” (xxvii). Appendix A of the CA Common Core State Standards explicitly points out that opportunity and accountability for reading a great deal of high quality texts is crucial to closing the achievement gap between upper income students and the students we aim to serve, who are typically from homes where literacy is not part of the equation: “The consequences of insufficiently high text demands and a lack of accountability for independent reading of complex texts in K–12 schooling are severe for everyone, but they are disproportionately so for those who are already most isolated from text before arriving at the schoolhouse door.”² PUC teachers in all disciplines devote planning time to carefully selecting texts that are worthy in style and content to put in front of students.

3. Students need to read a variety of texts to build a reading process. Students need a steady diet of different genres of texts to help them learn to accommodate flexibly different kinds of texts well. To ensure that PUC students gain access to such variety, teachers’ scope and sequences include fiction, non-fiction, poetry, drama, primary source documents, and literary non-fiction.

4. Students need to read a large quantity of texts to build their reading process. Students are encouraged to do a lot of reading each and every day. Reading builds fonts of knowledge, and students will bring all of their information and knowledge to new texts. In addition to structured reading in class, PUC students log many miles of reading by reading to learn in science, social studies, and even arts and PE classes. To build accountability in the earlier years, students work with their teachers on recording their progress in reading logs and then working to make connections to what they read at home with the learning experiences that are crafted in the classroom.

5. Students need to read different texts for different purposes. Effective readers know when they must read in order, when they can skip around, when they should slow down and notice how a writer has used language or presented information, and when they can skim to get the gist. To develop the ability to vary their reading process according to their purpose, PUC students are given the opportunity to practice reading for a variety of purposes. They are asked to read lab manuals prior to diving into hands-on experiments; they read news articles to make connections to universal themes in social studies; they read plays in preparation for presenting them onstage in front of their families; and they read primary source documents to corroborate secondary source information.

6. Students need to hear many texts read aloud. Listening to texts read aloud frees students from decoding and processing at the word level and allows them to attend fully to meaning. During collaborative reading groups, PUC teachers model expressive reading and pause to invite students to talk about texts that might otherwise be inaccessibly challenging for them.

7. Students need different levels of support at different times. The staircase of complexity defined by the CA Common Core State Standards calls for students to learn how to read at different levels of sophistication as demanded by increasingly difficult texts. As they do this, students will need to learn new reading skills and expand on existing ones. For example, students may require small group instruction to help them navigate more difficult texts, or the opportunity to talk with peers and extend their thinking about other texts they may read independently. PUC teachers determine the most strategic level and type of support to build students’ strategic actions as readers.

8. Level means different things in different instructional contexts. What makes a text complex varies according to the purpose for reading and the support students will get with the text. Ideas and issues can make a text more difficult just as easily as sentence length and vocabulary can. When determining what texts to assign students and how to organize instruction around those texts, PUC teachers consider the qualitative and quantitative aspects of a text as well as the complexity of the task students are being asked to complete and the schema of the students themselves.

9. The more students read for authentic purposes, the more likely they are to make a place for reading in their lives. PUC classrooms are structured to help students master knowledge called for in the adopted standards, so reading experiences are often contrived to help students master this body of knowledge. However, our teachers also aim to set up reading and writing experiences in the classroom that mirror those students will encounter in the real world, offering students the opportunity to select books according to their interests and to find information they are curious to learn. These experiences help students build lives as readers.

10. Students need to see themselves as readers who have tastes and preferences. PUC teachers select texts for students to read with intentional instruction in mind. However, they also incorporate choice, as it breeds engagement. As PUC students come to know themselves through the books they select, they develop an awareness of their tastes as readers.

- Teachers of all contents are considered teachers of Literacy.

In a balanced literacy model, students receive the opportunity to work with a balance of texts at their independent, instructional, and beyond-instructional levels to expand their literacy understanding. They are given these texts in a context that best supports them to make meaning of the text and develop their reading skills. The main focus of the balanced literacy model is reading; however, the model allows for integration between and among all of the language arts... areas and among all curricular content areas. Through a variety of writing routines, students learn what it means to be a writer—how writers think, plan, compose, revise and share their work. Teachers provide students with opportunities to write 4-5 times per week, helping students to build momentum and skill over time. As with reading, students have the opportunity to work independently and with guidance on their writing. The various instructional settings used to provide students with a balanced literacy diet are outlined below.

INDEPENDENT READING: To support independent reading every day, we ensure that all teachers are dedicating time to helping students select books that they are interested in and that are at their independent level. This strategy is grounded in Krashen’s research summed up in his literature review, The Power of Reading. In short, his literary review concludes that in-school free reading programs provide some of the clearest evidence for the power of reading. In-school free reading programs are effective for vocabulary development, grammar test performance, writing and oral/aural language ability. Some studies also show that free reading results in better spelling progress. Free reading has been shown to have a profound effect on second language acquirers. Lucy Calkins, founder of the Teachers College Reading and Writing Project, has also written about the power of independent reading in The Art of Teaching Reading. Texts read during independent reading are at the student’s interest or independent level. Readers enjoy the text and can comprehend it easily. Texts include short leveled articles from websites such as Newsela or TeenBiz, student magazines, longer novels, graphic novels, non-fiction trade books, etc.

Other literacy strategies: The strategic actions that readers use are essentially the same across text levels. Readers meet greater demands at every level because the texts are increasingly challenging. The teacher’s role is to mediate the reading so students notice more and think analytically about their reading without compromising the enjoyment of the text. This is based on the idea/research that the more successful readers are and the more text they read, the better they become. Strategies include small group instruction for students who read the same text. The group is homogeneous: the students read at about the same level, demonstrate similar reading behaviors, and share similar instructional needs. These small groups are temporary; they change as teachers assess their students’ growth and needs. Teachers introduce the text that they have selected and explicitly teach an effective strategy for processing the text based on the needs of the group of readers. The teacher may also engage the students in a few minutes of word study (see below) and may assign a written or oral response to the text. Then, the students read the text independently. The teacher may ask individual students to read a portion aloud and to talk with the teacher about the reading to gauge their understanding.

Texts selected are at student’s instructional level: Teachers select a particular text that provides opportunities for students to expand their powers to process text. The text is “just right” they can read it successfully with the support of the teacher’s teaching. It offers a small bit of challenge to allow the processing systems to expand. The text presents opportunities for the readers to learn more.

INTERACTIVE READ ALOUD: Interactive Read Aloud is a time when the teacher reads a piece of quality writing aloud to the whole class and stops at planned points to ask questions that elicit student response. Students learn to think deeply about text, to listen to others, and to grow their own ideas.
Texts selected for interactive read aloud may be at students’ frustration levels. Reading aloud allows students to experience a high-quality text that they might not be able to access on their own.

SHARED READING: Shared Reading is a type of focus lesson in which either enlarged print is utilized (such as a poem written on chart paper or a short story projected on the wall), or all students have the text to “share” the reading process with a group of students. The teacher uses this time, explicitly modeling reading strategies and skills that the students need to learn. The responsibility for reading is “shared” between the teacher and the students, although the teacher reads most of the text. Shared reading allows the whole class to discuss a complex text with support.

Texts selected for shared reading may be at students’ frustration levels. Following along while the teacher reads allows students to read texts that may be beyond their current ability individually. It helps students to internalize new language and the way words sound and to develop confidence to approach complex texts with less support.

INDEPENDENT WRITING: Students work individually on their own writing. The teacher provides a daily lesson based on the needs of the writers. Students draft, revise, or edit, depending on where they are with their writing piece. Teachers confer with students individually, providing specific teaching points to help the writer improve his writing and develop the process he or she uses for future writing.

GUIDED WRITING: During guided writing, the teacher pulls small groups of students together to learn about a specific aspect of writing such as writer’s craft or conventions. These groups consist of students who have similar needs at a particular time and to whom the teacher must teach explicit strategies and skills. The teacher reforms the groups based on what the students’ writing tells them about the students’ emerging skills.

WORD STUDY: Word study involves both the decoding (reading) and encoding (phonics and spelling) of our symbol system so students can make meaning from an author’s message and convey meaning by creating their own message. Being able to solve words efficiently lets students direct their attention to the meaning of texts and aspects of the writer’s craft. For middle school students who struggle as readers, this involves the areas of phonics (letter/sound relationships) and automaticity for sight words. For students who are fluent readers, word study helps students formally add to their reading, writing, and speaking vocabularies, to nurture curiosity about words, and to develop ways of thinking and talking about them. Teachers work on morphemic analysis (using affixes and roots to denote meaning), and they engage students in interactive vocabulary exercises, such as talking about how an unfamiliar word is used in a sentence or creating webs of synonyms to determine the nuances between words with similar meanings.

Instructional Context for Teaching Reading
Students need different levels of support as they engage in a variety of texts. PUC teachers provide these levels of support through a variety of instructional contexts: whole group, small group, and individual teaching. Some of these contexts, summarized in the chart below, involve interaction with peers, and some focus on individual learning.
Contexts for Teaching Reading

- Teachers use assessments and data to identify and fill learning gaps for individual students.

PUC Schools Assessment System is designed to address instructional, evaluative, and predictive needs. At PUC LCHS, we commit to ensure that all students are proficient within four years. To this end, we believe there is a need for internal measures in all content areas and to measure our progress toward this goal. Research indicates that when teachers use data to adjust their instruction, student learning is significantly impacted. “If teachers [and leaders] systematically examine their professional practices and their impact on student achievement, the results of such reflective analysis will finally transform educational accountability from a destructive and unedifying mess to a constructive and transformative force in education” (Reeves, 2004). Further, in the case that a PUC LCHS student is not progressing in a manner consistent with academic success, PUC LCHS will rapidly modify instructional methods and will pursue an intervention model to address the student’s specific needs.

PUC LCHS has adopted a systematic approach to analyzing and reflecting on data in order to progress monitor student growth and adjust instruction in response to learning needs. Data Driven Reflection & Implementation Cycles occur 6 times a year and provide time for teachers to reflect on student learning through standard-based formative assessments. Teachers then work collaboratively to determine adjustments needed in support of student growth.

- The school will infuse arts and physical education and health education into the academic program for all students.

PUC LCHS will implement an arts program that will be broken out into four disciplines: dance, music, theater, and visual arts. Music and visual arts are offered during the school day, as part of the instructional program, while dance and theater are offered after-school as enrichment activities. PUC LCHS believes that “…involvement in the arts provides a positive avenue of creativity, lifelong enhancement of the students’ quality of life, increased cognitive ability, critical thinking, and verbal skills, and promotes gains in math and literacy. Arts learning can also improve motivation, concentration, confidence, and teamwork.” (http://www.edutopia.org/arts-music-curriculum-child-development)
The primary goal of the PUC LCHS physical education program is to instill in its students a lifelong pursuit and understanding of the importance of healthy living. Research demonstrates that the majority of students spend only 8% of their physical education class time in actual activity and are, instead, generally waiting or observing (Gutfeld, G. and Sangiorgio, M. P.E or not P.E. Prevention. July 1993, Vol 45, Issue 7, p 18). PUC LCHS believes that regular activity during the school day is strongly associated with higher concentration levels, as well as more directed, composed behavior (www.livestrong.com/article/529108-what-are-the-benefits-of-physical-education-in-school/#ixzz207tQ5hOl).

Based on this research and our core values, PUC LCHS will allocate at least 120 minutes of physical and health education and 180 minutes of arts per week during regular instructional time, with additional opportunities for physical activities and arts engagement in the extended day program.

- An extended day (after-school) program will provide students with a safe place, academic support, arts, athletics, clubs, as well as enrichment in a variety of areas. The program will be custom built to the interests and needs of the students.

PUC LCHS will use an extended day schedule to provide academically low-achieving students with extra support in order to meet grade-level requirements and to provide a variety of learning and enrichment opportunities for all students. For example, PUC LCHS assumes five-to-ten percent of its students will have demonstrated difficulties with the established grade-level standards in the general education curriculum or significant difficulties with behavioral and social competence that they will require Response to Intervention (RtI) Tier 3 interventions. These interventions consist of intensive instruction with continuous progress monitoring and may include individual and small group instruction, which, in addition to the regular school day, will take place during the extended day. In addition, English learner (EL) students will be offered additional English Language Development (ELD) learning opportunities during the extended day program to ensure comprehension of instructional input.

The school’s doors will be open from 7:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. PUC LCHS is in agreement with recent findings by the Ed Sector report, extended learning models that build on the regular school day, but with learning methods that engage students in different ways, are most successful. “Expanding time in schools is not just about increasing achievement in academic classrooms. Additional time also can open up opportunities to broaden students’ exposure to different learning experiences. In poor neighborhoods, where the availability of such opportunities outside of school is often scant, the need for schools to provide such exposure is even greater” (http://issuu.com/nationalcenterontimelearning/docs/caseformoretime). Thus, PUC LCHS will offer after-school clubs that go beyond adding more time to the classroom and may include cooking, dance, theater, music, athletics, art, leadership development, tutoring, mentoring, homework support, gaming, and much more.

- The school will implement supportive and purposeful teaching as the norm.

The curriculum will be aligned to the CA CCSS and designed by teachers through a backwards planning model. PUC LCHS teachers embrace their role as intellectual architects. They use the learning cycle to maximize learning time and ensure that students master the standards. Research-based teaching strategies are strategically selected, and curriculum is differentiated based on data. In addition, we believe learning is a social activity that requires students to interact with each other to build content knowledge. Students engage in inquiry and academic discourse to collaboratively construct meaning. Basic skills will be combined with advanced concepts; differentiated instruction will be practiced to meet the learning needs of all students. Based on Dr. Howard Gardner’s theory of Multiple Intelligences, teachers will address the different type of learners in their classrooms; in accordance with Taking Center Stage, “Curriculum content is presented in multiple ways: deductively, inductively, aurally, orally, visually, or by ‘hands-on’ doing.”

- The school will implement an inclusion model for students with special needs, an immersion program for EL students, as well as strategies, such as pre-teaching, in order to build confidence and well-being.

The PUC LCHS school community is committed to designing learning experiences that differentiate for each population of students. Expectations are set high and made clear for students, while scaffolds are put in place for students requiring additional support. At PUC LCHS, students with learning disabilities and 504 plans are fully included in the general education classroom, while EL students are immersed into the English language with additional primary language support, as needed, and targeted English language development instruction (Additional specific information will be provided in Section 1.6.1). To meet the specific populations that it serves, data are disaggregated and carefully analyzed with the goal of revising pacing and offering strategic, differentiated support to ensure that all students master the standards. Weekly meetings allow our staff to efficiently co-teach and co-plan lessons and assessments directly with the teachers to further ensure that differentiation is embedded into the classroom structure, curriculum, and environment. Further, teachers are culturally and linguistically responsive, believing different ways of thinking, speaking, and learning are resources to develop, rather than problems in need of repair.

- The school will strategically cultivate a positive school environment characterized by mutual respect through participation in the Community Circle from the Tribes program.

PUC LCHS will work purposefully to inculcate in its students the core values of respect, caring, responsibility, and justice. Because community building is a necessary part of creating a positive school environment, PUC LCHS will use the Community Circle from the Tribes Program created by Jeanne Gibbs who, like PUC LCHS, believes that the classroom atmosphere impacts student learning. To create a Community Circle, each student sits with the teacher in an all-inclusive circle. Everybody in the circle then addresses the topic that has been introduced that day. The concluding portion of the circle includes reflection questions and statements of appreciation. The norms of the Circle are: active listening, mutual respect, no put-downs, and right to pass. Both the Community Circle and regularly held community meetings are deemed essentials of the Homeroom program in which students and teachers explore the meaning and enactment of the school’s guiding principles and scholarly attributes. Evaluating the impact of these values is largely reliant on objective measures: pre-post comparisons of teacher perceptions of student behavior, as well as data from student and parent surveys while school climate is evaluated through suspension and retention rates. When the empirical research that has been collected at PUC schools is analyzed with a qualitative and quantitative lens, the positive findings include increased empathy and compassion for peers, reduced disciplinary issues, as well as greater student engagement, reflection, and ownership of their learning.

- The school will prioritize each child’s emotional and physical health in addition to their academic needs. Services will be identified and offered to alleviate the barriers to learning.

Based on our 20-year experience in the Northeast San Fernando Valley, the population is faced with overwhelming challenges that may negatively impact student’s school performance. To remedy this situation, PUC LCHS assumes a whole child approach as it understands: “Even when low-income parents do everything they can for their children, their limited resources put kids at a huge disadvantage” (http://www.ascd.org/publications/books/109074/chapters/how-poverty-affects-behavior-and-academic-performance.aspx). As is the case in all other PUC schools, PUC LCHS will have a clinical counselor on staff to provide counseling for students and families. Through our clinical counseling program, the school is able to house interns working on earning their Marriage & Family Therapy (MFT) and in turn the interns are able to provide a high level of support to students and families under the supervision of the Clinical Counselor. PUC LCHS will also work with various service providers that have been identified through community outreach and relations to ensure that each student is healthy, safe, engaged, and supported. PUC LCHS will work with families to link them with a variety of services that will include dental care, health care, vision, nutrition, and tutoring. This approach is best for ensuring long-term student success.

- Collaboration among all stakeholders, including service providers, will sustain a culture in which all stakeholders are united in a vision of success for every child. Ongoing professional development and weekly meetings will be relevant, pertinent, and data-driven.

PUC LCHS is committed to developing a team composed of all stakeholders. The team will increase student achievement through use of collaborative learning communities supported by the implementation of Critical Friends Group (CFG). Research cited by the National School Reform Faculty indicates, “Implementation of a CFG promotes the values of reflective practice, shared leadership, authentic pedagogy, democracy, equity in opportunity, and social justice, resulting in improved learning for all students” (http://www.nsrfharmony.org/faq.html). Furthermore, teachers trained and participating in CFG’s are more thoughtful about connecting curriculum, assessment, and instruction, and believe that they can affect student achievement. These teachers have higher expectations for student learning, which, in turn, leads to greater student achievement.

PUC LCHS believes that professional development is the cornerstone for educational equity and academic achievement for all students. “Research shows that teachers account for one-third of a school’s total impact on student achievement” (New NY 54). At PUC LCHS, professional development will be offered to enhance and improve staff’s role as effective educators and will enhance their ability to implement the instructional program and to fulfill the school mission. Professional development will be designed and delivered in response to specific teacher and student needs, as informed by data analysis. It will span a broad range of job embedded learning opportunities, including co-planning, observing, co-teaching model lessons, interactive application-based workshops, and examination of student work. It will also seek partnerships with external providers. Further, PUC LCHS recognizes professional development as “…a proven method to recruit, retain, and develop a high-quality teaching force.” (New NY, page 21). The following principles, identified by Richard Elmore in “Investing in Teacher Learning: Staff Development and Instructional Improvement in CSD #2, NYC,” as effective strategies for using professional development to bring about system-wide change in instruction, will guide all professional development opportunities:

- Instructional change is a long multistage process.
- Shared expertise is the driver of instructional change.
- A focus on system-wide and classroom specific improvement.
- Clear expectations and responsibility for achieving them are shared by all.
- Environment of collegiality, which results in learning for all.
- Respect and care for the students and the adults working to meet their needs;
- Focus on content and instruction (Elmore, 1997).

1.11 CURRICULUM

The courses offered at PUC LCHS are composed of backwards designed, community responsive unit plans that are aligned with the Common Core content standards and create a rigorous and relevant learning environment for all students. The curriculum is aligned to the A-G requirements and augmented with select non-A-G courses offered as supports or enrichment for students. Additionally, Advanced Placement courses are offered to students as well as a wide range of college courses in order to create a more diverse list of course offerings for students. PUC LCHS supports a diverse population of learners including students identified as GATE and ELL, and students with IEPs in inclusive classrooms by following a common learning cycle across all contents which includes students accessing their prior knowledge, extending their prior knowledge, and applying their learning. The learning cycle allows opportunities for teachers to utilize graphic organizers, group structures, student discourse, and multiple checks for understanding to monitor students’ progress toward mastery of the content standards. In order to further support teachers in creating student-focused learning activities, administration provides feedback on weekly lesson plans which focuses on students’ cognitive engagement as shown in data and differentiated instruction.

PUC LCHS teachers also use a variety of instructional materials and resources, which support the Common Core standards, NGSS framework, and College Board objectives. Teachers provide students with multiple informational texts that allow students to gain multiple perspectives on an event or phenomenon and then apply their findings to projects, essays, debates, and speeches. In order to prepare students to be college and career ready, our teachers consistently identify and plan opportunities to integrate technology in the classroom. For example, in Math classes, students access Khan Academy, which is an online program that provides individualized lessons and supports to assist each individual’s math skills growth. All content classes have access to technology (document camera, projector, and student laptops) that allows teachers to project visuals, short clips, informational decks, and text as well as allows all students to access applications such as Google Classroom. Google Classroom allows students to think, write, and create content-based assignments with immediate feedback in live time.
As an Early College high school, PUC LCHS encourages students to take college classes in addition to their high school courses. Concurrent enrollment gives students experience with college level work with the additional support from the high school staff. It also provides them with valuable credits toward their college degrees. Our school & college counselors collaborate with local community colleges to help students identify appropriate courses. College courses are frequently offered on the high school campus to facilitate student participation. Students also attend college and career fairs, college visits, and receive information and support in the college selection, application, and enrollment process from advisors, peer mentors, and counselors.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE ARTS (Core)
READING, WRITING, RESEARCHING, SPEAKING AND LISTENING

The ELA curriculum is aligned to the CA Common Core State Standards and focuses on developing students’ strength as readers, writers, researchers, listeners, speakers, and collaborators. Students develop the skills that are the foundation for any creative and purposeful expression in language. Students will become familiar with their own applications of reading and writing processes and learn how to monitor their own learning and growth in these areas. As students work with various text, teachers focus on developing rhetorical reading and writing skill looking to assess, guide and monitor the unique process undertaken in developing understanding and embed opportunities for students to reflect on their own learning. In this way, students not only demonstrate mastery of content, but also gain an understanding of their own processing skills, an essential component of their continued success as lifelong learners. Self-evaluation, peer feedback and teacher conferencing augment the process-based approach and all play important roles within the classroom.

Teachers are trained through the California State Universities Expository Reading and Writing Curriculum (ERWC), a college preparatory, rhetoric-based English language arts course composed of modules that were codesigned by master teachers and college professors. In high school, ELA teachers and history teachers use rhetorical inquiry to encourage critical thinking with the goal being to prepare students for the literacy demands of high education. Through the vertically aligned curriculum students develop advanced proficiency in expository, analytical and argumentative reading and writing. The cornerstone of our ELA courses is based on the ERWC learning arc, which presents a scaffolded process for helping students read, comprehend, and respond to nonfiction and literary text. Modules also provide instruction in research methods and documentation conventions. Over the course of 4 years, students will be expected to increase their awareness of the rhetorical strategies employed by authors and apply those strategies to their own writing. Students will read closely to examine the relationship between an author’s argument or theme and his or her audience and purpose; to analyze the impact of structural and rhetorical strategies; and to examine the social, political, and philosophical assumptions that underlie the text. By the end of their 4 years students will be expected to use the process independently when reading unfamiliar texts and writing in response to them.

MATHEMATICS (Core)
The core curriculum for students is designed by teachers aligned to the CA Common Core State Standards and provides students with multiple opportunities to learn concepts and practice skills. Across grade levels, concepts are reviewed and extended in varying instructional contexts. The distinguishing features of the designed curriculum are a focus on real-life problem solving, student communication of mathematical thinking and appropriate use of technology. The curriculum also emphasizes balancing different types of instruction, using various methods for skills, practice, and fostering parent involvement in student learning. Teachers will design and utilize various assessment tools that can be used both for planning instruction (formative assessment) and for assigning grades (summative assessment).

SCIENCE (Core)
PUC LCHS students will be trained to master the scientific skills and content that is imperative to participate effectively in today’s global society. Teachers will be facilitators, leading students to observe, question, and explore both the natural world and their own learning processes. Instruction will focus on understanding important relationships, processes, mechanisms, and applications of concepts. Less important is the memorization of specialized terminology and technical details. Our science classes will support student’s ability to explain, analyze, and interpret scientific processes and phenomena more than their ability to recall specific facts. Each grade is exposed to a variety of science topics and projects throughout the year, drawing from earth and space sciences, life sciences, physical sciences and other fields. Each science topic contains a wide range of possible avenues for investigation and interdisciplinary integration. Students will employ research, writing, mathematics, problem-solving and communication skills, and a wide variety of computer software programs and material from selected websites. Critical to understanding science concepts is the use of scientific inquiry to develop explanations of natural phenomena.

Science courses are designed based on a real-world inquiry approach founded in rigorous NGSS standards. The PUC LCHS science teachers have also implemented strategies to support literacy in their classrooms including annotations to analyze scientific text and a common Claim, Evidence, Reasoning (CER) writing structure. History courses also integrate common literacy practices and writing expectations with on-demand writing, CER writing, and analyzing primary and secondary sources to write longer, revised essays throughout the school year.

SOCIAL STUDIES (Core)
The primary mission of the History and Social Science curriculum is to teach chronological and spatial thinking, research, evidence, point of view, and historical interpretation that will enable students to know themselves more fully as developing individuals in a changing historical context and as active participants in their local, national and world communities. The school will seek to nurture each student’s enjoyment of history; teach a body of knowledge; develop skills in reading, research, writing and oral expression; implement learning activities which systematically develop critical thinking; and instill in students a sense of service to others and responsibility for their world. The History-Social Science program will examine global human experience in light of such unifying themes as the process of change over time and the interrelationships among societies. Information will be selected to stimulate student interest and understanding of historical concepts and patterns. Issues of race, religion, gender, ethnicity and class will be incorporated into the curriculum along with current events, geography, and an introduction to social sciences: anthropology, sociology, psychology, economics and international relations.
ARTS (Core)
At PUC LCHS, the visual and performing arts are core subjects, each containing a distinct body of knowledge and skills. Academic rigor is a basic characteristic of a comprehensive education in the arts, including the following:

- Learning through active practice, rehearsal, and creation or performance of works in the arts
- Reading about the arts and artists
- Researching, writing, and communicating about the arts
- Reflecting on the arts in thoughtful essay or journal writing on one’s observations, feelings, and ideas about the arts
- Participating in arts criticism on the basis of observation, knowledge, and criteria

Students in grades 9th – 12th will have experiences in visual and performing arts; with our high school students taking at minimum one year of visual or performing art classes with the ability to pursue additional courses through the early college model.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION AND HEALTH (Non-Core)
We strongly believe in supporting students to gain knowledge and establish life-long practices of a healthy lifestyle. Students will engage in a variety of physical activities that include but not limited to team sports and high intensity interval training. The primary goal of the PUC LCHS physical education program is to instill in its students a life-long pursuit of healthy living. To do so, the PUC LCHS physical/health education program will focus on each student’s individual short-term and lifelong physical/health goals and needs. Instruction will be augmented with lessons in nutrition and healthy life-style choices.

HOMEROOM/ PUC COMPETITIVE EDGE (Non-Core)
PUC LCHS students will participate in an advisory period five days a week. Generally, studies have shown that students who do not feel an attachment to school staff are likely to have poorer attendance and to drop out more than students who feel that they are part of a supportive school environment. In addition, healthy relationships between teachers and students appear to facilitate academic achievement.

The four main goals of this program:

- Social Emotional: Students will be in an environment that fosters bonding within an advisory group so that they feel accepted and valued by their teacher and peers.
- Community Service: Students will learn about the theories and actions of community service and engage in multiple community service experiences prior to graduation.
- College Ready Skills: Students will build non-cognitive skills that include a range of behaviors that reflect greater student self-awareness, self-monitoring, self-control, study skills, work habits, time management, help-seeking behavior, and social problem solving skills. They will begin to develop the behaviors, problem solving, and coping skills that allow students to successfully manage new environments and the new academic and social demands of high school and college. These skills are based on Habits of a Scholar. Through classroom instruction our students learn about each of these habits and learn to be an active member of our community. In 8th grade students engage in curriculum delivered by Peer Health Exchange during which college students deliver health related and life skills lessons. The added bonus of this program is that the college students serve as outstanding role models our high school students.

- College Knowledge: Students will begin to gather the information and skills that will allow them to successfully navigate the complex college admissions and financial aid processes, as well as begins to develop an understanding of college norms and culture.

1.11.1 INNOVATIVE CURRICULAR COMPONENTS

There are many factors that support the success of PUC Lakeview Charter High School including:

1. A strong continuum of supports extended through our middle school to high school, and beyond.

PUC Lakeview Charter High School works extensively with leaders of PUC middle schools to ensure that our students benefit stability and constancy throughout their educational careers. Leaders work to help build bridges between our middle schools to PUC LCHS in order to smooth the transition from middle to high school. We offer holistic supports similar to our PUC middle schools in order to provide consistency for a child transitioning into high school – from the academic and socio-emotional supports of the day program to the diverse offerings of an after school program.

The result is that our students grow and mature in their time with us, without much of the turmoil that too often defines the transition from middle to high school.

2. Strong instructional leadership and support to teachers.

Throughout our history, we have prioritized implementing strong common instructional practices across all of our classrooms. These common instructional practices include a strong emphasis on literacy across the curriculum, with a focus on celebrating writing, monitoring reading progress, and empowering readers through metacognitive strategies; vocabulary development, annotating for meaning, and use of cumulative assessments in Mathematics. There is also an increased focus on meeting the needs of English Learners and students with IEPs through co-teaching and Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE). Our Inclusion Specialist provide our general education teachers with monthly Professional Development around supporting our students with special needs. They also provide teachers with recipe cards for each student that further outlines the supports and strategies that are to be used. In order to support our English Language Learners, teachers are provided with professional development on a quarterly basis specifically around supporting our English Language Learners through actively incorporating integrated ELD standards into their classrooms and ensure that we are working to support our language learners on a daily basis.
3. A focus on differentiation, behavioral and academic intervention.

PUC LCHS analyzes, identifies, and offers targeted supports to all students; specifically working to build upon student talents and assessing where students might need additional support.

We have focused on providing holistic academic and emotional support to our students.

In the area of academic support, we offer intervention and re-teaching before school, during lunch, and after school, with rotating intervention groups of struggling students, and with special focus on providing needed additional supports to our English Learners and students with IEPs.

Beyond academics, we have focused on implementing restorative justice practices for our students experiencing behavioral difficulties, focusing on activating student engagement and interest, and emotionally rehabilitating our kids. Students struggling with behavioral difficulties are flagged for intervention and receive weekly counseling from PUC LCHS through our counseling program, through support of administrators, and if applicable from outside support staff. Our restorative justice practices are centered around having the student understand how their actions impacted the school or community. We take on a guided discipline approach to coaching student through the impact of their action and work with them to identify the root cause of what the student might have originally been trying to communicate. Once the student is able to make those connections, with the assistance of a teacher or administrator, the restoration or restoring of trust happens through an implementation of practices designed to repair the trust that has been broken. This can include having the student engage complete a google classroom assignment on a particular topic, having the student complete community service, or having the student complete a reflection on lessons learned.

We believe that this robust menu of academic and behavioral interventions is setting our students up for success, a conclusion that is certainly borne out in the data.

4. We have focused on holistic teacher coaching and support.

At PUC LCHS we utilize a holistic approach to supporting teachers and their development as educators. Coaching is tailed to fit individual needs & goals that are selected by teachers each year. Teachers at PUC LCHS participate in four different layers of coaching and support:

- Grade Level Focus – time is embedded into the PD Scope and Sequence to allow time for grade level teams to analyze behavioral, social and/or academic data and work collaboratively to analyze and adjust instruction.
- Department Focus – time is embedded into the PD Scope and Sequence to allow for time for departments to come together and focus on vertical alignments and content specific needs.
- School-wide Focus – time is embedded into the PD Scope and Sequence to allow teachers to work collaboratively in weekly weekly whole-staff meetings, focused on reinforcing common instructional practices and tenets of our school culture (such as the ESLRs and Habits of a Scholar).
- PUC-wide Focus – time is embedded into the PD Scope & Sequence to allow for teachers across several school to meet and focus on sharing best practices and reflecting on common trends across the schools.

Our PUC National supports through curricular research and coaching, working side-by-side with teachers and school leadership. The PUC Schools Team supports through curricular research and coaching, working side-by-side with teachers and school leadership.

The PUC Schools Team offers support through weekly leadership meetings that are differentiated based on site leader roles & responsibilities, monthly/bimonthly 1:1 check-ins with the sites in the area of operations, school culture, academics, parent engagement, clinical counseling, school & college counseling, assessments, special education, professional development and data driven decision making. Through these support meetings site leaders are able to fine tune onsite responses as it pertains to the coaching, managing and supporting of teachers, staff and students. LCHS relies on our PUC National team to provide us with ongoing data for school site analysis in order to drive responsive school site practices. The data team works with our assessment coordinator to help the school site monitor progress of students and communicate out to stakeholders our progress. Our induction team works to support both teachers going through induction and the various on-site mentors through ongoing professional development. LCHS utilizes our mentor teachers onsite to provide ongoing support to teacher

The home office also supports by providing support around assessments and assessment data. This in turn is used by teachers and site leadership to address gaps. Additionally, the home office provides training to our teacher mentors who in turn serve as peer mentors to our newer teachers. These peer mentors receive monthly coaching, and attend bi-weekly trainings in order to further develop new teachers.

A particularly unique feature of our school is the closeness of support and feedback between administrators and teachers. We have an established culture around having administrators and other teachers in classrooms in order to provide feedback and support. We at LCHS utilize the “it takes a village” approach to growing and developing ourselves and our students. To do this we must feel comfortable as teachers to open our doors and welcome the additional eyes, ears and hands in our classrooms. Through our collaborative efforts to designed to have the adults reflect on and push practice we are able to also see students striving to do the same. Our teachers engage in regular learning walks throughout the year in order to increase the awareness of each other classes, make connections between contents, develop a better understanding of students and build stronger professional connections. In looking at the need of each teacher, PUC Administrators prioritize meeting with teachers on a weekly or bi-weekly basis. These meetings focus on observation and observation debrief; learning walks; on growth goals; on reflection on data; and on other matters of concern to teachers and administrators.
5. Strong Staff that is committed to ensuring student success.

PUC Lakeview Charter High School talented and energized staff that is allowed to utilize their talents in developing curriculum. At PUC we believe teachers are the architects of their own curriculum. We believe it is important for teachers to understand their content standards and have the ability to work with other content specialists as well as their school site leaders to bring those standards to life for students. We take on this collaborative approach to help influence the curricular choices we make in each classroom in order to determine how to support the teacher in connecting their content to kids. We encourage our teachers to continue to refine their curriculum through the analysis of data and student feedback in order to keep our curriculum responsive to student need, interest and areas of growth.

6. Strong School Culture:

The school recognizes the value of a strong culture and fully engages the community and capitalizes on the strength of the parents and other stakeholders.

7. Standards and Data-Driven Culture:

The school embeds Data Analysis & Implementation Cycles to close each unit of study. This process allows time for teachers to come together to reflect on data collected throughout a unit of study and work collaboratively to determine appropriate instructional shifts in order to meet the needs of students. The schools focus on data and dedication to carving out time for reflection and restructuring drives classroom practice. Administration builds in the time for this to happen during specific weeks in site based Professional Development. Administration also strategically pairs teachers so that they are able to support one another during the process. Administration pulls the data from testing such as MAP and from teacher gradebooks. The teacher’s engage in a data-dive that centers around looking at specific trends. After the trends are identified, teachers work towards creating an implementation plan guided around supporting and improving areas identified as needing growth.

8. Culture of Cohesion:

Identifying successful practices, sharing with entire staff, employing practices as a group so that students feel equitably supported in every classroom as well as by our after-school staff and office personnel. Arts instruction supports our literacy and numeracy efforts and participates in grade level team meetings as part of the grade teams. Successful practices are identified by administration, superintendents and/or teacher leaders and are backed by data, whether it be by growth of scores or results on teacher surveys. After successful practices are identified, the site leadership works with those teachers on sharing those practices with the rest of the staff either through onsite professional development, regional professional development or PUC wide professional development.
9. Ownership:

All stakeholders take great pride in the success of PUC LCHS and take responsibility for any challenges faced.

Of course, there are other contributing factors, including our Arts instruction, after-school program, tutoring program, homework support, creative time schedules, office support and more. The use of data has been critical to our success. Our understanding of data as a tool, not as an end or a means allows our staff to be creative, fun, rigorous, engaging, and successful in planning curriculum.

The processes for data analysis at the student, classroom, and school-wide level has been a critical factor in creating a stronger culture of student achievement throughout the school and steadily raising student achievement at PUC LCHS.

We are proud of the accomplishments of our students, families and staff.

1.11.2 ENRICHMENT PROGRAM

PUC LCHS works diligently to ensure all students receive appropriate academic and behavioral support. To initiate this process, grade-level and individual teacher practices are established at the beginning of the school year to collect observational and numerical data about individual students on a daily and weekly basis. Teachers work with internal logging systems to monitor social, behavioral and academic trends for students. Based on trend analysis students may be in need of a more various steps including but not limited to one-on-one conferencing with the student, a “swarm” where all teachers meet with the student to share their concerns and express belief in the student’s potential to improve, parent phone calls, teacher-student-family meetings, and Family Support Team (FST) meetings which include administration in goal setting and next steps with the student and their family. The Dean of Culture works in collaboration with the principal and school & college counselors to monitor the data. The Dean of Culture then meets regularly with those identified as having a higher need. Additionally, there is at least one administrator present during any FST meeting. The administrator organizes and facilitates the meeting and ensures that the plan is followed.

Intervention at PUC LCHS takes place within and outside of the school day. The course sequence begins with students taking a second math and/or second ELA course in ninth grade in order to fill skill gaps that have been identified through data. These classes accelerate them to be prepared for the rigor of grades 10-12. Afterschool, PUC LCHS provides structured tutoring in Math and English Language Arts. In addition to this tutoring, teachers of all subjects may design and implement short-term or ongoing tutoring and workshops to support academic success of our students. Academic support that includes tutoring in all content areas and homework support is also provided in the after school program.

Academic support systems are embedded throughout the school day and across content areas. Teachers analyze course grades as well as assessment data and use the RTI model to identify tiers of students and appropriate interventions at each tier. Initial interventions begin in lesson planning. to integrate strategies meant to support all learners. These strategies include vocabulary supports, reading strategies, multiple learning modalities, teacher exemplars and think alouds, and strategic partner and group structures. The next tier of intervention includes teachers inviting select students to participate in after school intervention classes focused on English and Math skills. Based on the academic data and needs of the identified subgroup of students, teachers reteach and preview skills needed to make progress toward mastering content standards. Assessment data is used to measure student growth and determine students’ continued participation in after school supports. As another support for all students, our extended day program in the middle grades offers a segment of time for homework club monitored by after school tutoring staff.

Using data to ensure every child is successful.

The school site works to embed data analysis into the PD Scope and Sequence. After analyzing data, teachers create intervention class rosters and in turn their own scope and sequences. Based on the structure of his or her classroom, the teacher has the autonomy to create intervention to support the needs of the students. Students with special needs receive immediate intervention throughout the week by the Inclusion Specialist. IEP students are required to meet with the resource teacher to check in on progress and to receive immediate intervention. The Inclusion Specialist conducts small group instruction, re-teaching, scaffolding of new concepts, and assessment support, as well as continued reflection on subject specific progress to ensure students are being prepared and not failing. Administration pulls the data and shares it with teachers through ongoing data analysis PDs. The administration analyzes the data prior to professional development in order to create inquiry questions that drive teacher analysis. Additionally, teachers use Mosaic, our data dashboard platform, as a tool for active data triangulation. Administration then actively works with teachers, inclusion specialists, lead teachers and school & college counselors to create a systematic approach to intervention. Additionally, administration supports with those considered Tier 3 by attending meetings and also providing resources.

Common practices at PUC LCHS are intervention classes based on a specific standard or bundle of standards, reading intervention classes to increase comprehension and fluency and previewing intervention to increase vocabulary comprehension and retention, this is called Strategic intervention.

At the conclusion of each day all students have the option to participate in the after-school program. The afterschool program provides an extended school day option for students where they can receive academic support from content teacher and/or inclusion specialists. Additionally, enrichment/recreation opportunities are also available once the day program has ended. The goal is to raise academic levels, improve academic performance, strengthen social relationships and provide meaningful opportunities for children to increase self-esteem by expanding their skills in a variety of areas.

PUC LCHS offers a diverse program of athletics, clubs, and student activities. The athletics program includes the following CIF varsity sports: cross country, girls and boys volleyball, boys and girls soccer, boys and girls basketball, baseball, and softball. Additional athletics and arts programs include a marathon training program, a dance team, National Arts Society and a variety of concert bands. Clubs and afterschool activities include PRIDE Club, Journalism Club, Environmental Science Club, Hiking Club, Dance Club. Two student organizations provide leadership, peer mentoring, and support for student activities. Peer College Scholars is a selective group of students trained to mentor peers in selecting and applying to college. Leadership is our student government group that promotes the vision of PUC LCHS through activities and events that foster a positive school culture.

1.11.3 INSTRUCTIONAL MATERIALS

The selection of curriculum, materials and instructional activities will occur as a result of a collaboration that will take place between the principal (instructional leader of the school) and the teachers. All selections will be aligned with the CA CCSS and the academic content and performance standards. They will be aligned with the instructional philosophy, vision, and mission of the school.

In PUC LCHS classrooms, sets of books provide basic reference materials for students. Teachers identify resource materials that best achieve learning through their curriculum design. PUC teachers choose resource materials based on recommendation by other PUC teachers (based on a track record of success with the same materials), educational research, and acquisition is approved by the Principal. Rather than support a single textbook approach, PUC LCHS employs a variety of supplementary materials (books, articles, primary source, photos, video, etc.) to present the CA CCSS within its curriculum. The Principal or Assistant Principal will be responsible for approving acquisition and ensuring the supplementary materials align with the CA CCSS.

The following is a list of textbooks that have been used by schools in the PUC network and will be considered by PUC LCHS teachers. PUC LCHS will use supplemental resources for ELD such as Edge, a “7 units, each organized around a motivating Essential Question. Focused, in-depth instruction in reading strategies and literary analysis. Relevant literature that students can and want to read. Scaffolded, real-world writing projects.”

English:

<td>US Government- HS5017</td>
<td>Students pursue a deeper understanding of the institutions of American government. They compare systems of government in the world today and analyze the history and changing interpretations of the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, and the current state of the legislative, executive, and judiciary branches of government. An emphasis is placed on analyzing the relationship among federal, state, and local governments, with particular attention paid to important historical documents such as the Federalist Papers. These standards represent the culmination of civic literacy as students prepare to vote, participate in community activities, and assume the responsibilities of citizenship.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Economics - HS5015</td>
<td>The general objective of a high school economics course is for students to master fundamental economic concepts, appreciate how the principal concepts of economics relate to each other and understand the structure of economic systems. Students will use economic concepts in a reasoned, careful manner in dealing with personal, community, national and global economic issues. They will use measurement concepts and methods such as tables, charts, graphs, ratios, percentages and index numbers to understand and interpret relevant data. They should learn to make reasoned decisions on economics.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>US History A, B- HS5013, HS5014</td>
<td>In this course students will examine major turning points in American history in the twentieth century. Students will analyze what is meant by the American Dream by looking at how this dream came to be and what it entails. This will be viewed through a historical lens, looking at the evolution of American ideals such as freedom, equality and justice for all. Students will constantly question why there has often been a gap between these ideals and the reality of American life for many groups in this country. Throughout this course, students will compare and contrast America’s ideals with the truth of American history, paying special attention to minority groups and whether or not they had access to making the American Dream a reality.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Modern World History A,B- HS5001, HS5002</td>

AP European History, B-HS5019, HS5020

This course will examine the period of European history from 1350-2007 AD. The course will focus on the social, political, religious, intellectual, technological and economic developments throughout this period of history. Students will be required to have a mastery of basic chronology and major events and trends from the Renaissance through modern day. Students will use the textbook, as well as a plethora of primary sources, to become more familiar with these themes. The AP curriculum demands higher-order thinking skills within a rigorous academic context. Thus, students are frequently required to analyze, synthesize, and evaluate primary and secondary historical sources, in addition to comprehending, memorizing, and applying facts. These skills will be assessed through a number of tests, quizzes and assignments.

AP US History- HS5021, HS 5022

This course is designed to study the history of the United States chronologically, with emphasis on interpretation and analysis of the material. Through the use of primary and secondary sources the student will not only acquire a basic understanding of the factual material, but will develop the analytical and interpretive skills necessary to deal with the subject in greater depth. A successful student in this course will show a deep understanding of the history we study and will be prepared to pass the AP US History exam.

<td>The main purpose of the geometry curriculum is to develop geometric skills and concepts and the ability to construct formal logical arguments and proofs in a geometric setting. Topics covered in the class include, but are not limited to, the study of the properties and applications of common geometric figures in two and three dimensions. It includes the study of transformations and right triangle trigonometry. Inductive and deductive thinking skills are used in problem solving situations, and applications to the real world are stressed. It also emphasizes writing proofs to solve (prove) properties of geometric figures. The geometry skills and concepts developed in this discipline are useful to all students. Aside from learning these skills and concepts, students will develop their ability to construct formal, logical arguments and proofs in geometric settings and problems. 1.13 INSTRUCTIONAL METHODOLOGIES AND STRATEGIES

The skilled teachers at PUC LCHS use a rich repertoire of instructional methods. In selecting the most appropriate ones, teachers consider the goals and objectives of the lesson and the unit, the students’ prior learning, and strategies for maximizing cognitive engagement. Based on Dr. Howard Gardner’s theory of Multiple Intelligences and Norman L. Webb’s Depth of Knowledge (DOK), we believe that our teachers must address the different types of learners in their classrooms and the degree of understanding students need to be successful.

Following is a brief description of the general instructional methods PUC LCHS teachers employ to engage students with the content.

METHODOLOGIES

- Constructivist learning: PUC LCHS teachers facilitate learning by recognizing the knowledge that students bring to the classroom. Students’ learning is supported through an inquiry process as students construct new understanding and meaning.

- Problem Based and Inquiry Learning: PUC LCHS teachers give students a problem which the student must then solve by gathering data, organizing data, and attempting an explanation, “whereby students become increasingly accomplished problem-solvers given structure and guidance from mentors who scaffold students through coaching, task structuring, and hints, without explicitly giving students the final answers. An important feature of scaffolding is that it supports students’ learning of both how to do the task as well as why.” http://www.cogtech.usc.edu/publications/hmelo_ep07.pdf.

- Gradual Release Model: The gradual release of responsibility model of instruction requires that the teacher shift from assuming “all the responsibility for performing a task … to a situation in which the students assume all of the responsibility.” (Pearson and Gallagher, 1983) The model provides teachers with an instructional framework for moving from teacher knowledge to student understanding and application. First, the teacher models his or her thinking and understanding of the content for students. Then, during guided practice, the teacher prompts, questions, and facilitates as students engage in tasks that increase their understanding. To consolidate their understanding of the content, students need opportunities to problem solve, discuss, negotiate, and think with their peers. Collaborative learning opportunities, such as stations, ensure that students practice and apply their learning while interacting with their peers.

- Discovery learning: Discovery learning is when PUC LCHS teachers encourage students to derive their own understanding or meaning for something. We agree with the Middle Grades Task Force that “direct instruction and discovery instruction are complementary strategies used to enhance learning” and use a similar strategy at the high school level (http://literacy4learning.lacoe.edu/differentiation/differentiation.html).

- Experiential learning: PUC LCHS students learn by doing. Concrete objects or situations, from which our middle school students derive data for further thought or action, help them to make meaning out of their world. Concrete experiences at PUC LCHS include role-playing, interviewing, community service, and similar activities in which they are able to analyze a common experience and explore ideas and values.

STRATEGIES

- Heterogeneous grouping: PUC LCHS will provide all students with the same rigorous content and will scaffold support. Heterogeneous grouping has been shown to improve overall learning although some have called grouping at the middle level "the most important unresolved issue in education" (George 1988). In a review of research on ability grouping over a sixty-year period, Slavin (1987) concluded that "almost without exception, reviews from the 1920s to the present have come to the same general conclusion: that between-class ability grouping has few if any benefits for student achievement." (http://rer.sagepub.com/content/57/3/293.abstract). At PUC LCHS, all students, including students identified for special education as well as English Learners, will be active members of the classroom.

- Pre-teaching, or front loading: Prior to lessons (on an as needed basis), PUC LCHS teachers will introduce students to the concepts that are to be presented in an upcoming lesson. PUC LCHS applies pre-teaching as a way to build bridges between prior knowledge and new concepts, content, or skills. Visual aids and graphic organizers may be used. Students’ self-confidence levels increase through the practice of pre-teaching.

- Targeted re-teaching: When PUC LCHS assessments reveal that students are struggling with a particular skill or concept; students will receive targeted instruction that re-teaches a particular skill or concept. PUC LCHS teachers will build on previous activities with an approach that is different from the one they initially used. Focus will be given to particular errors or omissions.

- Teacher Lecture: Teacher lecture is a familiar and effective method for teaching at PUC LCHS that is used thoughtfully and properly. Synthesized research on learning processes presented in How People Learn (1999) confirms, “experts’ abilities to think and solve problems depend strongly on a rich body of knowledge about subject matter” (http://www.centerforpubliceducation.org/Learn-About/21st-Century/Putting-it-all-together.html). Facts acquired through lecture, text, or empirical research are an essential component of constructing knowledge.

- Collaborative Learning: Students process information and derive knowledge through discussing course-related issues and topics with other PUC LCHS students. Evidence indicates that it, “raises achievement, promotes positive self-concept, and raises regard for others. It appears to be especially useful for students from racial minority and low socio-economic groups who have not excelled to the same degree as middle income majority-culture pupils in the traditional competitive classroom. Cooperative learning may also help to lessen the fatalistic attitude toward schooling that is often found among students from minority groups and those who have experienced repeated failure in the schools. When these students notice the value of their input and effort, a more internal locus of control and belief in one's ability is fostered. Social and work skills are imbedded” (http://www.behavioradvisor.com/CoopLearning.html).

- Cooperative Learning: Small groups of PUC LCHS students work together to solve a problem or complete a task. Cooperative learning brings students of varied ability together in small groups to increase student participation and involvement in the learning process. Students take responsibility not only for their own learning, but also share the responsibility for helping other members of the group achieve instructional goals (Slavin 1987). PUC LCHS believes that the classroom is an especially appropriate place to use cooperative learning strategies. Students working with others toward a common goal draw upon their interest in the peer group that gives meaning to the relationship. A number of studies have indicated that cooperative learning enhances academic learning, fosters intergroup relations, heightens self-esteem, improves mutual concern and trust, and increases the likelihood of positive social behavior (Educational Leadership, December 1989/January 1990).

1.14 STUDENT MASTERY OF CA CCSS AND OTHER STATE CONTENT STANDARDS

All students at PUC LCHS will receive instruction that is designed to facilitate their attainment of the State learning standards, Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS), and the English Language Developments Standards. Specific content in all subject areas will be drawn from the adopted (CA CCSS) and the California Content Standards, including the NGSS and the ELD standards. Teachers will design the curriculum to support varying learners and learning styles, including English Learner (EL) students and students with special needs. PUC LCHS will not utilize one particular textbook or program in any of the content areas. PUC LCHS believes that curriculum design is a tool that can be used to empower teachers. Research has found, “Teachers are not likely to make changes to practice unless they judge them to be necessary or desirable, or if they are have opportunities to discuss change and to learn from others.” (Appleton & Asoko, 1996; Arora, Kean, & Anthony, 2000; Franke, Carpenter, Fennema, Ansell, & Behrend, 1998). Cross organizational teacher teams and instructional coaches provide teachers with opportunities to collaborate and learn from one another as milestone documents are developed. PUC LCHS underscores the value of its teachers as intellectual architects in this task. PUC LCHS also values the incorporation of a student’s intellectual, social, emotional and political learning into curriculum design and will, therefore, hire culturally responsive teachers who “realize not only the importance of academic achievement, but also the maintaining of cultural identity and heritage” (http://www.intime.uni.edu/multiculture/curriculum/culture/teaching.htm).

All PUC LCHS teachers receive training in standards deconstruction, use of the testing blueprints, careful analysis of assessment data, and induction to the PUC model of effective teaching to support a college-ready environment that provides a high level of instruction. From this carefully guided work each teacher develops a standards driven, time bound scope & sequence with specific learning targets and ‘big ideas’ for each unit and lesson. PUC LCHS teachers will use the CA CCSS and the CA Content Standards as the backbone for the development of a scope and sequence. This scope and sequence will be used to make instructional plans and write lessons. The scope will inform the breadth of curriculum that students must be taught. The sequence will guide how the skills and subject material will be instructionally presented over time. The two work together in synchronization; they both have implications for the other. PUC LCHS’ scope and sequence will be both horizontally and vertically aligned. Appropriate grade level and cross-grade level teams will be established to maximize collaboration on scope and sequence decisions. PUC LCHS teachers will modify their scope and sequence to ensure gaps in skills or content are addressed. There are many variables that inform a teacher’s scope and sequence but most important is the data teachers constantly collect and analyze. This data informs their lesson planning and includes planning for individual, small group or whole group needs.

With the shift to the CA CCSS in 2014, PUC, as an organization, embarked on a comprehensive initiative to ensure that we prepare teacher to prepare students with the knowledge and skills they need to succeed in college and in their careers. PUC, as an organization, has embarked on a comprehensive initiative to ensure that we prepare teachers to prepare students with the knowledge and skills they need to succeed in college and in their careers. In our transition to the CA CCSS, PUC has utilized some of the resources provided by Engage NY and NYSED. Our focus has been on the six instructional shifts in ELA and Math. In addition, in the spring of 2013, a PUC school was part of the early adopters CA CCSS assessment pilot.

The adoption of the CA Common Core State Standards (CA CCSS) demands significant shifts in the way teachers think about, design and deliver instruction to students. The content and structure of the CA CCSS strongly align with PUC’s approach to teaching and learning; however, we recognize as an organization that we need to 1) Ensure all stakeholders understand the teaching and learning requirements outlined by the common core and explicitly link current organizational practices to the CA CCSS, 2) identify and formally incubate bright spots in order to formally disseminate these best practices across our network.

PUC places a high value on structuring time during the year for both grade level and content teachers within and across schools to convene and collaborate. Within schools, teachers meet in content and grade level teams one to two times monthly. Across our network, teachers meet in content teams 3-5 times a year. This cultural value of shared collaboration will provide a strong foundation as we focus these conversations on the CA Common Core State Standards.

The following tables outline the conversations that occur during staff collaboration with regards to current PUC practices:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>CA CCSS Focus in English Language Arts/Literacy</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• Balancing Informational and Literacy Text</td>
<td>There is a focus on reading richer, non-fiction texts in all grade levels across all disciplines. The balance between fiction and non-fiction ranges from 50%/50% in elementary to 30%/70% in High School.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Knowledge in the Disciplines</td>
<td>Students build knowledge about the world through TEXT rather than the teacher or activities.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Staircase of Complexity</td>
<td>Students read the central, grade appropriate text around which instruction is centered. Teachers are patient, create more time and space and support in the curriculum for close reading.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- Text-based Answers
  Students engage in rich and rigorous evidence-based conversations about text.

- Writing from Sources
  Writing emphasizes use of evidence from sources to inform or make and argument.

- Academic Vocabulary
  Students constantly build the transferable vocabulary they need to access grade level complex texts. This can be done by spiraling like content in increasingly complex tasks.

Current Practices Aligned to ELA/Literacy:

- Our schools have maintained a focus on reading across the content areas, increasing the amount of non-fiction text that students read throughout the day. Grade level and content teams utilize common reading strategies (i.e., Generating Interactions between Schemata and Text (GIST), text annotation, etc.) to increase student access to content.

- Our ELA Unit Framework which is focused on core literature includes a summative writing task that requires students to use textual evidence to support their answers. Additionally, the unit framework integrates non-fiction texts that augment and support students’ understanding of the key concepts in the literature.

- The PUC model of writing: School sites develop common language around the stages in this model: writing a claim, providing reasons and evidence, making counterclaims and providing a rebuttal and drawing conclusions. PUC ELA teachers collaboratively designed an articulated writing rubric that is utilized across the network. In addition, a subset of our schools has incubated the use of the writing model and rubric in all content areas.

- Content walls are utilized across the disciplines to provide a deep focus on meaningful language of the discipline. These walls include more than a list of words – they build a web of content information grounded in the language of the discipline. Students and teachers utilize these walls to make sense of text and integrate vocabulary into both their writing and academic discourse.

- PUC places a premium on speaking like a scholar (i.e., using academic discourse scaffolded by the content walls and discourse sentence stems) in our classrooms. Teachers hold students accountable to use complete sentences, appropriate discourse structure and academic vocabulary in both whole and small group instruction. Moreover, students develop the habit of supporting their assertions with evidence, which is more often than not textual evidence. In the spirit of healthy debate, students are encouraged to push their peers to substantiate counter arguments with evidence.

4. Deep Understanding | Students deeply understand and can operate easily within a math concept before moving on. They learn more than the trick to get the answer right. They learn the math.

5. Application | Students are expected to use math and choose the appropriate concept for application even when they are not prompted to do so.

6. Dual Intensity | Students are practicing and understanding. There is more of a balance between these two things in the classroom – both are occurring with intensity.

Current Practices Aligned to Mathematics Standards:

- PUC Schools has partnered with the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation to take part in the Math Design Collaborative grant to pilot a series of secondary Formative Assessment Lessons (FAL). These lessons are aligned to the CA Common Core State Standards and require students to think deeply about one math concept, apply their learning in application tasks with a partner or group without over-scaffolded instruction from the teacher. The teacher’s role is to review a short pre-assessment completed by each student, provide feedback questions to prompt understanding, continue to probe understanding while students engage in exploration of the math concept, and then correct misconceptions and deepen students’ understanding of the focused math concept through a plenary discussion. At the conclusion of the lesson, students retake the assessment and reflect on their progress.

- PUC Math teachers utilize a process called a Math or Mad Minute, which is a timed skills drill conducted at the beginning of class. The teacher selects the underlying math skills/calculation students will need to build for the current unit and provide students with daily fluency practice. The teacher and students track their progress with these drills over time. This practice is an effective method to develop the procedural fluency required by the Standards for Mathematical Practice.

- PUC teachers provide Mental Math practice to develop procedural fluency, the efficient use of estimation, and strategies for calculating quickly.

- Mathematical Tools: PUC teachers give students practice with different representations and tools, such as algebra tiles, number lines, and graphs, to help students make sound decisions about when each of the tools might be helpful.

- All PUC teachers utilize the learning cycle (Accessing prior knowledge, extending prior knowledge, application and reflection) to organize instruction. By following this model, teachers limit direct instruction and provide structured and guided practice time prior to asking students to apply knowledge independently.

- To help students develop the modeling and representational skills required by the Standards for Mathematical Practice, PUC teachers provide students with rich, non-routine problems. Students must bring to bear all of the problem-solving strategies in their toolkits (making charts, drawing pictures, creating formulas, guessing and checking, etc.) to solve the problems. They often have the opportunity to solve problems collaboratively, which gives them the opportunity to develop the ability to analyze problem solving approaches.

- Error analysis: PUC math teachers engage students in analyzing student errors. This practice helps students to uncover and correct misconceptions, use the language of the discipline to explain a problem-solving process, and utilize procedural skill to solve problems accurately.
1.15 DEVELOPMENT OF TECHNOLOGY-RELATED

Evidence indicates that computers can help students improve their performance on tests of basic skills, but researchers investigating the use of technology in education have found that technology is most powerful when used as a tool for problem solving, conceptual development, and critical thinking (Culp, Hawkins, & Honey, 1999; Sandholtz, Ringstaff, & Dwyer, 1997; Means, 1994). To use technology effectively, teachers must understand how its use fits into the larger curricular and instructional framework. Courseware (computer software designed to be used in an educational program) should reflect curricular standards, and should take into account research on how students learn. Using technology in the curriculum framework can enhance important skills that will be valued in the workplace, such as locating and accessing information, organizing and displaying data, and creating persuasive arguments (Sandholtz et al., 1997; “Critical Issue,” 1999).

The intent of the use of technology at PUC LCHS is to enhance the instruction and education of its students through the integrated use of technology in the support of a standards-based curriculum. Technology facilitates the creation, location, organization, manipulation, and presentation of information by teachers, students, and administration. Technology also enhances communication and information exchange between teachers, parents, students, and administration. PUC LCHS students are well-versed in the use of computer hardware and software, including email, the Internet, educational software, and reference material. They will use these technologies to locate, organize, manipulate, create, and present information. They will become information navigators with the help of their teachers and parents.

In order to be ready to take CAASPP assessments, PUC LCHS’ students are well-versed in the use of computer hardware and software, including email, the Internet, educational software, keyboarding, and reference material. They will use these technologies to locate, organize, manipulate, create, and present information as required when taking CAASPP assessments.

In addition, all students:
- take the SBAC interims in preparation for the SBAC in the spring.
- embed the practice of typing in classes.
- take the training tests prior to taking the summative test.
- use Achieve 3000/NewsELA weekly, that supports them in many of the thinking and computer navigation skills they need for CAASPP testing.

As a result, technology use at PUC LCHS shall be guided by the following principles:

- The use of technology at PUC LCHS will not be viewed as a separate curricular area but as a tool used daily to support the existing curriculum.
- It is essential to keep children’s needs at the center of technology implementation.
- Ongoing staff development will be crucial to the successful implementation of the Technology Use Plan and effective technology integration.
- Ongoing parent education about the applications and use of technology at PUC LCHS will be a critical component to student success.
- Equitable hands-on experience with instructional technologies will be provided for all students at all grade levels.
• Computers are a dynamic learning tool, used for information processing, skill development, artistic expression, writing and composition, research, and other numerous applications for daily life and learning.
• The writing and editing process is enhanced by the use of computer applications.
• Students will access an infinite source of visual information from an abundance of sources world-wide continually available to all learners to enhance and reinforce their learning experiences.
• Communication with students who are geographically and culturally different will be enhanced by the use of telecommunications.
• Teachers will collaboratively acquire, adapt and develop ideas that incorporate using technology in the learning process.
• Teachers at every level and in all subject areas will recognize and take advantage of instructional technologies as powerful and concrete devices for teaching critical-thinking and problem-solving skills.
• Teachers will integrate technology into the curriculum while facilitating the learning process for students through modeling, coaching and monitoring.
• Teachers will use a school-wide communication device to allow constant and promote collegial interaction.
• Teachers will use the computer as an effective instructional tool for preparing materials and presenting lessons.
• Teachers will be the instructional leaders in their classrooms and control how computers and technology are used to further learning outcomes.

1.16 GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Each student will take at minimum the following course scope and sequence designed specifically to meet the grade level standards and satisfy University of California A-G requirements, and must earn a grade of “C” or higher (PUC does not award “D” grades with the exception of students with special education eligibility who per an IEP team decision).

PUC LCHS uses the PUC-Wide HS graduation policies, that align with UC/CSU’s minimum undergraduate admission requirements and include a competitive edge column recommending students continue their coursework beyond UC/CSU’s minimum requirements. These additional classes better prepare students for college and make them more competitive for admissions. Students work with their School & College Counselors to map out their courses 9th-12th. If a student falls off-track due to a failing grade, students are provided credit recovery courses via Apex online courses, PUC CALS ECHS” school day course offerings, or outside accredited credit recovery programs: Assurance Learning, dual enrollment course via LA City College (LACC), or other options that offer UC approved courses.

*PUC College Competitive Advantage LAB SCIENCE expectation align with University of California’s (UC) undergraduate admissions requirements and Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS) 3-course model guidelines.

 PCE COURSES (9th-12th grade courses) provide a developmental school counseling program to prepare students for career, college/alternative higher education and life. Student grade level program task completion is tracked and monitored by both students and staff via Naviance and x2VOL reports.

- Naviance — Online Career, College & Scholarships Collaboration
- x2VOL — Community Service Tracking Platform (embedded in Naviance)

If a student does not earn a passing grade in PCE, s/he does not have to retake PCE, but will be required to make up the Naviance program tasks to help prepare them for post-high school college/alternative higher education & career.
1.17.1 CREDIT RECOVERY

PUC LCHS provides sufficient credit recovery opportunities through a variety of options to ensure student’s credit recovery needs are met and the options work with the student’s school and family schedule. The School & College Counselor along with school leadership create an individualized credit recovery plan, and monitor students’ credit recovery course progress through student check-ins, online course administration monitoring, and course instructor communications when available. Here is the list of online, independent study and teacher-led credit recovery options PUC LCHS promotes (All are accredited and University of California “a-g” approved): 1) APEX learning online courses; 2) Community College Courses Los Angeles Mission College; 3) Glendale Community College’s Student Success Center; 4) Options for Youth; and 5) Opportunities for Learning.

1.17.2 TRANSFER STUDENT’S GRADUATION AND COLLEGE ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

Students and their family who transfer into PUC LCHS meet with their School & College Counselor to:

- Share if they have identified a career goal(s). They discuss what courses, clubs and community partnerships the high school has that align with the student’s career interest(s), along with ways a student can get involved.

- Informed of the school’s PUC K-16 Program, how this sequence of tasks and information help prepare all students for Career, College/Alternative higher education options and life readiness. They are introduced to Naviance Student: https://student.naviance.com/puclchs and how this online resource provides students with 24/7 online access to resources and information to support students’ career, scholarship and college exploration.

- Have their transcript analyzed to ensure the student & family know the high school’s graduation requirement, notes the high school courses that align with The University of California (UCs) and California State University’s (CSUs) “a-g” undergraduate admissions requirements, and identifies the specific courses the student must complete to meet both high school and university undergraduate admissions requirements.

- They share how PUC Schools promote and encourage students to pursue their desired post-secondary pathway, and that our high school courses alignment with UC and CSU admissions allows students to prepare for university admissions, and also keeps them open for any alternative higher education opportunities they wish to follow (i.e. Career Technical Education (CTE), Apprenticeships, Military, etc.)

- The School & College Counselor note the difference between college eligibility and college competitiveness. They clearly point out that college admissions competitiveness and major competitiveness may require a student to take an additional course or multiple courses beyond the minimum undergraduate college admissions requirements (i.e. Engineer Major & Computer Science Major require additional math and science courses).
1.17.3 COLLEGE AND CAREER INDICATORS

PUC LCHS will provide options that will ensure students meet the CDE’s College and Career Indicators through the following:

Career Technical Education (CTE): CTE course options may be taken through our Early College High School model (ECHS). All PUC high schools are presenting options from a local Los Angeles Community Colleges, and mapping out timelines to support students with planning, enrolling, and certificate completion. PUC LCHS dual enrollment pathways are still under development. We currently offer a variety of college course electives that expand our high school’s current course offerings, with the focus of developing transfer paths (3 or more classes in one program) and Career Technical Education (CTE) certificates.

1. Advanced Placement Exams (APs): PUC high schools offering Advanced Placement courses provide a variety of supports to ensure the students are able to achieve academic success in both the courses and end of year Advanced Placement exams. In alignment with College Board, all AP courses are submitted to AP Course Audit for approval, and supplemental teacher preparation (AP Summer Institute and academic coaching) is provided to support AP teachers and students success.

2. Completion of courses that meet the UC or CSU a-g criteria: All PUC Schools' students who are on a general education graduation pathway complete UC and CSU’s "a-g" minimum undergraduate admissions requirements. Students who are special education eligible and per an IEP team decision have been placed on an alternative graduation path will be the only students who do not meet UC/CSU's "a-g" criteria (Certificate of Completion or California Minimum Diploma).

3. Smarter Balance Summative Assessments (ELA and Mathematics): In addition to the common core aligned college preparatory PUC Schools' high school curriculum. Students who identify via NWEA MAP data are provided supplemental English Language Arts (ELA) support via NEWSELA and math support via Khan Academy.

1.18 WASC ACCREDICATION

PUC LCHS received a full accreditation from the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) expiring in June 30, 2021. In the Spring of 2018, PUC LCHS had its mid-cycle review and met the WASC criteria for accreditation. Our accreditation is now reaffirmed through the end of the six-year cycle. Teacher professional development will continue to occur on Tuesdays and will be dedicated to the achievement of our WASC goals. Additionally, our School Success Plan is aligned with WASC goals. The goals are as follows:

- Goal 1: The school will increase implementation of the Lion PRIDE Matrix to address both behavior and academic success.
- Goal 2: The school will provide consistency in policies and practices school-wide with regards to RtI.
- Goal 3: The school will increase opportunities for parent involvement.
- Goal 4: The school will improve vertical articulation among content areas and horizontal articulation within grade levels.
- Goal 5: The school will improve teacher retention on a yearly basis.
1.19 HIGH SCHOOL COURSE TRANSFERABILITY

All A-G approved courses taught at PUC LCHS will be transferable to colleges/universities or other public high schools, including those within LAUSD. Parents will receive notification of course transferability in all student recruitment and student enrollment materials. In addition, parents will be notified via the PUC high schools’ student/parent handbook regarding the transferability of courses to other public high schools.

PUC LCHS continuously communicates a student’s graduation status with students and families. These communications are done via in-person meetings, letters, and phone calls. All communication is translated into the parents’ primary language. Counseling is provided to ensure students are provided with the credit recovery opportunity and/or support to meet their post-secondary career and education plans.

PUC LCHS’s off-track communication templates are available on PUC Schools’ Intranet for easy access. If a family has language needs that extend beyond Spanish and English translation supports are sort out to meet the family’s needs.

1.20 TRANSITIONAL KINDERGARTEN

This section does not apply as PUC LCHS is a 9th – 12th grade span.

1.21 ACADEMIC CALENDAR

PUC LCHS will adopt at least a 176-day instructional calendar divided into trimesters. Teachers and selected staff will be required to participate in 5 - 20 additional days during the summer to prepare for the upcoming school year in addition to 5 professional development days during the year.

1.24 EARLY COLLEGE AND MIDDLE COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL ATTENDANCE REQUIREMENTS

Per California Education Code Section 46146.5 as amended by SB 379, the “existing law provides that a day of attendance for a pupil enrolled in grades 11 and 12 at an early college high school or middle college high school is 180 minutes of attendance if the pupil is also enrolled in a community college, classes of the California State University, or classes of the University of California, as specified. Existing law, the Charter Schools Act of 1992, requires, as a condition of apportionment, among other things, a charter school to offer 64,800 minutes of instruction in a fiscal year for pupils in grades 9 to 12, inclusive, and, for classroom-based instruction, as defined, to have at least 80% of the instructional time offered to be at the school site.”

PUC LCHS has 1 student this school year who have been granted early release. This student leaves school after 4th period, missing 2 of their 6 PUC LCHS high school classes, allowing this student time to commute to the community college to take a high school approved college course. This one student has more than 80% of their instructional day completed at PUC LCHS.

1.25 PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

PUC LCHS believes that professional development is the cornerstone for educational equity and academic achievement for all students. At PUC LCHS, putting professional development at the center of the school culture is essential to developing a learning community for students, teachers, and administrators. The following principles guide all professional development opportunities:
Instructional change is a long multistage process. Shared expertise is the driver of instructional change. A focus on system-wide and classroom specific improvement. Clear expectations and responsibility for achieving them are shared by all. Environment of collegiality which results in learning for all. Respect and care for the students and the adults working to meet their needs. Focus on content and instruction (Elmore, 1997).

PUC Schools has developed a teacher development system that:

- Defines effective teaching as a collaborative and reflective endeavor that engages peers, students, and their families in ensuring student success. (College Ready Teaching Framework (CRTF))
- Develops methods of measuring teacher effectiveness.
- Implements high-quality, targeted supports that help build teacher capabilities. (Professional Development)
- Provides a career path and compensation system that offers the most effective teachers the opportunity to grow professionally.

PUC SCHOOLS TEACHER DEVELOPMENT SYSTEM

PUC’s Teacher Development System provides a common language and definition for highly effective teaching in a college-ready culture – based on teachers’ impact on student learning and teachers’ practices – that sets clear performance expectations for all PUC teachers and a shared vision of excellence. In addition, the system clearly defines the development needs of the individual teachers.

At the core of our Teacher Development System is the belief that teachers matter and that every child not only deserves a highly effective teacher every day but requires it in order to reverse the achievement gap and achieve our three organizational commitments. All teachers are supported to become highly effective. We define highly effective as the ability for teachers to move the majority of their students substantially more than one year of academic progress in a given school year. It is our belief that teachers who exhibit Level III and IV behaviors on our teaching framework, and achieve at high levels in other evaluation components, will do exactly that. It is also our belief that PUC teachers have the ability to move ALL students in this accelerated manner! This is to ensure more proficient, transformative teachers at PUC LCHS. While this year we have retained the largest number of teachers in the school’s history, we know teacher retention has a substantial difference in terms of culture and achievement.

A central component of the PUC Teacher Development System is the College-Ready Teaching (CRT) Framework, a rubric that defines the core competencies expected of all PUC teachers. The framework is comprised of four domains. The domains were derived from Charlotte Danielson’s research-based Framework for Teaching. The framework provides the common language guiding teacher professional development, evaluation, and collaboration. The transparent and clear expectations of the framework are anchored by the three priorities of college readiness, constructing knowledge, and cognitive engagement. The framework has undergone multiple revisions thanks to the input and feedback of teacher advisory panels, observation pilot teachers, and school leaders. The framework will continue to be evaluated throughout its early implementation and refined based on teacher and leader feedback.

By developing highly effective teachers, we can ensure that every child graduates college ready. Our Teacher Development System (TDS) is a combination of instructional and operational practices to develop highly effective teachers. It is in direct support of our commitments to ensure students are proficient and to increase graduation rates in our school community.
Our TDS includes five components:

PUC Teacher Development System

GOAL: Highly Effective Teachers, College-Ready Students

Common Definition of Highly Effective Teaching

- Meaningful Feedback for Teachers: Teachers engage in a series of development events during the year, including formal and informal observations, which provide them with evidence-based feedback to measure progress and set goals in their teaching practice. PUC contributed to and learned from the Measures of Effective Teaching (MET) project that found positive correlations between teacher evaluation tools and student achievement gains.

- High-Quality, Targeted Supports: Including instructional coaching, professional learning communities, PUC-wide PDs, and online resources.

- Teacher Career Path: Effective teachers have opportunities for leadership while continuing to work in the classroom. We have designed a support and compensation system for leadership opportunities that include: mentoring other teachers, plan and conduct professional development for their peers, and be part of a team that develops curriculum for other teachers at PUC that would include teacher effectiveness as one factor in getting this opportunity.

- Principal Leadership: Our principals serve as instructional leaders. They provide instructional guidance and coaching for teachers. They receive regular training and support and work toward becoming certified as classroom observers and evaluators.

PUC LCHS provides frequent opportunities through the lens of our School Success Plan (SSP), recent WASC feedback, and organizational-wide goals for teachers to ensure they are prepared with current research in regards to instructional content, methodology, and culturally relevant practices. Teachers meet with educators across the PUC Schools organization two times a school year to collaborate with content-alike colleagues and delve into text-based research related to instructional hallmark practices and culturally relevant approaches. Two other times during the school year, all teachers attend a PUC-wide Community of Practice which features teacher leaders. across the PUC Schools organization that facilitate sessions about their area of expertise. All teachers then attend the sessions led by teacher leaders who have been identified by administration to have strong instructional practices in their classrooms. Some topics which PUC LCHS teachers have shared their expertise in are building a culture of independent reading, implementing trackers to facilitate student self-monitoring and reflection, and differentiated lesson pacing to support a variety of learners in math.

PUC LCHS also provides school site specific professional development every Tuesday after school. The topics addressed during this time are in-class intervention systems and planning, English Language Development (ELD) and supports for students in our Special Education program integrated into the curriculum across all content areas, and professional learning community (PLC) content-alike groupings to debrief peer observations and receive feedback on lesson plans focused on rigor and community responsiveness. Furthermore, all teachers meet with administration bi-weekly for coaching meetings. During these one-on-one meetings, professional development is differentiated to support teachers in their growth areas as determined by observations, student work samples, lesson plans, school-wide goals, and teacher reflections.

As highlighted above, our professional development is grounded in a Teacher Development System (TDS) which is a PUC Schools organization common metric that outlines the criteria for teacher effectiveness. It is our belief that teachers striving toward and exhibiting Level III and IV actions on our teaching framework is crucial to helping all students progress towards content mastery. In order to align teachers development across the PUC Schools organization as well as grow teachers as individual learners, there is 1 PUC-wide growth area for all schools and 3 growth areas that teachers identify for themselves with the support of administration. New PUC LCHS teachers will select at least one growth area related to classroom culture and returning teachers will select at least one growth area related to instruction. This allows for teacher voice in their progress as educators and has shown to invest teachers in their growth process.

Other ways in which all PUC teachers are initiated into PUC culture and common foundational practices are through Learning Lab, Data Analysis Days, and a school site specific retreat. All new teachers to PUC Schools attend during the summer prior to the school year starting. Data Analysis Days are held twice a year and all PUC LCHS teachers attend to analyze and identify trends and next steps based on on-demand writing student samples and NWEA assessment data. Furthermore, PUC LCHS dissects CAASPP data for their specific students to determine which students should participate in after-school Academic Coaching and revisit our school’s progress on the PUC LCHS SSP during our school retreat day in October.

PUC SCHOOLS INDUCTION PROGRAM

The vision of PUC Schools Induction Program is to support and develop beginning teachers’ pedagogical habits of inquiry, practice & reflection, and to develop a growth mindset, as they become competent, reflective teachers capable of preparing all students for college success. We created our own Induction Program to support alignment between PUC Schools’ mission, vision, and practices, as well as support the development and retention of quality beginning educators. In our nine years of operation, coordinators continue to augment and improve the quality of teacher seminars and submissions, based on feedback from all stakeholders and data collected from the program year round. Implementation of the PUC Schools Induction Program is organized by the Induction Coordinator, who manages recruitment, enrollment, curriculum, Induction mentors, CTC accreditation, and the budget.

PUC Schools Induction Program is designed to create a self-sustaining learning community where new teachers gain the skills and support they need to uphold our core commitments and become competent, reflective teachers who are capable of preparing all of our students for college success. This supports PUC’s three commitments of (1) Five times more college graduates within the communities we serve, (2) After four years with us, students are proficient, and (3) Students commit to uplift our communities now and forever. Through the PUC Schools Induction Program, beginning teachers develop professional mastery in the indicators delineated in the California Standards for the Teaching Profession (CSTPs) while developing habits of data-driven inquiry, reflection, and collaboration. This supports their development in the PUC Teacher Development System (TDS) - a rubric for guiding and observing effective instruction. The domains, standards, and indicators of the teaching framework were designed to help teachers and schools meet our three commitments.

Beginning teachers hone their skills by learning about research-based practices alongside colleagues in choice seminars as well as through their weekly collaboration with their mentor on their Individual Learning Plan. Teachers act as action-researchers to develop an inquiry question in the Individual Learning Plan that is focused on their individualized growth areas. Growth goals are developed collaboratively between the teacher, the mentor, and their principal to align with target CSTPs and the school-wide goals. Induction mentors support beginning teacher development through observations, debriefs and reflections while collecting data on their growth goals. Through their Induction submissions, observations and seminars, teachers have the opportunity to research practices and strategies that will help them meet their individual goals. This is another example of seamless integration between Induction and school site teacher development work.

PUC Induction Program has contributed to the growth and development of each teacher who has completed the program. Survey data taken at the end of the year from stakeholders demonstrates the effectiveness of Induction at developing teachers in a variety of areas. 97% of beginning teacher candidates found the system of support in Induction to be “Very Helpful” or “Helpful” in developing and reaching their professional growth goals.

Three Teaching Practice Priorities: College Readiness, Constructing Knowledge, and Cognitive Engagement

Throughout the framework, three priorities are reflected in the descriptors of teacher performance, revealing our underlying beliefs about what constitutes good instruction and our ultimate outcome for students: to be college-ready. When teachers provide students with learning experiences that allow them to construct knowledge during cognitively engaging tasks, they are developing the skills, dispositions, and knowledge that will prepare them for college-level assignments and courses.
1. College Readiness means having the knowledge, skills and attributes to succeed in college including:
   a. Key cognitive strategies – such as intellectual openness, inquisitiveness, analysis, reasoning, interpretation, precision and accuracy, and problem solving.
   b. Key academic knowledge and skills – such as writing and research skills and strong foundations in the A-G requirement courses.
   c. Academic behaviors – such as self-monitoring and study skills.
   d. Contextual skills and awareness – such as “college knowledge.”

2. Constructing Knowledge refers to purposeful learning experiences in which the learner does the work of learning; for example, through thinking, talking, writing or making. As a result, the highest level of teacher performance occurs when teachers create and facilitate opportunities for students to construct meaning through inquiry, academic discourse, metacognitive activities, experiential learning, and problem solving.

3. Cognitive Engagement means individuals give sustained, engaged attention to a task requiring mental effort and that are within the zone of proximal development of the learners. As a result, teachers demonstrate the highest level of performance when their students are meaningfully engaged in cognitively complex learning.

Domains, Standards, and Indicators

The Framework is comprised of the following four domains, as derived from Charlotte Danielson’s research based Framework for Teaching and adapted to align to the core values of TCRP:

1. Data Driven Planning and Assessment
2. Classroom Environment
3. Instruction
4. Professional Contributions

Each domain includes a set of standards and indicators that define the domain. There are a total of 18 standards and 29 indicators. For example, Domain 1, Data-Driven Planning and Assessment, is partially comprised of the following standards and indicators below:

College Ready Teaching Framework (Sample)

Four Levels of Performance

Each indicator in the framework is further defined by descriptions of evidence that can prove performance on a scale of I (emerging) to IV (mastery), allowing teachers to benchmark their practice on each indicator and understand what would be required to progress to the next level of effectiveness. Across all indicators, the characteristics of performance are consistent at each level, as follows:

<td>The teacher is consistent in demonstrating the specific indicator and has created a classroom where students share in this responsibility; student learning is maximized.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

In addition, there is a trend across levels in terms of the three priorities described earlier:

Prior research (Gordon, Robert James, Thomas J. Kane, and Douglas Staiger. Identifying effective teachers using performance on the job. Washington, DC: Brookings Institution, 2006.) has shown that for all students, regardless of their background or prior performance, spending a year with a teacher performing mostly at Level I can lead to reductions in their learning gains from one year to the next. Students of teachers performing at Level III make the anticipated annual gains; students of teachers performing at Level IV help their students to surpass those expected gains. While teachers performing at Level III are considered highly effective at fostering college readiness, constructing knowledge and cognitive engagement in the classroom, Level IV in the rubric is intended to provide teachers opportunities to hone their craft in specific areas. In Level III teaching, students are engaged in learning through thoughtful facilitation by the teacher. In Level IV teaching, the classroom functions as a community of learners with student assumption of responsibility for learning. Through clearly articulated expectations and differentiated support, our goal is for each teacher to attain at least a Level III on every indicator so that we can meet our student achievement goals.
Whatever their current level, the language of the CRTF can help teachers understand what the next level of performance looks like and inspire them to take the necessary steps to attain that level of performance in their classrooms. After all, highly effective teachers are critical to preparing PUC LCHS scholars for success. Timely, targeted supports correlate directly to indicators in the CRTF and allow for focused and professional growth plans that move each individual teacher to higher levels of performance. Growth goals shape these plans. They are determined collaboratively among teachers and the school leader who deliver real-time coaching and drop-ins. The PUC network has protocols to guide teachers in pursuing their growth goals both individually and collaboratively. Examples include protocols for analyzing student work, peer observations and a video self-analysis. Ultimately, the Teacher Development System increases student achievement.

All PUC schools develop a professional development (PD) plan in alignment to the guidelines set for by the CMO, which include the following:

- Site Specific Professional Development (Minimum Days): The school will engage in PD during minimum days based on the School Success Plan and need based on data. PD will be led by a combination of the Principal, teachers, Superintendent, and PUC Academic Team members.
  - Site Specific Professional Development (Full Days): The school will engage in full day PD based on the School Success Plan and need based on data. PD will be led by a combination of the Principal, teachers, Superintendent, and PUC Academic Team members.
    - A minimum of five site specific PD days during the summer
    - 5 days during the school year
      - Two days focused on data analysis after NWEA MAP assessments
      - Three site specific PD based on need and data.
  - PUC-Wide Professional Development (Full Days)
    - Summer Institute: New teachers attend a series of professional development that combines theory and practice. The objectives of this lab include:
      - Articulate how the College-Ready Teaching Framework defines Powerful Teaching and Learning in a PUC School;
      - Articulate how relationships, routines, rituals, and artifacts provide the foundation for effective classroom management;
      - Observe powerful teaching and learning in action in the Lab Classrooms;
      - Design and receive feedback on a learning experience using the learning cycle and integrating other common instructional practices as applicable.
      - Describe the PUC Inclusion philosophy
      - Describe how to leverage the Clinical Counseling Program to support the success of PUC students; and
      - Review IT basics at PUC.
    - A PUC-Wide Kick Off to celebrate the start of every school year.
    - A PUC-Wide Community of Practice, a conference wherein PUC teachers deliver PD sessions to their peers. Teachers have the opportunity to attend multiple sessions of their choice.
  - Weekly grade-level team meetings: All PUC schools utilize grade-level team meetings embedded into their PD Scope & Sequences. The purpose for these meetings is to reinforce teacher collaboration, build teacher leaders, and best meet the needs of students. Each teacher is a member of a grade-level team, or group of teachers who all teach the same grade of students. Within these grade-level teams, we focus on one indicator from the CRT Framework per month and go through a series of discussions, reciprocal peer observations, and best-practice shares that drive forward teacher growth and development. We pick apart the language that describes level 3 effective teaching and brainstorm and share techniques for improving our practice to reach this specific level. The agenda for these meetings include specific non-negotiable and school / grade level team specifics that are added as needed by the school / grade level. The non-negotiables include student praise, students of concern and interventions, sharing of content / current and upcoming focus and collaboration, and inclusion.

- Weekly whole staff professional development: Weekly meeting provides time for necessary communication and whole staff discussion. The time ranges from 1 – 2 hours and may be used to address school needs based on data (e.g., EL strategies, special education, inquiry, and school culture).

- Content team meetings: Teachers have a content-alike department team time as needed during early release day and may utilize common preparatory periods. Teachers use this time to collaborate, using the teaching framework as the common language on which to base this collaboration. Instead of having to describe a teaching practice and spend time framing a goal that a teacher might have for development, colleagues can jump directly into active, tangible discussion because they have the common language and expectations of the effective teaching framework.

- Co-planning, observing, and co-teaching model lessons: PUC LCHS teachers receive direct instructional support from the site administrator(s) through coaching and side-by-side collaboration. The side-by-side collaboration includes co-planning of lessons, observation of peers focused on specific standards in the teacher framework, and co-teaching. We believe it is not enough to talk about instructional practices; it is imperative that leaders and teachers engage in the creation, refinement, and implementation of effective instructional practices.

- Analysis of student work: Teachers will be trained in the analysis of student data. They will become experts at conducting data analysis through ongoing analysis of network-wide assessments and the creation and analysis of their own internal assessments in Illuminate. Assessment is one achievement data point; other important data points for achievement analysis are grades and anecdotal teacher evidence. Through data analysis teachers will:
  - share and innovate based on results
  - adjust intervention strategies and students in need of intervention
  - link results back to practice through reflection
  - refine their scope & sequence, instructional strategies

- Web-Based Professional Development: PUC has a wealth of materials (documents such as lesson plans, assessments, graphic organizers, etc., as well as videotapes) aligned to the College Ready Teaching Framework. All teachers will have access to these resources through the PUC Intranet and EdReflect.

1.26 TEACHER RECRUITMENT

PUC LCHS is committed to recruiting and hiring a community of professionals who are dedicated to the best practice education of all students. Regardless of their role in the school, every person hired by PUC LCHS will actively help to promote the curricular philosophy, instructional program, and the school community’s guiding principles.
PUC LCHS will select its own staff and will not discriminate against any employee on the basis of race, color, age, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sex, national origin, actual or perceived sexual orientation, marital status, affiliations, political or religious beliefs, medical condition (cancer-related), physical disability or in retaliation, or any other characteristic that is contained in the definition of hate crimes set forth in Section 422.55 of the Penal Code. EC 47605(d)(1). To best meet families’ needs and the school’s mission, employee recruitment will seek to create a bilingual, multicultural staff. All staff is expected to be sensitive to the linguistic and cultural needs of students, and to participate in staff development to enhance their skills in this area.

The PUC National Human Resources Department will work with the school Principal and Superintendents to recruit a pool of high-quality candidates for open positions. Recruitment will include but not be limited to the following:

- National and regional websites specializing in education such as teacher.jobs, Idealist.org, careerjet.com, indeed.com and careerbuilder.com.
- Attending the regional college education fairs.
- Advertising via LinkedIn, Facebook and other appropriate social media outlets.
- Sustaining PUC’s existing mutually beneficial relationships with educator preparation programs at institutions serving the region (i.e. California State Northridge, University of California Los Angeles, University of Southern California, and Claremont College).
- Sustaining PUC’s existing relationship with Teach for America (TFA).
- Advertising in schools of education at universities across the State for candidates who may be interested in moving to Los Angeles and working for a highly successful CMO.
- Teach for America’s alumni network specifically targeting former corps members who grew up in the region and are interested in returning.
- Hosting regular school open houses for the community.

A personnel committee will be formed each year and will have the responsibility of interviewing and making a recommendation to the principal on hiring employees for any vacant positions. The principal is ultimately responsible for hiring employees on behalf of the school’s board of trustees. New teachers’ induction begins with the hiring process. PUC LCHS will follow the process below when hiring teachers:

1. Phone, Personal Interview, or Panel Interview conducted by Principal, Superintendents, or PUC National HR team.
2. Demo Lesson that includes debrief and coaching from Principal or team that may consist of (Superintendents, other school Principals, HR team members, PUC teachers).
3. Candidate completes a written Case Study.

RETAINING HIGH QUALITY TEACHERS

As described above, PUC LCHS will work to recruit and select high-quality staff members and teachers. Once teachers are employed at the school, we will seek to retain teachers by providing or promoting the following:
• Effective leadership: We recognize the importance of providing strong and effective leadership. Often, schools lack needed leadership; teachers, consequently, receive inadequate support. PUC LCHS will hire a strong principal who will be capable of leading the academic program to success and providing support and development for teachers.

• High quality and authentic professional development: PUC LCHS will provide teachers with ample opportunities for high quality professional development. Teachers will receive training prior to the start of the school year through the New Teacher Training Lab in the summer and also school site specific professional development. In addition, teachers will participate in job-embedded professional development on a regular basis. Specifically, students will be dismissed early on Wednesdays and teachers will participate in weekly staff meetings, professional development, and grade level team meetings.

• Collaborative environment: A collaborative learning community values the varied strengths of every member. We intend to develop our teaching faculty into a supportive community that values and extends their talent. They will work together to plan units, solicit feedback on lessons, and share instructional techniques. They will also celebrate successes and, together, work their way through challenges, while encouraging each other to grow as teachers and leaders. School leaders will support and reward their collaboration.

• Professional work environment: PUC LCHS will create an environment that is professional and collegial. Central to this will be creating and maintain a culture that is inclusive of all individuals. We will create a safe environment that values the input of all individuals.

• Competitive compensation: All employees will be compensated commensurate with their experience and job responsibilities, and will receive benefits, including health insurance and retirement plans, as detailed in the employee handbook that all employees will receive. We will offer competitive salaries; projected salary ranges are included in the attached budget. Job descriptions, work schedules, compensation, benefits, and other terms and conditions of employment will be reviewed and modified, as necessary, to meet the needs of the school and students.

By providing effective leadership, high-quality professional development, a collaborative environment, a professional work environment, and competitive compensation, we believe that PUC LCHS will be a school that not only recruits and selects high-quality teachers and staff members, but also retains high-quality teachers and staff member. PUC LCHS will be proactive in ensuring the satisfaction of our teachers and will work to resolve any issues prior to escalation. In addition, PUC LCHS will conduct a teacher survey on an annual basis to provide teachers with an opportunity to anonymously indicate their satisfaction with the school. Leadership will utilize the results to make adjustments as necessary.

1.27 MEETING THE NEEDS OF ENGLISH LEARNERS

PUC LCHS intends to continue to enroll a student population that serves a percentage similar to LAUSD’s enrollment of English Learners (ELs) given the community we will serve. PUC LCHS will follow the existing PUC LCHS Schools EL Master Plan which meets all requirements of federal and state law, relative to equal access, to the curriculum for EL students, as it pertains to annual notification to parents, student identification,, EL and core content instruction, teacher qualifications and training, re-classification to fluent English proficient status, monitoring and evaluating program effectiveness, and standardized testing requirement. PUC LCHS will implement policies to assure proper evaluation and communication regarding EL students and the rights of students and parents.

PUC Schools Mission and Vision for English Learners

| All English Learners are capable of achieving at high levels including but not limited to graduating college, engaging in a stimulating career and uplifting their community | All educators in PUC are language teachers capable of developing the social and academic literacies of our English Learners | All students bring with them the asset of their native language and culture that must be leveraged by PUC educator to engage in learning and development of the community |

Detailed Timeline of Intake, Assessment, Identification

Home Language Survey: All students enrolling in a PUC school complete a Home Language Survey as part of the PUC Schools enrollment packet. Currently, the five questions on the current Home Language Survey are as follows:

1. What language did this student learn when he or she first began to talk?
2. What language does this student most frequently use at home?
3. What language do you use most frequently to speak to this student?
4. What language is most often used by the adults at home?
5. Has this student received any formal English language instruction (listening, speaking, reading, or writing)? Yes □ No □

If the parents or guardians of a student list a language other than English on any of the questions 2 through 3 of the Home Language Survey, the student will be given an assessment to determine language proficiency:

- The English Language Proficiency Assessment for California (ELPAC)

These assessments will be administered within 30 days of the students start date. The assessments must be administered by a PUC staff member trained in the use of ELPAC.

If a parent or guardian completed a Home Language Survey at another school or district and completes a new survey upon enrollment, the first Home Language Survey supersedes the Home Language Survey filled out at a later date. The EL classifications stands until the student meets the criteria for reclassification.

Initial Assessment and Classification of Students

If the parents or guardians of a student list a language other than English on any of the questions 2 through 3 of the Home Language Survey, the students will be given an assessment to determine language proficiency:

- The English Language Proficiency Assessment for California (ELPAC)

Scores for the test will be entered (once received) into the PUC Data Hub. Classification of students will be based on the following cut points:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Students Initially Classified as EL</th>
<th>Student Initially Classified as IFEP</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>6th gr.-12th gr. Overall 1-</td>
<td>Overall High Level 4 on ELPAC</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
Initial Parent Notification Letter

Prior to testing: All parents of students who will be taking the ELPAC test will be informed by letter. The letter provides the parents with both the law and rationale beyond initial assessment for the language proficiency.

After testing results are received: All parents will receive a letter explain their child’s test results, along with the child’s assessment results from the State of California.

Parents’ Rights
Opting out of EL services: Parents have the right to opt their children out of Designated ELD. However, all ELs must take the ELPAC annually until they reclassify as RFEP. (ESSA Title I. § 1111(b)(2)(G)) and state (EC § 313)

Schools will remain responsible for:
- Providing Integrated ELD which includes meaningful access to the core curriculum for all EL students.
- Carefully monitoring EL progress in the acquisition of English.
- Alerting ELs’ parents and providing additional support if they are not meeting minimum progress expectations.

Annual Language Proficiency Tests Required for all ELs
Students who already have been classified as ELs will take the ELPAC every year. Assessment is performed at school sites by trained staff. EL student must continue to take the ELPAC until reclassified as RFEP. Parents may not opt student out of annual testing. Parent will receive notification letters before students take the test and once again when results from the State of California are received.

ELPAC Assessment results are used to support and accelerate student progress towards English proficiency through the following:

- The results of the Initial ELPAC are used to determine if a student needs support in learning English.
- The Summative ELPAC helps teachers gain a better understanding of what type and how much support students need so they can learn in English and be successful in school.
  - Schools review overall Summative results to gauge overall English Learner progress and make adjustments to program pacing and planning.

Teachers adjust lesson plans to incorporate additional language support for those English Learners not making adequate progress.

Reclassification of ELs
To be reclassified as fluent English proficient, students must meet the following criteria:

- Overall ELPAC proficiency level is Moderately Developed (Level 3) or higher and: In the Listening, Speaking, Reading, and Writing Domains, there is no more than one domain scored at a Somewhat Developed Level (Level 2)
- Student scores at “Nearly Met” or higher overall on the CAASPP (SBAC) OR
- Lexile scores in the range of “Approaching” or higher on the College and Career Readiness Lexile Performance Standards.
- Teacher Evaluation: Teacher observation rubrics or teacher judgment that students are sufficiently prepared to perform in the core curriculum.
- Parent consultation
*Data from ELPAC will be used.

Students’ records will be reviewed once state annual proficiency data is received. Parents of students reclassified as proficient will be notified via written communication. Parent who want more specific information will be encouraged to meet with administration.

The core mission of PUC Schools’ instructional program for English Learners (ELs) is to ensure ELs are college, career, and community ready. The purpose of our instructional program is to teach ELs to understand and use academic English proficiently and effectively. While at the same time ensuring that they have meaningful access to a high-quality education and the opportunity to achieve their full academic potential.

PUC Schools’ instructional program for ELs is:
- Researched based
- Aligned with the rigor of the Common Core State Standards, New Generation Science Standards, California ELD Standards, and California ELA/ELD Framework
- Designed to address the needs of each EL subgroup.
- Effectively monitored

The English Learner program components will be provided by each subject area teacher during both Designated and Integrated time as outlined in the “Designated and Integrated ELD” section below.

Top Priorities for all PUC Schools’ Comprehensive English Language Development Instructional Program for ELs
- Provide instruction that address the needs of all EL subgroups present at the site.
- Provide robust Integrated ELD across the content areas aligned with the CA ELA/ELD Framework
- Provide Designated ELD based on data determined needs of ELs until they reclassify
- Provide ongoing professional learning on best practices in EL instruction
- Monitor EL progress and effectiveness of instruction with formative and summative assessments
- Use school-based intervention plans to ensure support of at “Risk” of Becoming and Long-Term English Language Learners
Three Interrelated Areas of Comprehensive ELD*

*Adapted from pg. 108 of the California ELA/ELD Frameworks

Designated and Integrated ELD
At the center of both the 2012 California ELD Standards and the 2014 CA ELA/ELD Framework is the research-supported idea that people learn language best when they can use it in meaningful ways to engage with content they are interested in and currently learning. The concept of Integrated ELD and Designated ELD are used throughout the 2014 CA ELA/ELD Framework to support this goal of linking ELD with meaningful and engaged learning.

Designated and Integrated ELD address both parts of the California ELD Standards, Part I, Interacting in Meaningful Ways and Part II, Learning about How English Works. In Designated ELD, there is a greater emphasis on Part II of the Standards, but standards from Part I are also addressed. This has the added benefit of ensuring “meaningfulness” as students “learn about how English works.”

Part III, Using Foundational Skills, involves teaching skills such as sound-letter correspondences in a way that highlights similarities and differences between a student’s home language and English. It could appear in either Integrated or Designated ELD depending how the classroom is structured based on students identified needs.

ELD Proficiency Level Continuum
Teachers will use the ELD Proficiency Level Continuum to develop targeted ELD and differentiate instruction in all content areas.

Newcomer Support
Newcomers will receive the most intensive support in years 1 and 2 and should be monitored for up to four years. Grades 6th-8th Grade:
- Newcomer pull-out (based on the specific language learners determined needs) combining Designated ELD with some Integrated ELD and content teaching, including foundational literacy, together with cultural and school knowledge
- Comprehensive Integrated ELD during the rest of the school day
Instructional Resources

All instructional resources used at PUC LCHS are linked to the CA Common Core and Next Generation standards. Instructional Units will be planned by bundling the content standards with the CA ELD standards.

To ensure fidelity of the implementation the following resources are some of the tools that will be provided to teachers and support staff (coaches, administration, etc.). in addition to the provided language arts instructional materials

- ELA/ELD Vignettes and Snapshots
- PUC Exemplary Units for all Contents Areas
- San Diego Unified School District English Language Development Bundles

Interventions for ELs Not Meeting Minimum Expectations

Tier 1 instruction should meet the needs of roughly 80% of EL students and includes both whole group and small group instruction. Tier 1 will also provide appropriate differentiation for ELs with attention to the language demands of a task.

When an EL is determined to have difficulty that requires Tier 2 or Tier 3 support, stakeholders will craft an intervention plan that:

- Is based on specific assessment data
- Has a clear entry and exit criteria for participation in the intervention
- Provides frequent progress monitoring to ensure the effectiveness of the intervention
- Provides systematic and explicit instruction with modeling, multiple examples, and feedback
- Will be changed after 8 weeks or less if the student is not meeting time-bound goals
- If and when an EL is identified with a specific learning disability, a certified Special Education staff member will share monitoring of the Tier 3 plan, in alignment with the student’s IEP

Family Advisory Committee

Our schools and classrooms are most effective when families actively influence and contribute to the PUC mission of college, career, and community readiness. The California Local Control Funding Formula (LCFF) requires our schools to create a Local Control Accountability Plan (LCAP) for compliant spending of State funding. The LCAP must be supported by family input and advisement.

In order to meet State requirements and support EL family capacity building and decision-making regarding LCAP expenditures, each PUC school with 21 or more ELs will establish an English Learner Advisory Committee (ELAC). The committee will be comprised of an equal percentage of parents of ELs as to the number of ELs enrolled in the school.

Translation and Interpretation

Communication with all families of ELs in their primary language is essential to support parents of ELs and ensure their full involvement and engagement. At all PUC schools families with limited English proficiency must be provided opportunities to participate equally in school programs and activities, and should have full access to and understanding of the educational process. PUC schools with 15 percent or more of the pupils enrolled in the school speaking a single primary language other than English, will translate all notices, reports, statements, or records sent to the parent or guardian in their primary language. Families may also respond to all communication in their primary language. Oral interpretation will also be provided at meetings, family workshops, and family-teacher conferences.

STUDENT PROGRESS MONITORING

The ELPAC will be administered, in grades 9-12 every fall to all students who are identified as ELs. Students will be required to complete the assessment each year until they re-designated. Students are tested in the areas of listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Because this is a proficiency test instead of a norm-referenced test, the administration of the test is untimed. PUC LCHS’s staff will examine the results from this test alongside other assessments since the school will be focused on providing quality English language development instruction to all LEP students at the school at their proficiency level. The ELPAC is one of the measures used to determine whether students are able to be re-designated. Re-designation will be one of the school’s primary goals and measures of success. Long term English learners (LTELS) will be targeted for intensive support, after school and throughout the school day, with the target of getting them to reclassify. The Principal, in collaboration with the teaching team, will ensure appropriate and timely communications with parents about EL classifications.

PROGRAM EVALUATION

The evaluation for the program effectiveness for ELs in the school will include:

- Adherence to school-adopted academic benchmarks by language proficiency level and years in program to determine adequate yearly progress.
- Monitoring of teacher qualifications and the use of appropriate instructional strategies based on program design.
- Monitoring of student identification and placement.
- Monitoring of availability of adequate resources.

PROCESS FOR MONITORING RFEP PROGRESS

At least once yearly, a Language Appraisal Team (LAT) will meet to review the progress of RFEP students and will use the RFEP Monitoring Roster. The LAT will include the principal or designee, Dean, the student’s classroom teacher(s), and other personnel as appropriate, such as counselors, specialist teachers, intervention teachers, EL Experts, and/or parents of the student being reviewed. The review of students who have met reclassification criteria will take place in late summer/early fall after the release of SBAC scores and by teacher request for students not meeting proficiency benchmarks in Reading or Math. In addition to meeting for progress monitoring of students not meeting proficiency benchmarks, the LAT will maintain a record of RFEP student progress that will include, but is not limited to, data on SBAC scores, periodic assessment results, curriculum embedded assessments and teacher evaluation reports.

The administrator/designee will coordinate the monitoring of reclassified students. All RFEP students will be monitored at the end of each reporting period for a minimum of two years following reclassification. If a student is not making satisfactory progress after reclassification, the LAT will meet with the classroom teacher(s) to develop an intervention instructional plan with specialized support.

PROCESS FOR MONITORING THE PROGRESS AND SUPPORTS FOR LTELS

ELs are expected to meet reclassification criteria within 5 full years of instruction. ELs not meeting re-classification criteria at the beginning of their 6th year are considered Long-Term ELs. In order to support the progress and reclassification of LTELS we will monitor the progress in the following way:

At least once yearly, a Language Appraisal Team (LAT) will meet to review the progress of LTELS students and will use the English Language Monitoring Roster. The review of students who have been an English Language for more than 5 full years will take place in late summer/early fall after the release of SBAC scores and by teacher request for students not meeting proficiency benchmarks in Reading or Math. In addition to meeting for progress monitoring of students not meeting proficiency benchmarks, the LAT will maintain a record of LTEL student progress that will include, but is not limited to, data on ELPAC annual progress, SBAC scores, periodic assessment results, curriculum embedded assessments and teacher evaluation reports. The administrator/designee will coordinate the monitoring and meeting of the LAT. All LTEL students will be monitored at the end of each reporting period. If a student is not making satisfactory progress, the LAT will meet with the classroom teacher(s) to develop an intervention instructional plan with specialized support specific to the needs of the LTEL student.

1.28 MEETING THE NEEDS OF GIFTED STUDENTS

The entire school community is committed to designing learning experiences that differentiate for different populations of students, including gifted and advanced students. We agree with Kathy Checkley when she states teachers must use assignments that “allow different levels of complexity in students’ responses” to better serve all learners including gifted students (11 Teaching Gifted Children (and all others) to Think Better. Kathy Checkley. Classroom Leadership, 2003, Volume 7 Number 3).

PUC LCHS believes that differentiation does not imply that teachers must use a different curriculum, but that the complexity and depth of assignments differ to meet the student’s need in increasing their knowledge base. Instead of assigning busy and extended work, lessons are crafted to challenge the students to think more critically and engage in the content in depth.

The school will determine the needs of GATE students through the following:

1. Identify student’s interest(s) using student survey
2. Identify student’s abilities or area(s) of strength through teacher observation
3. Teacher-Parent meeting at the beginning of the year or during the year as needed
4. Family Success Team meeting where the student’s needs are discussed, and a plan is developed to meet those needs.

The school will meet the needs of GATE students through the following strategies as suggested in the “Inclusive Classroom: Meeting the Needs of Gifted Students: Differentiating Mathematics and Science Instruction (Source: https://educationnorthwest.org/sites/default/files/12.99.pdf):

1. Communicate high expectations
2. Be sensitive to the experiences and beliefs of people from different cultural groups.
3. Continuously and firmly encouraging students to go to college. Discuss the necessary coursework, tests, and other preparations with students and parents.
4. Create a multicultural learning environment and make sure the curriculum reflects a variety of cultures.
5. Help students connect with role models and mentors.
6. Enlist support of parents and family members.
7. Provide students with a variety of learning options
8. Listen to students’ concerns, fears, and beliefs about their educational experiences.
The instructional program components, services, and/or supports will be provided by each subject matter teacher. PUC LCHS teachers will keep up to date with the research and methods of teaching that best serve the diverse community of gifted students.

In addition, the instructional program will be provided through various strategies such as:

1. Differentiation strategies, for example, modifying what students will know (content), how students will think (process), and how students will summarize and share their learning (products). One example is using different dimensions of depth and complexity in all lesson plans.
2. Flexible groupings and regrouping of students for different tasks. The groupings will also be based on need, interest, and ability.
3. Students will have the opportunity to experience the content by going on expeditions that allow them to see how scholars use the content they learn in class in a real-life context.
4. Differentiated independent research projects as a strategy to challenge these students to increase their learning.
5. Advanced learning opportunities that allows students to participate in out-of grade-level activities using and selecting resources beyond grade level when appropriate.
6. The teachers will also adjust the time needed to learn, noting that some students learn more quickly than others.
7. PUC LCHS believe that the family connection is important to the success of the gifted student. Parents will collaborate with school leaders, teachers and children in order to present and develop the individualized plan that best meets their child’s needs.

PUC LCHS will use the following procedure for identifying gifted students: A referral for identification can be made by a teacher, parent, or student. Identification is accomplished through an assessment process consisting of the following elements:

1. Search, screen, referral,
2. Committee review,
3. District verification. Students must meet one of the criteria for gifted:
   a. Intellectual Ability
   b. High Academic Achievement/Specific Academic Ability
   c. Visual Arts Ability
   d. Performing Arts Ability
   e. Creativity Ability
   f. Leadership Ability

Monitoring of the Gifted and Talented (Accelerated) student is done through the following three levels:

1. Student Level:
   a. Set individual student target
b. Individual Student Profile used to track performance
c. Analyze individual work against key criteria
d. Records kept of student performance

2. School Level:
   a. GATE Coordinator, the onsite designee for parents to contact regarding GATE, has an overview and list of cohort
   b. Action Plan that aligns with individual student targets
   c. Coordinator monitors differentiation, planning and teaching
   d. Teacher monitors student progress toward targets through lessons and observations

3. LEA Level:
   a. Superintendent monitors the Action Plan
   b. Superintendent helps school set additional targets for school
   c. Transition profile is also used to assure continuity of learning activities for students transferring to another school within PUC Schools.

1.29 MEETING THE NEEDS OF STUDENTS OF ACHIEVING BELOW GRADE LEVEL

The PUC LCHS program has been designed to provide a personalized learning environment in which students work for, and achieve, the most rigorous academic standards while discovering and cultivating their unique gifts and talents. Our entire school community collaborates to ensure that student outcomes are met. Further, PUC LCHS staff and educators are committed to school-wide student achievement and work to actively engage parents. We firmly believe that learning is best achieved when associated with students’ individual needs, their natural curiosity, and their desire to be challenged. When teaching is supportive and purposeful, students meet or exceed grade-level expectations: academic, social, and behavioral.

Based on our many years of experience with our current PUC schools located in the NE San Fernando Valley and Northeast Los Angeles, PUC LCHS is prepared to enroll a large number of students who are struggling and likely have one or more of the following: low levels of literacy, lack of a solid foundation in mathematics, inability to organize themselves or to maintain focus, and/or disengagement from learning. To meet the needs of all students – but, in particular, those who have been traditionally academically low achieving – PUC LCHS will adhere to all legal requirements and mandates under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA), and will maintain compliance with the Response to Intervention (RtI) model guidelines. PUC LCHS faculty and staff will monitor student performance on a regular basis to ensure that students who are at risk of failing to perform at grade level – that is, struggling students – are appropriately identified and supported. Implementation of the Family Support Team (FST) model (described further in this Response) and the RtI approach means students will be regularly monitored to determine progress. Attention to the students’ cultural and linguistic background will inform decisions. The diagnostic approach will shape instruction and inform decisions about interventions and eligibility for special education programs. PUC LCHS teachers will do whatever it takes to meet the needs of struggling students. The teachers will use many resources, including each other, their leaders, and both online and hard copy Pre-Referral Intervention Manual (by Stephen B. McCarney) resources.

It is also likely that PUC LCHS will continue to enroll students who have not yet been identified as having a special need. Accordingly, PUC LCHS will follow child-find procedures to identify all students who may require assessment to consider special education eligibility, as well as special education and related services in the case that general education interventions do not provide a free appropriate public education to the student in question. As discussed above, PUC LCHS will utilize a three-tier Response-to-Intervention (RtI) model that will help identify students who may require special education and related services.

DETERMINING AND IDENTIFYING STUDENTS WHO ARE STRUGGLING

We expect students will enter PUC LCHS with enormous diversity— in culture, language, prior educational experiences, home circumstances, learning styles, attitudes toward learning, and future ambitions – as well as with varying skill levels in literacy and mathematics. The school will implement a data-driven approach beginning immediately and continued on an ongoing, regular basis. Staff will use assessment results to identify areas of concern and growth, to identify learning gaps, and to inform methods/strategies used to deliver instruction and interventions. In the case that a student is not progressing in a manner consistent with academic success, PUC LCHS will rapidly modify instructional methods (including delivery and tools) within the general education classroom to address the students’ specific needs and will also begin to track interventions.

PUC LCHS will implement a three-tiered early prevention system model. PUC LCHS will implement the PUC Pyramid of Intervention model that has proven to be successful and includes PUC’s Family Support Team (FST) model. PUC LCHS uses the term FST to emphasize the collaborative aspects of the team, and the fact that it is not only the student, but also the family, that needs support. The FST is a positive school-wide identification and intervention process.

The PUC Family Support Team (FST) is what many other schools call a Student Support Team or Student Study Team (SST) and is made up of teachers, an administrator, an inclusion specialist (if applicable), the student, the parent and a school & college counselor. PUC uses the term FST to emphasize the collaborative aspects of the team, and the fact that it is the family that needs support, not only the student. The Family Support Team is a positive school-wide early identification and early intervention process. The FST provides both academic and behavioral intervention. Working as a team, the student, parent/guardian, teachers, school administrator, and other appropriate school personnel identify the student’s strengths and assets, upon which an improvement plan for school success can be designed. Concerns are seen as obstacles to student success and not descriptors of the student or his character. As a regular school process, the FST intervenes with school and community support and designs a practical improvement plan that all team members (school, student, parent/guardians) agree to follow. Follow-up meetings are planned to provide a continuous casework management strategy to maximize the student's achievement and school experience. The Pyramid of Intervention on the following page illustrates PUC LCHS’s multi-level approach to academic interventions and supporting the needs of struggling students.
MONITORING THE PROGRESS OF STRUGGLING STUDENTS

Monitoring is vital and will be done at two levels: 1. School-wide and 2. Classroom-level:

1. School-wide: All subject area teachers meet by grade-level on a regular basis to discuss school-level progress of all students, highlighting those students who are struggling or who are not at grade-level. Teachers analyze school-level data from both State and Local assessments that informs them of overall progress and trends that will help determine future planning. Teachers discuss ways that each subject area teacher can support all struggling students, creating a cross-subject support plan. Administration plans for and allots specific times during the school year where teachers and counselors can review the data of struggling students. Administration then leads the conversations and provides guidance for supporting struggling students. Additionally, administration meets regularly with students that are considered tier 3 and that need additional check-ins.

2. Classroom-level: Teachers in all subject areas will monitor the progress of struggling students or students achieving below grade level. Monitoring is done through the following: (Source: School Improvement Research Series article, “Monitoring Student Learning in the Classroom.” https://educationnorthwest.org/sites/default/files/monitoring-student-learning.pdf):
   a. Monitoring Seatwork: Systematic approach when noting individual students while moving or looking around the classroom, while addressing individuals frequently, usually privately, to keep students accountable and on-task.
   b. Monitoring Homework: Consistency with checking assignments regularly, and then individually questioning students who make low grades or are struggling.
   c. Monitor for completion and accuracy. In addition, provide timely and specific feedback to students as to content as well as a review or further explanation of concepts and processes.
   d. Monitor as a Part of Classroom Reviews: Daily, weekly, and monthly reviews through questioning and other learning probes, that call attention to areas where reteaching is needed.
   e. Classroom Testing: Classroom assessments are administered regularly and frequently and are an integral part of the instructional approach. Assessments are collected, scored, recorded, and returned to students in a timely manner.
   f. Reviewing Student Performance Data: Teachers review student performance data on a consistent basis to determine student progress and whether teaching methodology needs to be realigned.

TIER 2
When the classroom teacher’s early preventions are not working, an FST Intervention Checklist will be used to begin Tier 2 specific interventions in the classroom. The checklist enumerates the possible forms of intervention that a teacher, administrator, and family may implement if they identify a student in need of behavioral or academic intervention. The Intervention Checklist is also used to document interventions the teacher has implemented and the degree of success of those interventions. Interventions applied will be research-based and the implementation of, and results of, these interventions will be documented. If the teachers’ instructional modifications do not produce the desired results that would put the student on track to perform at grade level, students will be recommended to participate in Tier 2 targeted interventions.

The Tier 2 interventions will be provided in addition to the core instructional program that is provided in Tier 1 and described above. The provision of interventions in Tier 2 may be non-classroom-based and will increase in frequency and intensity as they are provided in addition to the general education program. Tier 2 interventions may include the following:

- Change of seating or cohort
- Peer support
- Graphic Organizers
- Lecture Notes
- Student/Parent Conference
- Homework Club
- Lunch working Group
- Teacher Tutoring in Content Groups
- Pre-Teaching
- Saturday School
- Collaboration w/ RSP
- Teacher “Swarm”
- Academic or Behavior Tracker

Typically, in Tier 2 interventions the grade level team gets involved in implementing interventions and monitoring student progress. The general education teacher may also receive support as needed from other educators in implementing interventions. Focus will begin given to solving problems rather than creating placements.

TIER 3

If students continue to not show adequate progress, they will move into Tier 3 interventions. An FST meeting will be convened to gather key players, including the student, to brainstorm and identify interventions. It is expected that parents will attend and will be notified in accordance with section 100.2(ii) of the Regulations of the Commissioner of Education that their child needs additional interventions regardless of their attendance. Similar to Tier 2 interventions, Tier 3 interventions will consist of specialized, research-based interventions in addition to the general education program. Tier 3 instruction will be provided by school personnel who are highly skilled or trained in the areas of academic need identified by the student assessment results. Provided services may include the following:

- Clinical Counseling
- Teacher Mentor
- Saturday School
- Small Group Instruction in After School Program

In the case that the most intensive level of intervention fails to assist a student and progress is deemed unattained, the entire school community (including parents) may determine that a referral for a comprehensive evaluation to determine eligibility for special education be made. In addition, the FST is a requirement that must be filled prior to referral for special education services. If/when assessment results indicate that students have made necessary growth, they will exit Tier 3 interventions.

AT-RISK

PUC LCHS is hesitant to compartmentalize its approach specific to serving designated populations given the collaborative nature of its model. PUC LCHS adopts the belief from the Accelerated Schools Model (Fashola, Olatokunbo S., and Robert E. Slavin. "Schoolwide reform models: What works?" Phi Delta Kappan 79 (1998): 370-379.) that: “Students considered ‘at risk’ are those who are unlikely to succeed in schools as schools are currently constituted. These students are deemed at-risk because they bring a different set of skills, resources, and experiences than those on which school success is traditionally based. An at-risk student is caught in a mismatch between the experiences he or she has at home, with family or community on the one side, and what schools traditionally expect for their success on the other. For this reason, a child is referred to as caught in an at-risk situation. Once educators cease to view the child as at-risk and, instead, view the situation the child is placed in as at risk, we can then change the situation” (View Park Prep Charter High School, 2003). PUC LCHS will provide every student and, in particular, those who are placed in at-risk situations and those identified as gifted and talented with a powerful, engaging, and accelerated curriculum that will enable them to succeed.

The description of the school’s annual goals and specific annual actions required by California Education Code section 47605(b)(5)(A)(ii) can be found in Element 2. Our goals for student success are as follow:

- The educational program will enable pupils to become self-motivated, confident, and lifelong learners.
- Pupils will master the basic and augmented skills in context, develop concepts, and become critical thinkers and problem solvers.
- Pupils will receive an enriched curriculum in language arts, mathematics, science, social studies, technology, health, physical education, and performing and visual arts.
- Pupils will develop an attitude of self-respect, respect for others, and an appreciation for the strength of diversity.
- Pupils will demonstrate cooperative pro-social behavior with a sense of responsibility to their school, home, and community. Students will display this sense of responsibility by being of service to their school and community.

- Pupils will be exposed to career and post-secondary opportunities to develop personal and professional life goals.
- Pupils will begin to establish long-term, post-secondary goals and identify strategies, resources and support to help them achieve these goals.

STRATEGIES, PROGRAMS, and RESOURCES

CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTION

As stated previously, the PUC LCHS curriculum, including instructional goals, methods, assessment, and materials, is customized to not only address, but to embrace, the diversity within its anticipated classrooms. Based on the Common Core Standards, the curriculum is designed to ensure that all students, including those with and without special needs, are provided with the same rigorous content. PUC LCHS’s vision of high expectations will drive curricular decisions, as research provides “compelling evidence that when children of color are given a challenging academic curriculum and supported by high expectations, they can and do achieve at high levels” (Education Trust. (2006). Yes We Can: Telling Truths and Dispelling Myths about Race and Education in America. Washington, DC: Author.). PUC LCHS will work tirelessly toward its goal of moving each student over the high bar.

STRONG STAFF AND FACULTY

PUC LCHS believes in the strength of its staff and faculty to facilitate school achievement. PUC LCHS will hire culturally responsive staff and given the anticipated population of English learner (EL) students will seek to hire bilingual staff and an administrator who will manage the services to students whose primary language is not English and who have not yet become proficient in the English language.

CLASSROOM MODIFICATIONS AND INSTRUCTIONAL METHODS

The following classroom modification and/or instructional methods may be implemented to meet the needs of struggling students:

ACADEMIC

Instructional Strategies:
- List objectives and goals for lesson and/or day at a glance
- Differentiate instruction into tiers or by learning style / multiple intelligence
- Provide rubrics with expectations before assigning a task or project
- Present information in multiple formats (visual, graphic organizer, auditory, etc.)
- Cooperative learning strategies with clearly defined roles (ex. Think-Pair-Share)
- Flexible grouping for ability-based instruction
• Pre-teach content vocabulary across content areas

Modifications and Accommodations:
• Time: extended time on classroom assignments, tasks, tests, and quizzes
• Directions: read directions aloud, restate and clarify directions, highlight key words, have students repeat directions back to teacher or class
• Use of graphic organizers
• Use of manipulatives and hands-on materials
• Provide a copy of class notes or an outline on which student can take notes
• Provide work samples as a model (examples and non-examples)

BEHAVIORAL AND SOCIAL

Classroom-based strategies:
• Structure and consistency in classroom environment
• Provide options and choices (i.e., where to complete work in the room)
• Use of timer
• Preferential seating; sit next to peer-model
• Incorporate opportunities for movement within the classroom
• Opportunities for breaks and “time-outs”

Cueing, Prompting, and Praising systems:
• Catch them doing right!
• Positive attention and specific praise
• Make a “connection” with student through 1:1 attention or interest in his/her interests
• Visual prompts and signals
• Physical prompts and signals, including the use of teacher proximity
• Advance warning of transitions and changes in schedule

Reinforcements:
• Reward system: daily, weekly behavior charts
• Self-monitoring behavior charts
• Behavior contracts
• Give student a “job” or classroom responsibility
• Communication between home and school (email, phone, communication journal, planner, etc.)

ORGANIZATION

• List objectives for lesson
• Provide schedule of daily activities or post in a visible location
• Extended time on classroom tests, quizzes, and assignments
• Repetition and consistency
ATTENTION

- Directions: read directions aloud, restate and clarify directions, highlight key words, have students repeat directions back to teacher or class,
- To-do list - break down into small increments of time if necessary
- Incorporate opportunities for movement within the classroom
- Provide alternate workspace (two desks)
- Redirect to task
- Provide options and choices (i.e. where to complete work in the room)
- Preferential seating
- Cooperative learning with clearly defined role in group work

MISCELLANEOUS

- Set reasonable goals and expectations

1.30 MEETING THE NEEDS OF SOCIO-ECONOMICALLY DISADVANTAGED STUDENTS

Approximately 90% of the population in the Northeast LA qualify for free or reduced-price lunch and are considered to have low socio-economic status. Hence, the academic program in this proposal was designed to meet these student needs. Ruby Payne (Educational Leadership, 2008) specifies powerful practices that have shown to address the needs of students with low socio-economic status. One of these strategies includes assessing each student’s resources in order for the school to accommodate for any gaps. The school will use the California Healthy Kids Survey (CHKS), “a comprehensive, youth risk behavior and resilience data collection service available to all California local education agencies, and is funded by the California Department of Education.”

The following are some of the resources that a student may not have and specific steps the school will take to meet their needs:

- Financial Resources: If a student does not have the financial resources for specific materials such as mandatory uniforms, the school will provide them. This includes access to technology as needed.
- Physical Health: School’s counselors will service students that need mental health support. In addition, the school will provide resources and information to support the family in obtaining the necessary health care.
- Support systems: Our staff will work with parents to create support systems outside of school. In addition, students that don’t have academic support will be provided time and a place to work on their academics (homework) before and/or after school. These students will also have free tutoring and intervention programs available at the school.
- Knowledge of unspoken rules: Our school’s advisory program will teach students the hidden rules of school and those of norms and habits of a group. This will ensure that students will be confident to work in any environment intermingled with any social group.
- Pathways to College: Parents will be provided with educational workshops throughout all grades related to how socio-economic status does not have to be an obstacle in the child’s path to college.

IDENTIFICATION PROCESS

PUC LCHS identifies Socio-Economically Disadvantaged Income Students through the Direct Certification process and via the National School Lunch Program application.

PROGRESS MONITORING

With an overwhelming majority of PUC LCHS’s students identified as socio-economically disadvantaged (88.29% per CALPADS Fall Survey 2017), progress monitoring for this particular group of students falls in line with the process by which all PUC LCHS students are supported, namely through our robust instructional program, access to social and emotional support services through our Family Support Team (FST), a clear RTI process, and consistent parent/family engagement. All members of the Administrative, Curriculum, and Student Support services team collaborate with teachers and support staff to monitor student progress. Universal screeners are administered periodically to measure student progress and identify students that may be in need of further support or intervention. The FST process is used as a vehicle for teachers and support staff to initiate a referral if a particular student demonstrates need.

DEDICATED TIME

Understanding that time is essential to the success of the above approach, teachers’ daily schedules will include ample planning time. More specifically, the schedule has been created to provide teachers with a partial day each week for planning, reviewing data, and collaborating with a wide range of service providers. Reliability of assessments, as well as accuracy in scoring and in the interpretation of data, will be supported through professional development.

EFFECTIVE PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Effective implementation of the PUC LCHS model demands professional development (PD), value added collaboration and ongoing supervision. PUC LCHS shall take appropriate steps to ensure that staff has the knowledge and skills necessary to implement a response to intervention program. Following is a brief description of the professional development topics PUC LCHS will offer that relate to at-risk students:

- Supporting At-Risk Students: organizational, regional, and school-based PD that is based on PUC Schools Teacher Development System (TDS) Teacher Framework.
- Data Driven Planning & Assessment to Best Meet the Needs of Your Students: knowing our students through qualitative and quantitative data analysis. Teachers learn how to collect and utilize data to inform instruction.
- Conveying Positive and High Expectations to Students: This occurs in several ways. One of the most obvious and powerful is through personal relationships in which teachers and other school staff communicate to students, “This work is important; I know you can do it; I won't give up on you” (Howard, 1990). The literature on resiliency repeatedly confirms the protective power of firm guidance, challenge, and stimulus – plus loving support (Garbarino et al., 1992; Werner, 1990). Youth who are succeeding against the odds talk of being respected and of having their strengths and abilities recognized (McLaughlin et al., 1994; Mehan et al., 1994). Successful teachers of poor children refuse to label their students at risk; they look at each child and see the gem that is inside and communicate this vision back to the child (Ashton-Warner, 1963; Ayers, 1993; Carini, 1982; Curwin, 1992; Heath, 1983; Kohl, 1967). They look for children's strengths and interests, and use these as starting points for learning. In Among School Children, Kidder (1990) describes the power that teachers have to motivate children: “For children who are used to thinking of themselves as stupid or not worth talking to or deserving rape and beatings, a good teacher can provide an astonishing revelation. A good teacher can give a child at least a chance to feel, ‘She thinks I'm worth something; maybe I am’” (p. 3). Thus, a relationship that conveys high expectations to students can internalize these beliefs in students and by doing so, develop the self-esteem and self-efficacy that Rutter found in the successful schools in his study.

- Creating a Classroom Learning Environment: Based on the premise, “If schools attend to the emotional and behavioral needs of students on a broad scale, it is likely that they will create the conditions necessary for social competence and academic success of students.” (Young, Marchant, & Wilder, 2003). Our goal is to collaboratively create positive school environments that nurture the social, emotional and academic well-being of all students through the use of Positive Behavior Support (PBS) practices. Resources may include the following
  - Tribes Community Circle
  - Advisory
  - Discipline with Dignity
  - How to Talk so Students Can Learn

- Rigorous Engaging Instruction: Students identified as being at risk of educational failure often receive a watered-down curriculum that emphasizes the acquisition of basic academic skills. All students – especially those at risk – need to be engaged in interesting and challenging learning that goes beyond basic proficiencies. One of the best ways to ensure meaningful, engaged learning for all students is by developing whole-school programs in which classroom teachers, specialists, administrators, and support staff collaborates to provide improved school-wide instruction. Supportive instruction within the regular classroom can be provided for those students who need additional help in meeting high academic standards. Research findings also are helping educators recognize the need for students to take an active role in the learning process. When students are responsible for their own learning, they actively plan, organize, and evaluate their progress. At-risk students can become more active, strategic learners when they develop metacognition, or the ability to think about their own thinking and learning. With metacognitive awareness, students can actively plan how to learn, monitor their progress, and evaluate their own achievements. Cooperative learning allows students of varying abilities and interests to share responsibility for learning as they work together in small groups to research topics, solve problems, and improve their understanding of subject matter. Peer tutoring, which can help both tutor and student to take an active role in learning, encourages the development of academic and social skills as students teach other students.

- Engaging Students: based on the indicators of engaged learning, as presented in “Students Are Responsible For Their Own Learning,” Jones, Valdez, Nowakowski, and Rasmussen (1995), "In engaged learning settings, students are responsible for their own learning; they take charge and are self-regulated. They define learning goals and problems that are meaningful to them; have a big picture of how specific activities relate to those goals; develop standards of excellence; and evaluate how well they have achieved their goals. They have alternative routes or strategies for attaining goals--and some strategies for correcting errors and redirecting themselves when their plans do not work. They know their own strengths and weaknesses and know how to deal with them productively and constructively. Engaged learners are also able to shape and manage change." (p. 8)

- Engaging Families: understanding the importance of parent and family involvement as a way to improve learning for at-risk students. Menacker, Hurwitz, and Weldon (1988) state: “The power and authority of the school alone are insufficient to ensure the good discipline and motivation necessary for acceptable educational outcomes. Parental support and involvement are needed. “We must recognize the value of the resulting new synthesis, supported by both research and common sense, that the home and school are interdependent and necessary factors for educational improvement in schools serving the urban poor.” (p. 111) Additional research by Comer and Haynes (1992) indicates that parental involvement contributes to improved academic performance, behavior, and self-esteem of at-risk students. (Refer to the Critical Issues Supporting Ways Parents and Families Can Become Involved in Schools and Creating the School Climate and Structures to Support Parent and Family Involvement.)

1.30.1 MEETING THE NEEDS OF STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

1.31 STUDENTS IN OTHER SUBGROUPS

The PUC Foster Youth Coordinator (who also serves as the Director of Clinical Counseling) will provide additional support, including clinical counseling services, as needed, to students who are currently in foster care.

IDENTIFICATION OF SUB-GROUPS

Students who fall into other subgroups- including foster youth and standard English learners- will be identified at the time of enrollment. Students in both of these subgroups will receive targeted instruction and supports in their General Education classes (unless additional, Special Education or EL supports are required).

PUC LCHS will identify these sub-group of students through the following:

1. Teacher observation
2. Family Success Referral
3. Review of student assessments (both local and state)
4. Student academic progress

PROGRESS MONITORING OF STUDENTS IN OTHER SUBGROUPS

Progress monitoring for students in other subgroup of students falls in line with the process by which all PUC LCHS students are supported, namely through our robust instructional program, access to social and emotional support services through our Family Support Team (FST), a clear RTI process, and consistent parent/family engagement. All members of the Administrative, Curriculum, and Student Support services team collaborate with teachers and support staff to monitor student progress. Universal screeners are administered periodically to measure student progress and identify students that may be in need of further support or intervention. The FST process is used as a vehicle for teachers and support staff to initiate a referral if a particular student demonstrates need.

1.32 TYPICAL DAY

In a typical PUC Lakeview Charter High School day, school begins at 8:20 am, and students begin their day by attending their first period class. Breakfast is offered in the lunch area as early as 7:15 AM. Students that are in sports may be on campus as early as 6:30 am if they are in season and practicing.

A visitor will note that students are on task immediately as they enter their classroom because all teachers will have a “Do-Now” or Warm-up ready. The teacher will deliver lessons that are standards based and rigorous. A visitor will see teachers accessing students’ prior knowledge, extending this knowledge, providing opportunity for students to apply the knowledge and reflect on their learning. Students will be engaged in the classroom as both teachers and students use inquiry to have in-depth conversations of the content they are learning. Students that finish assignments early will be engaged in opportunities for extension and enrichment; every minute of instruction is used to its fullest.

While walking the hallways, a visitor would notice our PRIDE matrix posters and Rules and Expectations posters displayed on our walls. These serve as reminders to our students as the school wide expectations of being Prepared, Respectful, having Integrity, Determined, and striving for Excellence. Visitors would also notice the college pennants that are displayed on the walls. These serve as reminders to our students of obtaining a higher education.

In the classroom, a visitor will see student work posted with criteria such as rubrics or task lists that display various modes of communication (written, oral, and artistic). This work will display students’ understanding of complex ideas and concepts in all content areas including integration of math vocabulary in an English class and persuasive essays in a math class.

A visitor will see students, parents, teachers, and administrators articulating the high academic expectations in the school and how these will prepare them for college preparatory high school coursework. This will be displayed while a student flaunts about the vast amount of work that they do on a daily basis. The student will be able to explain how the academic work they do prepares them for success.

On this PUC Lakeview Charter High School day, the student will take an English, math, history, and science class. In addition to the four traditional content courses, students have the option of taking Art, Dance, or Music. Spanish is also offered to the students at LCHS.

Students have just finished their Do Now exercise to review Greek and Latin roots and affixes and take out their reader’s notebooks to get ready for today’s lesson, which is aimed at creating original thesis statements about a text and supporting the thesis with evidence from the text. The teacher gathers a group of students who read almost at grade level to briefly summarize the previous chapter of Elie Wiesel’s Night, which they read the day before, and make a prediction with their partner. She asks them to take “stop and jot” notes as well as to use a graphic organizer to capture quotes that are a reflection of Eliezer’s changing attitude toward his family and the Nazis. She pauses the group when she notices some confusion and asks them to make a claim about how the narrator’s attitude is changing, and to defend their claim with evidence.

Meanwhile, three other homogeneous groups of students are working independently in stations to read historical letters, such as Jackie Robinson’s letter to President Eisenhower, and use a graphic organizer to identify the author’s thesis and supporting evidence. A group leader from each station has a list of questions that is used when a student is stuck.

Later to close the class, the teacher asks all students to reflect in their notebooks on the habits of mind they used that day to help them make sense of the texts. They then list two things they want to practice the next day in their reading and share one of the ideas aloud at their tables.

Math (Constructivist Learning): In math, students are working toward being able to represent a linear function by creating tables, drawing graphs, and calculating and describing the slope. Students will then use patterns found within these tables, graphs, and calculations to connect and describe multiple representations of a linear function. To begin the class, students work on a Do Now exercise by answering questions on commonly missed problems from the previous day’s lessons on calculating slope. The teacher uses this time to check in with specific individuals to check their understanding and clear up any misconceptions. To extend students’ knowledge, students are asked to make connections and locate patterns between linear graphs and their equations. This opens up a class discussion in which the teacher encourages students to identify key pieces of information about each graph and equation. At this point students are able to uncover where the slope and y-intercept are located in a linear equation. Using the aforementioned skills, students are then asked to work in pairs to compare/contrast and match linear graphs with their equation. The teacher circulates to provide support and ask questions that require students to use mathematical language and reasoning. For closure, the teacher asks students to reflect in their math journals on their progress toward meeting the standard of describing linear functions.

Social Science (Direct Instruction): Students begin class by working on the Do Now on the board: “How might the relationship between the king and the colonists change due to the distance between them? Compare that to your relationships when your friends or family move far away.” They note their homework and the day’s learning target in their weekly tracker. They will use the tracker throughout the lesson to reflect on how often they share out in class, persist through difficult readings, and to note strategies that are helping them persist and develop grit.

Next, the students pair-share regarding the warm-up question. After reviewing the day’s learning target, the teacher provides an opportunity for students to connect new knowledge to their prior learning. For 20 minutes, students read primary source quotes, analyze images, and note key ideas. The teacher “levels the playing field” by restating main ideas for all students. Students now get an opportunity to apply this new information. On a teacher-created graphic organizer, they respond to four vignettes from either the British or colonist perspective, analyzing the author’s point of view. The teacher circulates to check work and clarify misconceptions.

Lastly, the teacher invites students to share a few examples and connect to the historical theme of dissolving relationships. The students complete an exit ticket assessing the learning objective. The teacher will analyze the data from the exit tickets to inform her instruction for the following day.

Science (Experiential Learning): Students are investigating molecular motion as part of a weeklong task to define states of matter. The teacher greets each student as they enter class, offering a warm smile or comment regarding their progress the day before. To activate their prior knowledge, students sit down and answer written questions on shape, volume, and molecular motion. Building upon their prior learning, the teacher then engages students in discussion around questions related to solids, liquids, and gasses using varying participation strategies such as cold calling and think-pair-share. Students are now ready to apply their learning to a scientific investigation: the hot v. cold water lab. As they drop food coloring into beakers with water of different temperatures, they note in their science journals how the food coloring in the hot water beaker disperses more quickly. The teacher provides an opportunity for students to process what they’ve learned through a quick write: How does heat energy affect the behavior of matter? Students use the vocabulary they’ve learned about the states of matter to describe the results of their investigation.

On a typical school day, even during breaks (nutrition break, lunch, and after-school), teachers engage students in informal conversation that contribute to developing character and guide students to display and promote the schools values.

At the end of the day students head to their PUC Competitive Edge Class (or PCE) which serves as their advisory class. On this day students are all participating in a community circle around the topic of who inspires them. Students share deep and personal feelings with each other as they have built a bond over the years and a culture that fosters respect and inclusivity.
Element 2 – Measureable Student Outcomes and

Element 3 – Method by which Pupil Progress Toward Outcomes will be Measured

“The measurable pupil outcomes identified for use by the charter school. “Pupil outcomes,” for purposes of this part, means the extent to which all pupils of the school demonstrate that they have attained the skills, knowledge, and attitudes specified as goals in the school’s educational program. Pupil outcomes shall include outcomes that address increases in pupil academic achievement both schoolwide and for all groups of pupils served by the charter school, as that term is defined in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 47607. The pupil outcomes shall align with the state priorities, as described in subdivision (d) of Section 52060, that apply for the grade levels served, or the nature of the program operated, by the charter school.” (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(B).)

“The method by which pupil progress in meeting those pupil outcomes is to be measured. To the extent practicable, the method for measuring pupil outcomes for state priorities shall be consistent with the way information is reported on a school accountability report card.” (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(C).)

MEASURABLE GOALS OF THE EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM

Charter School shall meet all statewide content and performance standards and targets. (Ed. Code §§ 47605(c)(1), 60605.)

Charter School shall comply with all applicable laws and regulations related to AB 97 (2013) (Local Control Funding Formula) and AB 484 (2013), as they may be amended from time to time, including all requirements pertaining to pupil outcomes.

STANDARDIZED TESTING

Charter School agrees to comply with state requirements for participation and administration of all state-mandated tests, including computer-based assessments. Charter School shall submit and maintain complete, accurate, and up-to-date California Longitudinal Pupil Achievement Data System (CALPADS) data in accordance with the requirements of California Code of Regulations, title 5, section 861. Charter School hereby grants authority to the State of California to provide a copy of all test results directly to the District as well as Charter School. Upon request, Charter School shall submit, in the requested format (e.g., CD), a copy of the results of all state-mandated tests to the District.

2.1 Measureable Goals

Local Control Accountability Plan (‘‘LCAP’’)

The school’s annual goals, for all pupils and for each subgroup of pupils identified pursuant to Education Code Section 52052, for each of the eight state priorities identified in Education code Section 52060(d) and pursuant to Education Code Section 47605(b)(5)(A)(ii), and specific annual actions to achieve those goals are in the completed “LCFF State Priorities” table (Chart 1.22) provided in Element 1 of this petition which meets the above requirement.

2.2 Summative Assessment Performance Targets

See Element I, Chart 1.22, titled, "LCFF State Priorities" that is “consistent with the way information is reported on a school accountability report card”, EC § 47605(b)(5)(C)), identifying and describing specific targets that align with the eight (8) state priorities identified in California Education Code § 52060(d).

As the school becomes more familiar with its target student population, the school’s goals, actions and targets associated to the Eight State Priorities may be revised depending on the local control and accountability plan annually adopted by the Partnerships to Uplift Communities Valley Board of Trustees.

To the extent that the targets set forth in the charter do not meet state requirements, the state targets shall supersede the state standardized assessments goals in the chart.

2.3 Measuring Student Progress: Formative Assessments

PUC Schools Assessment System

The PUC Schools Assessment System aims to provide stakeholders with valid, fair, reliable, and timely information regarding student growth and progress towards proficiency on the Common Core State Standards and the Next Generation Science Standards. The PUC Assessment System intent is to provide instructional, evaluative, and predictive information for stakeholders. At PUC, we commit to ensure all students are proficient within four years. To this end, we believe there is a need for internal measures to measure our progress towards this goal. The PUC Assessment System intends to fill the gap between the state tests, which are summative and teacher made assessments, which are clearly unique to the teacher. We want teachers and leaders to be able to use assessment results to adapt instruction, curriculum, and professional development to meet student needs. Additionally, the assessment system should signal the extent to which teachers, schools, and programs are helping students maximize their potential and master learning material. Finally, as a source of information for students, parents, teachers, and leaders the assessments should be predictive of performance on state tests. Although we recognize the importance of external, high stakes exams, we want to limit our dependency on them to tell our intrinsically unique story of student achievement. It is our desire that with the continuous improvement of the PUC Assessment System that we will have comprehensive data beyond the state tests to illustrate our success in reversing the achievement gap for our students.

To ensure that all statewide performance standards are met and to ensure continual evidence of pupil learning, PUC Lakeview Charter High School shall conduct testing pursuant to Education Code Section 47605(c) as well as its own assessment and evaluation processes. Multiple forms of assessment will be used to measure student achievement and progress, tailor programs of instruction, validate and continuously improve teaching methods, gauge the school’s performance in comparison to similar schools throughout the District and state, and provide the metrics for programmatic audits reported to the LAUSD and the California Department of Education (“CDE”). The following types of assessments will be utilized to supplement the PUC-wide Assessments indicated in the above chart(s).

- Standardized Tests: PUC Lakeview Charter High School will administer all state required standardized tests including Smarter Balanced Assessments for English Language Arts/Literacy and Mathematics, the California Science Test (CAST), and the Physical Fitness Test (PFT) to students in the required grade levels during the designated testing windows. All students who are English Learners as indicated on their Home Language Survey will also take the English Language Proficiency Assessments for California(ELPAC). The school will also administer any additional assessments required by the state during the period covered by this petition. Results from these tests will be analyzed prior to the beginning of the subsequent school year to create school-wide, grade-level, and department-level instructional goals. These goals will drive professional development at the site.

- Performance Assessments: Performance assessments include projects, papers, or tasks that require students to produce a product. PUC Lakeview Charter High School emphasizes authentic performance tasks or real-world application whenever possible through this articulation, we can ensure that our students are not only ready to perform well on end of the year summative assessments, but also will be prepared to enter high school.

- Ongoing Classroom Assessment (in each content area): Ongoing, periodic assessment is an integral part of the learning process for both teachers and students. Assessment of student progress will occur at the end of units of study, before, during, and after individual lessons, and as needed to check for understanding and to measure the internalization of new concepts and skills. In addition to measuring student growth, these assessments will serve as an important reflection tool for teachers to use in assessing the effectiveness and impact of their instruction.

- Rubrics and Criteria Charts: Teacher- and student-generated rubric and criteria charts will be used to evaluate student work. Rubrics may be tailored to a classroom assignment, to a grade level benchmark assessment, or a school-wide assessment. PUC Lakeview Charter High School places a high priority on the utilization of these tools to ensure that students have clear criteria for producing quality work and work to become self-regulated evaluators of their own performance.

ASSESSMENTS NOT YET SELECTED
Assessments that have not yet been selected or created by PUC Lakeview Charter High School will be scrutinized to ensure they:
- Are in alignment with the CA Common Core Standards and Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS)
- Will provide data to support the full range of learners, those demonstrating the need for remediation, as well as those demonstrating the need for acceleration.
- Are valid and reliable.

2.4 Data Analysis and Reporting

PUC Lakeview Charter High School firmly believes that “using data separates good schools from mediocre schools. Schools that are increasing student achievement, staff productivity and collegiality, and customer satisfaction use data to inform and guide their decisions and actions. Data use essentially sets a course of action and keeps a staff on that course to school improvement and student success.” (J. Killian & G. T. Bellamy, 2000) Additionally, the Regional Alliance for Mathematics and Science Education at TERC has placed a strong emphasis on the use of data and has identified the top 10 uses of data (see below) as a lever of change. PUC Lakeview Charter High School concurs with each of the ten uses and is committed to establishing and maintaining a data driven culture.

1. Data can uncover problems that might otherwise remain invisible.
2. Data can convince people of the need for change.
3. Data can confirm or discredit assumptions about students and school practices.
4. Data can get to the root cause of problems, pinpoint areas where change is most needed, and guide resource allocation.
5. Data can help schools evaluate problem effectiveness and keep the focus on student learning results.
6. Data can provide the feedback that teachers and administrators need to keep going and stay on course.
7. Data can prevent over-reliance on standardized tests.
8. Data can prevent one-size-fits-all and quick solutions.
9. Data can give schools the ability to respond to accountability questions.
10. Data can build a culture of inquiry and continuous improvement.
11. (Love, 2000)

ANALYSIS

Research indicates that when teachers use data to adjust their instruction, student learning is significantly impacted. “If teachers [and leaders] systematically examine their professional practices and their impact on student achievement, the results of such reflective analysis will finally transform educational accountability from a destructive and unedifying mess to a constructive and transformative force in education.”

PUC Lakeview Charter High School believes that consistent data analysis is essential in closing the achievement gap for all students. PUC’s use of a cycle of data analysis has driven instruction and has contributed greatly to the dramatic gains in student achievement seen at its schools over time. Likewise, all stakeholders at PUC Lakeview Charter High School will be equally invested in the success of its students and will always seek the road of improvement.

All team members at PUC Lakeview Charter High School take responsibility for student achievement. PUC Lakeview Charter High School believes that frequent assessment of student progress is a major contributor to success in student achievement. The macro-study described in Goodwin’s Changing the Odds report from McREL supports the practice as a critical factor in cases where schools drastically outperformed schools with similar demographics. PUC places a high emphasis on continuous data analysis. PUC assessments will be analyzed following each administration and utilized to drive student performance.

PUC Lakeview Charter High School will administer the MAP Growth assessment, or another norm-referenced equivalent, in the Fall, Winter, and Spring to monitor student growth and progress towards mastery of the standards. Teachers use individual, class, and grade-level data to inform instructional groupings, instructional materials, and intervention strategies at the beginning and mid-points of the school year. Data for individual students is communicated to each student and their family during parent meetings/conferences at the beginning of the year. At PUC, we commit to ensure all students are proficient within four years. The data allows us to communicate to families their child’s predicted performance levels on the state test and the degree to which the child has progressed within and between school years. This information is used to create a plan with the family to accelerate their child’s progress.

The school also uses MAP data, or another norm-referenced assessment, to determine the degree of student academic gains and/or losses both within and between school years to inform instructional materials, instructional methods and sequencing, and professional development for areas in need of improvement. The PUC National Data Team will disaggregate school-wide MAP, or other norm-referenced equivalent, data by gender, race, English Learner status, Special Education status, socioeconomic status, and other relevant subgroups and leaders and teachers will analyze those data to make any needed adjustments to the instructional program. Any substantial disparities in improvement across subgroups may result in modifications to curriculum, schedule, school staffing, or provision of support services. PUC Lakeview Charter High School will use data as a tool to drive instructional decisions, and as such aggregate grade level data will be shared with other PUC Schools and the PUC Board on a regular basis.

Customized dashboards created by the PUC Data Team, and Illuminate and other vendor specific reports are a critical component of the PUC Lakeview Charter High School /PUC National Assessment system. The dashboards and reports provide teachers and leaders with actionable data that drives quality instruction.

Pre-Assessment: teachers have access to reports that indicate current student performance in reading and mathematics, as well as reports that indicate the necessary skills students need to develop in order to progress to the next level. Grade level teams will use these reports to group students for instruction and scaffold instructional activities appropriately to provide opportunity for all students to meet and exceed grade level standards.

Interim Assessments: teachers analyze data for assessments to identify strengths and opportunities to re-teach. Data is available in Illuminate and the PUC Dashboards, as well as from the individual test vendor websites. Teachers use this data to inform instructional content and strategies and to group students for instruction. Leaders use this data to inform individual and school-wide professional development.

TEACHERS
Teachers will be responsible for collecting and maintaining organized files and to effectively document and share student outcomes. These are carefully analyzed with the goal of revising pacing and offering strategic, differentiated support to ensure that all students master the standards. The teachers’ roles and responsibilities within PUC Lakeview Charter High School’s data driven community include the following:

- To continuously modify, differentiate, adjust, and drive classroom instruction.
- To identify which standards they need to re-teach.
- To provide differentiated, individualized instruction for specific students.
- To alter their scope and sequence for the upcoming year, therefore, preventing similar shortfalls from reoccurring.
- To engage students in analysis of their own achievement data in order to drive goal setting and personal achievement.
- To authenticate results across assessments (example: a class/course grade and proficiency on a test).
- To use a variety of tools and combine classroom level data with school wide assessment data to test how well students have mastered material taught in the classroom.

PRINCIPAL
The school leader will be a key player in ensuring the school’s data practices are conducive to student achievement. The roles and responsibilities of the principal, particular to data include:

- Analyze classroom and grade level assessments to guide dialogue among teachers around improving instruction and increasing student performance.
- Ensure that assessments are given on schedule.
- Ensure that data is analyzed in a timely manner.
- Track student mastery of content across the curriculum.
- Facilitate data meetings with the teachers and provide guidance as to which standards need to be prioritized.
- Make recommendations to the Board of Trustees for reallocation of resources in the areas of money, time and personnel to ensure that students are given proper levels of instructional support, based on the results of the assessments.
• Make recommendation to the Board of Trustees as school priorities are followed and set.
• Monitor lesson plans and lesson execution to ensure that prioritized learning objectives are being effectively re-taught; Evaluate instruction.
• Ensure tests (and administration of) are valid and reliable.
• Determine focus of and provide professional development.
• Compile a school-wide dashboard showing the recent data along with previous year’s data.
• Encourage ongoing reflection of student performance.

BOARD OF TRUSTEES
Students’ academic progress will be shared with the PUC Lakeview Board of Trustees via regular meetings and through updates that are provided by the school leader. The board will use data:

• To ensure the school is academically successful and meeting its mission.
• To evaluate school progress.
• To hold PUC accountable for the academic support it provides to the schools.
• To gather a longitudinal record for comparison purposes.
• To compare PUC Lakeview Charter High School achievement to that of schools in the district and state.
• To make informed decisions regarding the instructional and curricular practices that is implemented at the school.
• To make informed personnel decisions.
• To propose actions or support needed in any areas where progress in not on track.

PUC NATIONAL
The PUC National Data Team will also provide the Regional Board representing the school and the staff with the information needed to drive school-wide improvement. The Regional Board and the staff will use data:

• To determine professional development needs.
• To propose necessary changes to the allocation of instructional supports.
• To generate reports.
• To inform instructional and curricular decisions, applying lessons attained through its network.
• To assist in the disaggregation of data.
• To correct problems as they arise.
• To look deeply at the impact of policies and practices on student learning.
• To identify assessment windows and integrate them into the school site calendar.

STUDENTS
PUC Lakeview Charter High School students will be developed through a growth mindset to value data and assessment. Students will become advocates of their own success as PUC Lakeview Charter High School believes that learning must encourage risk, requires self-examination, and promotes the understanding that humans, while interdependent, must ultimately take responsibility for their own lives. Students will be taught to use self-reflection as a tool to identify strengths and weaknesses and as a tool to manage self-identified behavioral and academic goals. They will be walked through their assessment results in small groups, individually, and as a class so they understand how they are scoring, what they have accomplished, and what they need to work on. As objectives are met, students are guided through understanding what action they took to accomplish a goal, and are then empowered to take responsibility for that action. Likewise, when students are not meeting expectations, they are counseled through how their actions led to that shortfall and how to adjust their efforts accordingly in the future.

COMMUNICATION OF ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT AND PROGRESS TO PARENTS

The parents of each child will be cultivated as critical partners in the education of their child and will be fundamental in supporting the child’s progress. Parents will learn what is expected of them as partners in their children’s education at parent meetings and workshops, which will begin at the onset of each school year and continue throughout the year. Parents will support the school in monitoring students’ progress on an ongoing basis, through ongoing dialogue with the child, regular review of his/her class work and homework. Teachers and administrators will have access to electronic mail to facilitate communication with parents who have e-mail accounts. In addition, PUC Lakeview Charter High School will provide parent workshops and education classes, some of which may address data analysis.

SCHOOL SUCCESS PLAN (SSP)

PUC’s School Success Plan (SSP) is an instructional and operational practice that serves as the foundation for the alignment of all school wide goals. Rooted in PUC’s three commitments, each school uses the SSP to articulate goals pertaining to student academic proficiency, college readiness and student and parent engagement so that our students achieve our mission by graduating from high school prepared for college success. Goals are crafted by the site leadership team using data and feedback from the previous school year. This data comes from a variety of sources including reflections from school wide professional development days, internal assessment scores, state assessment results and parent and student surveys in order to provide a robust depiction of the culture and context of the school.

Once articulated, SSP goals serve as a strategic road map that guides all decisions at the school site. Each goal contains key results that serve as formative assessments during the year so that the school can evaluate if they are on track to achieve each goal. Additionally, each key result has an action plan that describes the steps it will take to meet the outlined goal. From teacher professional development foci to intervention strategies, all school goals, key results and action plans are tied to the language and the outcomes as defined in the School Success Plan and truly serve as the structure for data driven decision making.

Site leaders engage stakeholders in periodically reflecting on data that informs progress towards the SSP goals stipulated by the key results. Leaders analyze student achievement data and update their SSP after each assessment so that they can reflect on areas of strength and areas needing increased focus in order to meet the end of year goals. The SSP creates a snapshot of progress towards goals and also facilitates communication both with teachers and with Superintendents who in turn share this information with the schools Board of Trustees. This periodic and systematic reflection across schools serves two purposes: first, it ensures an accurate snapshot of student achievement to date, and secondly, it ensures a platform for sharing best practices across school sites. Leaders share their quarterly SSP updates with each other in a community of practice so that schools can learn from each other’s areas of strength.

Over the summer, Superintendents meet with site leaders to reflect on the previous year’s data and discern what elements of their school led to success in their SSP and which areas need to be strengthened if any SSP goals were not attained. This data then becomes the baseline for the following year’s SSP, thus creating an endless loop of reflection, goal setting and data collection that fuels student-driven decision making at the school site.

In addition to the SSP the plan involves several levels: 1) maintain complete data so that we can aggregate and disaggregate student achievement data; 2) maintain data on specific students and groups of students identified for increased student achievement; 3) maintain data for teacher evaluations; and 4) collect qualitative data. All data will be shared with parents to ensure academic success through a partnership with parents, teachers and the school.

Because ongoing program assessment is a key to maintaining the integrity of our mission and vision, we utilize both a formative and summative approach for the evaluation and integration of our education capacity.

Each year, the principal and PUC Lakeview Charter High School’s Superintendent will be responsible for preparing and presenting an annual report to the Board of Trustees which will detail the school’s overall progress toward meeting the above listed measurable pupil outcomes. The Partnerships to Uplift Communities Valley Board can take immediate action based on this report to ensure that the school is consistently making progress toward meeting these outcomes. For example, the Board can assign an ad hoc committee made up of parents, teachers, administrators, students and Board Members to evaluate the school’s progress and to make appropriate recommendations.

2.5 Grading and Progress Reporting

GRADING

Student passing grades will consist of A through C-, any grade below a C- will be considered a failing grade of F. This a way to raise the bar and motivate our students to work harder. In addition, this will help boost students GPAs for college and scholarship competitiveness. All high school teachers have adopted the college ready grading scale which consist of both traditional percentage grading for projects, exams, classwork and homework, and standards-based grading for quizzes only. Transfer students who have a “D” on his/her transcript will have their credits honored but will be required to retake the class in order to meet A-G requirements.

PROGRESS REPORTING

Parents shall be informed regarding progress of students through student led and parent/teacher/student conferences, progress reports at least every 2 weeks, graded report cards at the conclusion of each semester, ad hoc meetings and access to their child’s grades via PowerSchool.

MATRICULATION

Students must pass all courses in 9th through 11th grade with a grade of C- or better to matriculate to the next grade. The school and family will work together to determine how students will earn any missing credits or determine if a student should be retained. In addition, regular school attendance is mandatory for matriculation, as per guidelines in the “Family Compact”; students are to have no more than 16 absences over the course of 2 semesters. The school will provide all students every opportunity to meet the matriculation requirements. The students and families are also responsible to take advantage of the opportunities provided in order for the student to matriculate.

GRADUATION

Students must pass all courses in 12th grade with a C- or better to graduate. The school and family will work together to determine how students will earn any missing credits or determine if a student should be retained. A 12th grade student will not participate in graduation ceremonies if he/she receives an F at the end of 12th grade. Students are expected to complete at least 40 hours of community service by the conclusion of 12th grade. The school will ensure that for all students with disabilities accommodations are followed based on each student’s IEP. The student will regularly attend school as per guidelines in the “Family Compact;” with no more than 16 absences over the course of two semesters. The school will provide all students every opportunity to meet the graduation requirements. The students and families are responsible to take advantage of the opportunities provided in order for the student to graduate. The school will convene a Family Success Team for those students who have exceeded 16 absences in order to provide support and assistance, if needed. This includes students who are considered “Homeless.”

Students must meet all graduation requirements, both in terms of overall number of credits (minimum of 220), and in terms of subject-specific requirements. The student will regularly attend school as per guidelines in the “Family Compact;” with no more than 16 absences over the course of two semesters. The school will provide all students every opportunity to meet the graduation requirements. The students and families are responsible to take advantage of the opportunities provided in order for the student to graduate.

PROMOTION/RETENTION APPEALS PROCEDURE

Challenges or objections to retention may be addressed directly with the PUC Lakeview Charter High School’s Principal. Students who are recommended for grade retention have a right to a hearing before the Principal makes the final decision to retain. If the decision is not mutually agreed upon, a parent can appeal the decision to the Superintendent. If the request is not resolved to the satisfaction of the parent with the Superintendent, the parent has the right to take their concern to the Partnerships to Uplift Communities Valley Board of Directors, which will make the final decision. The same procedure is followed in cases where parents think it in the best interest for their child to be retained.

4.1 Governance Structure

The organizational chart below indicates how PUC LCHS became and remains a viable enterprise. The organizational chart below shows how the PUC Valley Board of Trustees, in addition to holding the fiduciary responsibility for the organization and being the entity to whom the Charter will be granted, shall provide external accountability, internal oversight, and leadership. The primary role of the Board is to govern PUC LCHS in a manner that enables the school to achieve its mission as prescribed and permitted by its charter. The Board role is to hire, evaluate, and terminate the Superintendent who oversees the Principal. In addition, the Board has fiduciary responsibility for the school, sets policies, and has ultimate responsibility for the general welfare and overall success of the school in fulfilling its mission and vision.

PUC LCHS Organizational Chart
The officers of this corporation shall be a president, one or more vice presidents, a secretary, and a chief financial officer (treasurer). The corporation may also have, at the discretion of the Board, one or more assistant secretaries, one or more assistant treasurers, and such other officers as may be elected or appointed by the Board. Breakfast.

To ensure that all children have breakfast at school, in order to meet their nutritional needs and enhance their ability to learn:

- PUC Lakeview Charter High School will operate the School Breakfast Program, and will utilize methods to serve school breakfasts that encourage participation, including serving breakfast in the classroom, "grab-and-go" breakfast, or Second Chance Breakfast.

Fundraising Activities

To support children's health and school nutrition-education efforts, school fundraising activities will not involve food or will use only foods that meet the above nutrition standards for foods and beverages sold individually.

Snacks.

Snacks served during the school day or in after-school care or enrichment programs will make a positive contribution to children's diets and health, with an emphasis on serving fruits and vegetables as the primary snacks and water as the primary beverage. The school will assess if and when to offer snacks based on timing of school meals, children's nutritional needs, children's ages, and other considerations. PUC Lakeview Charter High School will disseminate the guidelines for compliant snacks.

Rewards

Integrating Physical Activity into the Classroom Setting.

For students to receive the nationally recommended amount of daily physical activity (i.e., at least 60 minutes per day) and for students to fully embrace regular physical activity as a personal behavior, students need opportunities for physical activity beyond physical education class. Toward that end:

- classroom health education will complement physical education by reinforcing the knowledge and self-management skills needed to maintain a physically-active lifestyle and to reduce time spent on sedentary activities, such as watching television;
- opportunities for physical activity will be incorporated into other subject lessons;

The written plan lists specific dates and locations of recruitment activities that Charter School will undertake in order to achieve the District’s Racial and Ethnic Balance goal. Charter School shall monitor the implementation and outcomes of the initial plan, and modify it as necessary throughout the term of the Charter to achieve the District’s goal. Upon request, Charter School shall provide the District with a copy of its current written plan.

The District may receive the Targeted Instructional Improvement Block Grant (TIIBG) for its Court-ordered Integration Program. The District retains sole discretion over the allocation of TIIBG funding, where available, and cannot guarantee the availability of this funding.

7.1 Annual Outreach Efforts

In pursuit of our mission and our commitment to serve all students, admissions outreach is designed to attract a diverse student population. Parents should have options to best meet the needs of their children, thus it is our responsibility to make families aware of the educational options for their children. PUC LCHS is committed to serving all students, including those more likely to “slip through the cracks” for lack of adequate support at home or school. We, therefore, will recruit an ethnically and academically diverse population from the area immediately surrounding the school site which includes: San Fernando, Lake View Terrace, Sylmar, and Pacoima. We will also seek recommendations from teachers and counselors of students who might benefit from a developmentally appropriate, rigorous, challenging, activity-based, college preparatory curriculum. Additionally, local non-profit organizations who serve homeless children, children in the foster-care system, and other children whose circumstances put them at risk for school failure will be encouraged to refer families to the charter school via flyers and phone conversations with local community-based organizations such as MEND and Northeast Health Services by the Superintendent and recruitment team.
It is the objective of PUC LCHS to notify parents and students in the community through the following methods:

- In November, letters are sent to existing PUC families. The letter will include enrollment period and lottery information (location, date, time).
- In December, provide information handouts to businesses frequented by local community members. The flyers will include enrollment period and lottery information (location, date, time).
- In December, community outreach efforts including communication with local council members’ field offices, local public libraries, park and recreation centers, community based organizations, and churches and synagogues.
- Flyers in Spanish and English announcing the enrollment period will be distributed to the local elementary schools, six weeks prior to the closing of the enrollment period and the implementation of the public random lottery (if needed). The flyers will include enrollment period and lottery information (location, date, time). The following measures will be taken to minimize any disruption to LAUSD schools:
  - In December, PUC LCHS principal will contact principals of the local middle schools to make arrangements to drop off flyers during normal office hours.
  - In December, PUC LCHS will provide copies of the flyers to each school.
- Starting in December, PUC LCHS will participate in presentations to local middle schools. At the presentations, flyers will be provided which will include enrollment period and lottery information (location, date, time). The following measures will be taken to minimize any disruption to LAUSD schools:
  - Starting in December, PUC LCHS principal will contact principals of the local middle schools to coordinate meeting dates/times and align them with regularly scheduled parent meetings. This will minimize the necessity to have the school provide additional personnel that would need to be present at these meetings.
  - Meeting dates and times will not be made at inconvenient dates and times.
- PUC LCHS will utilize SchoolMint, a cloud-based enrollment management software for PreK-12 school systems.
- All outreach efforts will be completed in both English and Spanish.

7.2 Racial and Ethnic Balance

In that these efforts will be comprehensive and reach a large number of individuals representing as diverse a population as exists in the Northeast San Fernando Valley area, we believe the result will be a racial and ethnic balance that is reflective of the district.

PUC LCHS will maintain an accurate accounting of ethnic and racial balance of students enrolled in the school. It will also keep on file, documentation of the efforts the school has made to achieve racial and ethnic balance.

Charter School may request, at the time of, and as part of, conducting its lottery process, the provision of information necessary to apply specific admissions preferences set forth in this Charter.

Parents and students admitted to the school are requested to attend an orientation session to review the policies and expectations of the school, but their attendance is not required and will not impact their student’s admission.

8.2 Outreach and Recruitment

The following efforts will be employed by PUC LCHS in order to recruit low-achieving, economically disadvantaged students and students with disabilities:

- Students will be recruited from the Northeast San Fernando Valley area where the public schools are characterized by low achievement and a predominantly Title 1 population.
- Flyers in English and Spanish announcing the enrollment period will be distributed to the local schools under the guidance of the school administration in order to avoid disruption, at least six weeks prior to the closing of the enrollment period and the implementation of the public random lottery (if needed). - All students will be encouraged to apply, if interested.
- There will be no special qualifications required for admission to PUC LCHS.
8.3 Admission Preferences

The school will give admissions priority to the following students in the following order so as to follow charter law and meet the needs of the community:

1. Students who reside in the Los Angeles Unified School District (to include LAUSD traveling students, if space is available)
   1a. Siblings of students currently enrolled in PUC LCHS, or wards of their parents. A ward is a child whom the parent of a current student has custody. The sibling priority is only given to applicants whose sibling(s) will attend the school in the following school year.
   1b. Children of current employees and founding parents of PUC LCHS, not to exceed 10% of the school population. Note: the 10% total includes any and all students who fall under this category and the category listed under section 2b, below. A “founding parent” is an individual who has engaged in activities that have supported the opening of the school. A founding parent may be a parent who has a child who will enter the school in the founding year, in later years, or becomes a parent of a school aged child. These people are considered founding parents and will have priority for enrollment in the school any subsequent year after the school has been opened.
   1c. Pupils who reside in the Northeast San Fernando Valley
   1d. All other students who reside in the Los Angeles Unified School District

2. Students who reside outside of the Los Angeles Unified School District.
   2a. Siblings of students currently enrolled in PUC LCHS, or wards of their parents. A ward is a child whom the parent of a current student has custody. The sibling priority is only given to applicants whose sibling(s) will attend the school in the following school year.
   2b. Children of current employees and founding parents of PUC LCHS, not to exceed 10% of the school population. Note: the 10% total includes any and all students who fall under this category and the category listed under section 1b, above. A “founding parent” is an individual who has engaged in activities that have supported the opening of the school. A founding parent may be a parent who has a child who will enter the school in the founding year, in later years, or becomes a parent of a school aged child. These people are considered founding parents and will have priority for enrollment in the school any subsequent year after the school has been opened.
   2c. All other students who reside outside of the Los Angeles Unified School District

8.4 Implementation of a Public Random Drawing

As per Education Code 47605(d)(2)(B), if the number of applicants exceeds enrollment capacity at the time of the application deadline, students will be admitted to the school through a public random drawing (respecting the admissions priorities stated above). PUC LCHS uses SchoolMint, an online enrollment platform, to manage applications, to run the school’s lottery, and to manage waitlists.
Following the open enrollment period each year, the school will check the application count in SchoolMint to determine whether any grade level has received more applications than availability. In the event that this happens, the school will hold a public random drawing, which will be advertised through the online enrollment request and in direct messaging to parents through the SchoolMint platform. Additionally, the lottery date will be included on all flyers. Current 9th, 10th, and 11th grade students of PUC LCHS are guaranteed enrollment in the following school year and therefore will be exempted from the lottery.

Parents and students will be informed of the rules of the public random drawing at the time they submit an electronic enrollment request via SchoolMint for admission into the school. Rules of the public random drawing are included as a link on the enrollment request and those completing an enrollment request will be able to view the completed form online through their SchoolMint account at any time. The rules are also available for all staff and other interested parties per request, at the school site and at all times on the school’s website.

The enrollment period will be advertised in the Northeast San Fernando Valley area during the months of January and February utilizing the methods listed above. The enrollment period will take place from January through February, during which time online enrollment requests will be available online at http://pucschools.schoolmint.net. Parents may come in to the school’s office to complete an online enrollment request using a laptop that the school will provide. The lottery will take place, as needed, on the fourth Thursday in February beginning at 4:00 pm and will be held in a public space at PUC LCHS.

Application to PUC LCHS should be an informed, carefully considered decision. As part of the application process, students and parents or guardians are requested to attend an information session to learn more about the educational program of the school. The content of materials in the admissions process will not be used as a factor of admission, but this helps assure that parents and students are seriously interested in attending PUC LCHS.

PUC LCHS will use the SchoolMint platform to run the lottery. SchoolMint uses an industry standard randomizer to run PUC LCHS’s lottery.

A student whose enrollment request is drawn will be listed by the number chosen and shall be considered an eligible student for enrollment. The parents will be notified of acceptance through the lottery through an email and/or SMS message from SchoolMint from a school designee and in a follow up call from PUC LCHS’s office staff.

The lottery will be observed by at minimum one administrator (Superintendent, Principal, Assistant Principal, or Dean) and two other school staff members consisting of office personnel, teachers or an additional administrator.

After all grade levels have reached capacity, a waitlist will be established based on the order of the enrollment requests picked during the lottery. Within one week of the lottery, a public posting on the school’s parent information bulletin board will list the names in order of those students who secured a space and parents will be notified of their status on the waitlist. When spaces become available, the school will make offers to students on the waitlist for each respective grade level.
The offer notification will be sent by email and/or SMS message and parents will need to respond to the offer by clicking “Accept” or “Deny” upon login to SchoolMint via the website or SchoolMint app.

Waitlists will be maintained for the current enrollment year only. It will be kept until the last day of the school year. Waitlists will not carry over to the following school year and those applicants on the waitlist must re-apply the following year.

Any enrollment requests received after the lottery window deadline shall be date and time stamped and either (a) placed on the end of the waitlist for the applicable grade in the order they are received; or (b) if applying for enrollment in grade that is not yet at capacity the student will be offered a seat; or (c) if applying for a grade that is at capacity but which does not yet have a waitlist will be placed in the first position on a waitlist for that grade.

Once placed on a waitlist, a student will remain on the list until one of the following occurs:

- The student is accepted into the charter school as space becomes available and enrolls in the charter school.
- The parent/guardian requests that the student be removed from the waitlist.
- The end of the current school year.
- The student enrolls at another school in the PUC network

When a space becomes available in a grade level, the slot will be offered to the first name on the waitlist for that grade level if a waitlist exists for that grade level. An email and/or SMS notification will be sent to the applicants via SchoolMint.

It is the parents’ or guardians’ responsibility to update their contact information continuously in SchoolMint through their accounts or with the charter school. The charter school shall not be responsible for failure to contact a waitlisted parent due to expired contact information.

Once notified of an available slot, a parent/guardian will have the following options:

- Accept the available slot within 3 business days of the offer. After the school year begins, parents will have to accept the available slot within 2 business days of the offer.
- Decline the available slot and be removed from the waitlist.
- If the school does not receive a response within the 3 business days (or 2 days, once the school year begins), the school will deem the parent to have declined the available slot and rescind the offer.

If the slot is accepted, an email and/or SMS notification will go out to parents to provide information and instructions for the online enrollment packet. The parent/guardian will have four weeks to complete the enrollment packet from the time they receive notification about the enrollment packet.

If the slot is not accepted or a slot is forfeited due to late enrollment materials, the slot will be offered to the next name on the list and the above procedure will continue until either the slot is filled or the waitlist is exhausted. Parents who have accepted a “slot” offer but who have forfeited their “slot” due to late or missing registration materials will have the opportunity to re-apply to the school to be placed at the end of the waitlist.

In the event a situation arises that is not covered by this procedure, the board of the charter school will determine the fairest method for resolution of the issue.

PUC LCHS will retain the following documentation of the lottery, admission, and enrollment process and procedures.

- Agenda(s) from information sessions.
- Completed enrollment requests remain in SchoolMint.
- List of students chosen in the lottery will be documented and the lottery results will be stored in SchoolMint.
- Completed enrollment packets are stored digitally in SchoolMint and on the PUC Intranet.
- Agenda(s) from admission/orientation meeting(s) will be on file in the office.
- Sign-in sheets from admission/orientation meeting(s) will be on file in the office.

PUC Lakeview Charter High School and Partnerships to Uplift Communities Valley Board shall promptly respond to all inquiries and requests for documents from LAUSD and shall consult with LAUSD regarding any inquiries. Furthermore, PUC Lakeview Charter High School and Partnerships to Uplift Communities Valley Board will provide any financial information requested by LAUSD during any business day upon request or within 24 hours. In addition, all legally required financial reports will be submitted to LAUSD, in the format required by LAUSD within the time lines specified by LAUSD each year.
ELEMENT 10 – STUDENT EXPULSIONS

GENERAL PROVISIONS

Charter School shall provide due process for all students, including adequate and timely notice to parents/guardians and students of the grounds for all suspension and expulsion recommendations and decisions and their due process rights regarding suspension and expulsion, including rights of appeal.

Charter School shall ensure that its policies and procedures regarding suspension and expulsion will be periodically reviewed, and modified as necessary, in order to conform to changes in state law.

Charter School shall ensure that its staff is knowledgeable about and complies with the District’s Discipline Foundation Policy and/or current equivalent policy, as required by the Modified Consent Decree. Charter School shall comply with the terms of the School Discipline Policy and School Climate Bill of Rights resolution adopted by the LAUSD Board of Education on May 6, 2013.

Charter School shall be responsible for the appropriate interim placement of students during and pending the completion of Charter School’s student expulsion process and shall facilitate the post-expulsion placement of expelled students.

Charter School shall document and implement the alternatives to suspension and expulsion that Charter School utilizes in response to attendance-related concerns, e.g. truancy or excessive tardiness.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Charter School shall establish and implement policies and procedures to ensure full compliance with federal and state laws and regulations regarding the discipline of students with disabilities. If a student is recommended for expulsion and the student receives or is eligible for special education, pending the completion of the expulsion process, Charter School shall identify and provide special education programs and services at an appropriate interim educational placement determined in coordination with the LAUSD Division of Special Education.
In the case of a student who has an Individualized Education Program ("IEP"), or a student who has a Section 504 Plan, Charter School shall ensure that it follows correct disciplinary procedures to comply with the mandates of state and federal laws, including IDEA and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Plan of 1973. As set forth in the MOU regarding special education between the District and Charter School, an IEP team will meet to conduct a manifestation determination and to discuss alternative placement utilizing the District’s Special Education Policies and Procedures Manual. Prior to recommending expulsion for a student with a Section 504 Plan, Charter School’s administrator will convene a Link Determination meeting to ask the following two questions:

A. Was the misconduct caused by, or directly and substantially related to the student’s disability?
B. Was the misconduct a direct result of the Charter School’s failure to implement Section 504?

NOTIFICATION OF THE DISTRICT

Upon expelling any student, Charter School shall notify the Charter Schools Division by submitting an expulsion packet to the CSD immediately or as soon as practicable, which shall contain:

- Completed “Notification of Charter School Expulsion” [form available from the CSD website or office], including attachments as required on the form
- Documentation of the expulsion proceeding, including statement of specific facts supporting the expulsion and documentation that Charter School’s policies and procedures were followed
- Copy of parental notice of expulsion hearing
- Copy of expulsion notice provided to parent stating reason for expulsion, term of expulsion, rehabilitation plan, reinstatement notice with eligibility date and instructions for providing proof of student’s compliance for reinstatement, appeal process, and options for enrollment
- If the student is eligible for Special Education, documentation related to expulsion in compliance with IDEA and the MCD, including the Expulsion Analysis page of the pre-expulsion IEP
- If the student is eligible for Section 504 accommodations, documentation that Charter School conducted a Link Determination meeting to address two questions:
  A. Was the misconduct caused by, or directly and substantially related to the student’s disability?
  B. Was the misconduct a direct result of Charter School’s failure to implement Section 504 Plan?

Notwithstanding and apart from the documentation sent to the Charter Schools Division as indicated above, if the student is a resident of a school district other than LAUSD, Charter School must notify the superintendent of the student’s district of residence within 30 days of the expulsion. Additionally, upon request of the receiving school district, Charter School shall forward student... records no later than 10 school days from the date of the request as stated in Education Code section 49068 (a) and (b).

OUTCOME DATA

Charter School shall gather and maintain all data related to placement, tracking, and monitoring of student suspensions, expulsions, and reinstatements, and make such outcome data readily available to the District upon request.

REHABILITATION PLANS

Pupils who are expelled from Charter School shall be given a rehabilitation plan upon expulsion as developed by Charter School’s governing board at the time of the expulsion order, which may include, but is not limited to, periodic review as well as assessment at the time of review for readmission. Terms of expulsion should be reasonable and fair with the weight of the expelling offense taken into consideration when determining the length of expulsion. Therefore, the rehabilitation plan should include a date not later than one (1) year from the date of expulsion when the pupil may apply to Charter School for readmission. Charter School shall inform parents in writing of its processes for reinstatement and applying for expungement of the expulsion record.

READMISSION

Charter School’s governing board shall adopt rules establishing a procedure for the filing and processing of requests for readmission and the process for the required review of all expelled pupils for readmission. Upon completion of the readmission process, Charter School’s governing board shall readmit the pupil, unless Charter School’s governing board makes a finding that the pupil has not met the conditions of the rehabilitation plan or continues to pose a danger to campus safety. A description of the procedure shall be made available to the pupil and the pupil’s parent or guardian at the time the expulsion order is entered and the decision of the governing board, including any related findings, must be provided to the pupil and the pupil’s parent/guardian within a reasonable time.

REINSTATEMENT

Charter School’s governing board shall adopt rules establishing a procedure for processing reinstatements, including the review of documents regarding the rehabilitation plan. Charter School is responsible for reinstating the student upon the conclusion of the expulsion period in a timely manner.

GUN-FREE SCHOOLS ACT

Charter School shall comply with the federal Gun-Free Schools Act.
Per changes to EC 47605 by AB 1360 and in accordance with E.C. 47605(J), the following are procedures by which pupils can be suspended or expelled from the charter school for disciplinary reasons or otherwise involuntarily removed from the charter school for any reason. These procedures, at a minimum, shall include an explanation of how the charter school will comply with federal and state constitutional procedural and substantive due process requirements that is consistent with all of the following:

(i) For suspensions of fewer than 10 days, provide oral or written notice of the charges against the pupil and, if the pupil denies the charges, an explanation of the evidence that supports the charges and an opportunity for the pupil to present his or her side of the story.

(ii) For suspensions of 10 days or more and all other expulsions for disciplinary reasons, both of the following:

(I) Provide timely, written notice of the charges against the pupil and an explanation of the pupil’s basic rights.

(II) Provide a hearing adjudicated by a neutral officer within a reasonable number of days at which the pupil has a fair opportunity to present testimony, evidence, and witnesses and confront and cross-examine adverse witnesses, and at which the pupil has the right to bring legal counsel or an advocate.

(iii) Contain a clear statement that no pupil shall be involuntarily removed by the charter school for any reason unless the parent or guardian of the pupil has been provided written notice of intent to remove the pupil no less than five schooldays before the effective date of the action. The written notice shall be in the native language of the pupil or the pupil’s parent or guardian or, if the pupil is a foster child or youth or a homeless child or youth, the pupil’s educational rights holder, and shall inform him or her of the right to initiate the procedures specified in clause (ii) before the effective date of the action. If the pupil’s parent, guardian, or educational rights holder initiates the procedures specified in clause (ii), the pupil shall remain enrolled and shall not be removed until the charter school issues a final decision. For purposes of this clause, “involuntarily removed” includes disenrolled, dismissed, transferred, or terminated, but does not include suspensions specified in clauses (i) and (ii).

10.1 Discipline Foundation Policy

Traditionally, positive behaviors (e.g., compliance with classroom rules and expectations, interest and engagement in class activities, and mastery of subject matter) have been associated with positive academic outcomes (Birch & Ladd, 1997; Feshbach & Feshbach, 1987; Wentzel, 1993), while negative behaviors (e.g., inattention, distractibility, and withdrawn behaviors) have been associated with negative academic outcomes (Akey, 2006; Kane, 2004). A key design that drives all PUC schools is our positive school culture. PUC Lakeview Charter High School will strategically cultivate a positive school environment that is characterized by mutual respect. Students are introduced to the school’s core values on opening day. Through consistent modeling and regular practice, the entire school community (students, teachers, administration, families, and community members) adopts them as their own.

At PUC Lakeview Charter High School, we believe “high, clear, and consistent expectations support students’ self-confidence, their belief that their efforts will lead to success and their engagement in school” (Eccles et al. (1983); Gambone, Klem, Summers, and Akey (2004); Wigfield and Harold (1992)). A substantial body of evidence demonstrates that schools in which students achieve high levels of performance tend to set high expectations and standards (Baker, Terry, Bridger, and Winsor (1997); Evans (1997); Lambert and McCombs (1998); Lee, Bryk, and Smith (1993); Lee and Smith (1999); Phillips (1997). PUC Lakeview Charter High School takes a positive proactive school-wide approach to behavior management in order to ensure a positive school culture. The school proactively shares with students and families the behavior expectations that all students will meet. We keep these behavior expectations simple: for example, the 4 Ps: Prompt, Polite, Productive, and Prepared. These expectations are broad and apply to most behavioral situations. In addition, each grade level, with approval from the principal, defines important routines that students will follow. These routines are shared with students and families, are proactively taught, and are consistently reinforced in all classrooms.

Further, we recognize that each student is an individual. Therefore, correction of student misconduct and replacement behavior is handled on an individual basis. To best meet the individual needs of our students, PUC Lakeview Charter High School takes a targeted approach to behavior management and discipline.

PUC Lakeview Charter High School’s foundational beliefs and practices align with the District’s Discipline Foundation Policy, requiring every school in the District to adopt and implement a school-wide positive behavior support discipline plan. Under the new policy, “all school level plans will include: teaching school rules and social emotional skills; reinforcing appropriate student behavior; using effective classroom management and positive behavior support strategies by providing early intervention for misconduct and appropriate use of consequences.” PUC Lakeview Charter High School aligns its discipline plan with the “Guiding Principles for the School Community” identified by LAUSD—which require all students and school staff to model community norms, including treating others with respect, appreciating differences, finding peaceful solutions, showing empathy and compassion and defending the rights of others.

Alternatives to Suspension and Expulsion

Except for the Suspension from Class procedure described below, PUC Lakeview Charter High School does not give students in-school suspensions. Instead, PUC Lakeview Charter High School provides Alternative Placement to students as an alternative to out-of-school suspensions. When a student is assigned Alternative Placement, that student may be assigned by the principal or assistant principal or designee to the school office or other alternative location. The parent/guardian of the student will be notified by telephone or in-person of the student’s location, hours, and length of the placement. In this alternative location, the student will be supervised by certificated staff and provided instruction. Instruction will be provided by the certificated staff member who will provide the school work from each of the student’s classes, explain the material, and answer the student’s questions. Students in Alternative Placement should have access to appropriate counseling services. Students with disabilities shall be provided with supports and services as described in their IEP. Alternative Placement will not exceed fifteen (15) school days per incident.
Alternative to suspension and expulsion interventions may include the following:

| Restitution | Financial or “in kind” (by actions) restitution for behavior. This permits the student to restore or improve the school environment, fix, repair, replace, or clean up the “problem.” For example:
  - Cleaning or painting over graffiti
  - Paying to replace broken items (due to student behavior)
  - Community service cleaning of school property (disturbed due to student behavior) |
| Restorative Practices | The aim of restorative practices is to develop community and to manage conflict and tensions by repairing harm and building relationships. Trained educators facilitate students’ understanding of the impact of their behavior and the harm done to others. Students work together to “make it right.” Participants are given a turn to express thoughts and feelings while others listen respectfully. For example:
  - Peer led Restorative Justice |
The school will implement the following professional development plan for teaching, communicating and modeling to the school community the school’s discipline policy to ensure school practices are consistent:

- Administrators will communicate the school’s discipline policy at the beginning of the school year with school staff, and
- Administrators will periodically teach and model the school practices to staff through professional development meetings, which are conducted every Tuesday, and
- PUC-wide professional development sessions will be provided to include information and training regarding social-emotional learning.

Whenever possible, restorative justice principles will be utilized. In the face of school violations and conflict, restorative justice (RJ) is a philosophy and an approach that views violations and conflict principally as harm done to people and relationships. It strives to provide support and safe opportunities for the voluntary participation and communication between those affected (victims, offenders, and community) to encourage accountability, reparation, and a movement towards understanding, feelings of satisfaction, healing, safety and a sense of closure. RJ is a non-adversarial, non-retributive approach to justice that emphasizes healing in victims, meaningful accountability of offenders, and the involvement of citizens in creating healthier, safer communities.

While there is no single universal definition for RJ, common elements are shared between those that exist. These common elements, often referred to as RJ values and principles, are fundamental to ensuring that RJ values and principles remain consistent with the founding philosophy of this approach. These common elements, or values, are fundamental to ensuring that restorative justice approaches remain consistent with the philosophy underpinning it. The following is a list of common elements found among many restorative justice writings:

- Harmful Behavior: At the core of restorative justice is an appreciation of the full effects of harmful behavior. Restorative justice views violations primarily as damage to individuals, their property, their relationships and their communities. As such, any appropriate response requires a principal focus on the harm caused by the violation.

- Inclusion: Restorative justice is driven by an engagement of all people affected by the violation, who are most often identified as the victim, offender, their individual support people (family, friends, others) and the community. This requires elevating the roles of those traditionally excluded from the process, particularly the victim and the community. Inclusion involves the important elements of giving voice, accessibility, ownership of the process and support.

- Accountability: Restorative justice is about creating processes that allow offenders to take responsibility for the harms created by their actions, directly to those harmed. As well, it is an opportunity for community to see its role in contributing to the violation. This requires, to the degree possible, an ability to hear all points of view and understand the "truth" of what occurred. In all cases, accountability involves not only accepting responsibility for the violation, but also accepting responsibility for addressing the harms and needs arising from it. For many, accountability also represents the opportunity to denounce the violation and reinforce social rules and laws.

- Safety: A complicated element, safety has two primary folds. First, safety is identified as the need to restore a sense of security to those impacted by the violation. Second, safety refers to the need to create processes for restorative justice that are safe (physically, emotionally, psychologically) for those participating. This often involves creating support structures within and around the restorative intervention. In cases of power imbalances among the participants, these dynamics can be powerfully destabilizing to the creation of a safe environment for restorative justice. Safety also involves ensuring that the rights of participants are respected.

- Transformation: Another complicated element, transformation implies restorative justice's forward looking aspects. The potential outcomes of restorative justice interventions typically include healing, personal growth, reparation of harms, restoration of positive relationships, and creation/re-creation of enhanced personal and communal situations. These goals apply equally to all parties involved but are not always possible within the scope of all circumstances. While these long-term goals are essential, restorative justice interventions foster movement towards these goals.

- Voluntary: Many authors identify the need for choices among the participants - these choices range from choices about participation, to process design, to limitations, to timeframes. As restorative justice is designed to fully engage the range of needed participants, the degree to which the processes reflect their needs, wants and desires becomes essential.

- Humanistic: This refers to a wide subset of values that describe the nature of interactions between those involved. These include respect, compassion, dignity, honesty, openness, and growth. Fairness and equality/equity are essential. Multicultural issues are important in ensuring the processes are balanced for all those involved.

- Interaction: Communication, either direct or indirect, between those impacted by the violation is typically required. This communication is most often facilitated and supported and can take many formats from face-to-face meetings, correspondence and video exchanges, shuttle communication, online discussions and multi-party representation.

- Holistic: These processes take into consideration and value the full breadth of each individual participant as well as the larger context in which they function. This includes appreciation of the physical, psychological, mental, emotional, spiritual and social context surrounding each person as well as the environment. It is important to note that the spiritual component is important for many participants and a restorative experience connects deeply to their belief systems.

Multi-Tiered Support System (MTSS)
The PUC Lakeview Charter High School’s MTSS is to implement a system where multiple levels of behavior supports are provided based on student need. The goal of the school’s MTSS, through a team approach, is to provide a coordinated system of support that facilitates the success of all students and ensures that students receive the prevention and exact intervention services that promote academic success.

Response to Intervention (RtI) at PUC Lakeview Charter High School is based on a continuum of behavior supports that reflect the need for students to have fluid access to instruction of varying intensity levels. Three tiers describe the level and intensity of the instruction/interventions provided across the continuum. These tiers are not used to describe categories of students or specific instructional programs.

Tier 1: Core Universal Instruction and Supports – General behavior systems and support designed and differentiated for all students in all settings.

Tier 2: Targeted Supplemental Interventions and Supports – Focused, targeted instruction/intervention in addition and aligned with the core behavior system and supports.

Tier 3: Intensive Individualized Interventions and Supports – The most intense (increased time, narrowed focus, reduce group size, etc.) instruction and intervention based on individual student need in addition to and aligned with the core behavior systems and supports.

Throughout the continuum of support and intervention, problem solving is used to match supports to the student’s behavioral/social emotional need. The four parts of the on-going problem-solving cycle are:

- Define the Need: determine the difference between what is expected and what is occurring.
  - What specifically do we want students to know and be able to do when compared to what they do know and are able to do?
  - What exactly is the need?

- Analyze the Need: use data and other relevant information to determine how to respond.
  - Why is/are the desired goal(s) not being met?
  - What are the barriers to the student(s) doing and knowing what is expected?

- Develop and Implement a Plan: use results of analysis to establish performance goals and develop a plan to achieve those goals.
  - What are we going to do?

- Measure Response to Instruction/Intervention: use data gathered from progress monitoring to evaluate the effectiveness of the instruction/intervention plan based on the student/group of students’ response to intervention.
  - Is it working?
  - If it is not working, how will the instruction/intervention plan be adjusted to better support student progress?

Corporal punishment shall not be used as a disciplinary measure against any pupil.

10.2 General Discipline Policies

PUC Lakeview Charter High School will implement a discipline policy that will be printed in the school’s Student/Parent Handbook. The discipline policy will be communicated to all stakeholders- administrators, students, parents/guardians, and teachers- through distribution of the Student/Parent Handbook. The Student/Parent Handbook will be developed prior to the onset of the opening school year. The Student/Parent Handbook design process will not be discriminatory, arbitrary or capricious. The process will follow general principles of due process. Students will sign agreements related to their understanding of and responsibility to the standards set forth in the discipline policy within the Student/Parent Handbook. Students who do not live up to their responsibilities and who violate the school rules should expect some consequences for their behavior. PUC Lakeview Charter High School’s Student/Parent Handbook will be consistent with the provisions in Element 10 of the charter.

Parents will be asked to participate in the Family Support Team (PUC’s equivalent of the Student Success Team) process if a student’s behavior is not improving. Members of the Family Support Team typically include the principal or principal designee, Special Education teacher (Inclusion Specialist), at least one of the student’s teachers, one or both of the student’s parents (or guardian) and the student. Appropriate modifications and intervention strategies will be developed by the Family Support Team and the site principal. Students who habitually fail to comply with these policies and/or who present an immediate threat to health and safety may also be suspended. At all times students will be afforded due process. When the student's conduct presents an immediate threat to the health or safety of others, that student may be removed from the campus but at all times will be afforded due process and continued access to instruction.

School staff shall aim to enforce disciplinary rules and procedures fairly and consistently amongst all pupils. The procedures to be followed should a pupil violate the comprehensive policies for pupil conduct and discipline will also be distributed as part of the school’s Student/Parent Handbook. The discipline policy will be progressive in nature except when a student violation is severe.

When reasonable to do so, student discipline should include positive behavioral interventions.

Notification of Policies

The site principal or designee shall ensure that pupils and their parents/guardians are provided with the PUC Lakeview Charter High School’s Student/Parent Handbook at the time of enrollment. The parents and students will be informed that the handbook includes policies and procedures for pupil conduct and discipline will also be distributed as part of the school’s Student/Parent Handbook. The PUC Lakeview Charter High School’s Student/Parent Handbook will be provided again every school year and shall also be available upon request in the main office of the school. The PUC Lakeview Charter High School’s Student/Parent Handbook utilizes sections from the charter petition, including parts of Element 10, to communicate policies and procedures.

10.3 Grounds for Suspension and Expulsion

We believe that it is essential to establish and maintain a positive culture that supports learning and achievement. PUC Lakeview Charter High School takes a positive proactive school-wide approach to behavior management in order to ensure a positive school culture. When a student’s actions violate the school’s values there are consequences aligned to the offense. The matrix below is a tool designed to help administrators decide when expulsion of a student is deemed mandatory, expected, or at the administrator’s discretion.

At the time of enrollment in PUC Lakeview Charter High School, parents and students will be provided with a Student/Parent Handbook that has a clearly delineated list of violations for which students may be suspended or expelled. A student may be suspended or expelled for any of the acts enumerated in this section and related to school activity or school attendance that occur at any time, including, but not limited to, any of the following, unless otherwise specified in the table below:

a. While on school grounds.
b. While going to or coming from school.
c. During the lunch period whether on or off the campus.
d. During, or while going to or coming from, a school-sponsored activity.
e. Students who present an immediate threat to the health and safety of others may also be suspended or expelled.

10.4 Suspension and Expulsion Procedures

Authority to Suspend

The Principal, Assistant Principal, or Dean in consultation with the Superintendent has the authority to suspend from school following the procedures listed below.

Suspension Procedures

Suspension from Class: A teacher-generated suspension from class is for the day of the act and the following meeting of the class. The teacher shall immediately report the suspension to the Principal, who will then report the suspension to the Superintendent. The pupil will be sent to the principal or an administrative designee for appropriate action, which may include suspension from school or other disciplinary measures such as “Alternatives to Suspension and Expulsion” listed above.
Suspensions from school shall be initiated according to the following procedures:

1. A fair and thorough process for investigating incidents and collecting evidence
   a. Interview relevant witnesses to the incident
   b. Photograph physical evidence
   c. Conduct searches of individuals when the reasonable suspicion standard is met

2. Informal Conference
   a. Suspension shall be preceded, if possible, by an informal conference conducted by the Principal or designee with the pupil and his or her parent and, whenever practicable, the teacher, supervisor, or school employee who referred the pupil to the Principal or designee
   b. The conference may be omitted if the Principal determines that an emergency situation exists. An “emergency situation” involves a clear and present danger to the lives, safety, or health of pupils or school personnel. If a pupil is suspended without this conference, both the parent/guardian and pupil shall be notified of the pupil’s right to return to school for the purpose of the conference
   c. At the conference, the pupil shall be informed of the reason for the disciplinary action and the evidence against him/her and shall be given the opportunity to present his/her version and evidence in his/her defense
   d. This conference shall be held within two school days of the incident, unless the pupil waives this right or is physically unable to attend for any reason, including, but not limited to incarceration or hospitalization
   e. No penalties may be imposed on a pupil for failure of the pupil’s parent or guardian to attend a conference with school officials

Suspension Notification

At the time of suspension, the PUC principal/assistant principal/designee, or office manager, as directed by the administrator, shall make a reasonable effort to contact the parent/guardian by telephone, text, email, or in person. Whenever a pupil is suspended, the parent/guardian shall be notified by the principal in writing of the suspension in the native language of the student, parent/guardian, and or/educational rights holder if the student is a foster or homeless youth. This notice shall state the specific offenses committed by the pupil. In addition, the notice will also state the date and time when the pupil shall return to school and the right to appeal the suspension. If school officials wish to ask the parent/guardian to confer regarding matters pertinent to the suspension, the notice may request that the parent/guardian respond in writing, email or by phone to such requests without delay to the principal. In addition, the notice will include directions for appealing a suspension.

Suspension Time Limits

- Suspensions shall not exceed five (5) consecutive school days per suspension, unless suspension is extended by the principal pending an expulsion hearing for a maximum of 20 school days for non-IEP students and a maximum of 10 school days for IEP students.
A student may not be suspended for more than 20 days in a school year. A student with an IEP may not be suspended for more than 10 days in a school year.

- When students are suspended, teachers will provide homework for them that will ensure that their education continues while they are absent from school. The homework will be collected by the school’s main office. The parent or guardian will be asked to pick up the homework from the main office each day after school ends. At the same time, the parent or guardian will return any finished work product from the suspended student. In addition, unless the student is suspended pending an expulsion hearing, teachers will be available to meet with the suspended student at the school site to review homework and administer tests, as needed.

Suspension Appeal Process

During or immediately after the informal suspension conference, information is provided in writing and verbally to the parent or guardian and student, in a language they understand, about their right to appeal a suspension, along with information about the appeal process and a Suspension Appeal Form:

1. To initiate an appeal, the student or parent or guardian must contact a Deputy Superintendent in writing from the day of suspension to five (5) school days following the last day of the student’s suspension and fill out a Suspension Appeal Form. The student or parent or guardian may write down any and all reasons why they believe the suspension should be overturned, and may attach any evidence to the form.

2. A PUC Deputy Superintendent or designee who was not involved in the initial suspension will examine the submitted Suspension Appeal Form along with any submitted evidence and may gather information either in-person or via telephone or via email from the principal, parent or guardian, and student to hear the family’s reasons for the appeal and to determine whether or not the principal suspended the student properly and followed all applicable procedures. The Superintendent or designee will consider the reasons the family feels the suspension was incorrect or inappropriate, and may contact the family and/or school staff to clarify information. There will be no hearing.

3. Within five (5) school days of receipt of the Suspension Appeal Form, based on the information submitted or requested, the Superintendent or designee may make one of the following decisions regarding the suspension:

   a. Uphold the suspension
   b. Uphold the suspension but clear the student's record of the suspension at the end of the semester, if the student has no additional discipline problems at the school.
   c. Determine that the suspension was not within the school’s guidelines, overturn the suspension, and order that all records and documents regarding the disciplinary proceeding be removed from the student’s record. No information regarding the suspension will be placed in the student's permanent cumulative record.
4. The Superintendent or designee will mail or email a copy of the decision to the parent or guardian and student within five (5) school days of making the decision. A copy of the decision will also be mailed to the school principal.

Opportunity Transfer

An Opportunity Transfer (O.T.) is a carefully planned school-initiated transfer of a student within Partnerships to Uplift Communities schools for remedial and corrective reasons. It is issued as an alternative means of correction to address student misconduct, as listed in the “Grounds for Suspension and Expulsion” Matrix above, after prior interventions have failed to bring about proper conduct or when the student’s continued enrollment at the current school presents a safety risk to himself, herself or others. The purpose of an O.T. is to minimize factors that interrupt the academic process, and thus to create a school climate that is safe and conductive to learning for all. Additionally, an O.T. is utilized to provide the transferring student a fresh start at a new school and an opportunity to create positive relationships with new students and staff. Using an O.T. as an effective intervention tool can greatly assist schools in accomplishing the school’s goals of increasing graduation rates, decreasing student dropouts, and maintaining safe school communities.

An O.T. can be recommended by the school Principal and/or an Opportunity Transfer Hearing panel and issued by the Superintendent. Parental consent is not required for O.T. issuance; however, no student shall be involuntarily removed (which is defined as disenrolled, dismissed, transferred or terminated) by the school for any reason unless the student’s parent/guardian has been provided with written notice of the intent to remove the student at least five (5) school days before the effective date of the removal. The written notice must be in the native language of the student, parent/guardian, and or/educational rights holder if the student is a foster or homeless youth. If possible, school staff will create the written notice in the native language. If not possible, the school will contract for this service but will redact any personally identifiable information from the language that requires translation to maintain confidentiality. In this circumstance, personally identifiable information will be added to the notice after translation services have been provided.

If the Principal recommends an O.T. without an Opportunity Transfer Hearing, the written notice must inform the student of his or her basic rights including the right to initiate an Opportunity Transfer Hearing to be heard and decided by a neutral officer. A neutral officer is a PUC school administrator or PUC school personnel with administrative credential who is not a current employee of PUC Lakeview Charter High School nor has ever been a teacher or administrator of the student. If the parent/guardian does not initiate a hearing, the student is entitled to remain enrolled in the school throughout the five (5) school day notice period. If the parent/guardian initiates a hearing, the student is entitled to remain enrolled in the school through the duration of the hearing, and cannot be removed until the school issues a final hearing decision. An Opportunity Transfer Hearing will occur within ten (10) school days of the parent initiating an Opportunity Transfer Hearing. However, if the parent chooses to waive the five (5) school days’ notice period, the hearing may occur within five (5) school days of the Principal’s recommendation for an O.T.
If the Principal convenes an Opportunity Transfer Hearing, the written notice shall include an explanation of the student’s basic rights including the right to remain enrolled in the school through the duration of the hearing and cannot be removed until the school issues a final hearing decision. The Opportunity Transfer Hearing will occur within ten (10) school days of the notice. However, if the parent chooses to waive the five (5) school days’ notice period, the hearing may occur within five (5) school days of the Principal’s recommendation for an Opportunity Transfer Hearing.

An O.T. may also be issued by an Expulsion Panel following an expulsion hearing.

Once an O.T. has been issued, an intake meeting at the receiving PUC school will be scheduled. The receiving school is determined by the PUC Superintendent, with input from the sending school’s Principal, and the decision is based on enrollment availability, location, parent’s preference, and the receiving school’s culture. A school cannot be chosen as a receiving school if it has no space available for the student. A rehabilitation plan will be discussed to help the student succeed at the receiving school.

An O.T. may be initially imposed for one or two full semesters. When the O.T. term ends and if the student adhered to the rehabilitation plan, the student and parent or guardian shall have the option to return to the sending school or stay in the current school. If the student has not completed or adhered to the rehabilitation plan, the O.T. will be extended until the student has completed or adhered to the rehabilitation plan. The O.T. process does not apply to students with an Individualized Education Program (IEP). An O.T. shall not be used to remedy low academic achievement, attendance issues or for being a victim of a fight.

To avoid academic disruption, the PUC-Valley Board passed a Standard of Operating Procedure stating that when a student is issued an O.T. during the last three (3) weeks of a semester, the student will be placed at an Alternative Placement for the final three (3) weeks of the semester and the O.T. will begin at the start of the next semester. Three weeks was chosen because it allows the student to positively close the academic semester with the same grades he or she had been earning at the sending school. To start at a new school with three weeks or less does not set up the student for success academically or socially/emotionally. One week and two weeks, in particular, were not chosen because the last three weeks of a semester are often dedicated to preparing for and taking final exams. When a student is assigned Alternative Placement relating to an O.T. decision, that student will be assigned by the principal or assistant principal or designee to an alternative location with an assigned instructor. In this alternative location, the student will be supervised by certificated staff and provided instruction. Instruction will be provided by the certificated staff member who will provide the school work from each of the student’s classes, explain the material, and answer the student’s questions. Students in Alternative Placement should have access to appropriate counseling services.

If a student and their family withdraw from PUC Schools during the OT process, then the OT will remain in effect until the student has served the length of the OT term and has provided documentation from the non-PUC School the student has been attending demonstrating compliance with the rehabilitation plan. This would be the case for any student who withdraws while being opportunity transferred by PUC CALS or if they are being received by PUC CALS and decide to withdraw before enrolling. If the student seeks enrollment at the sending school during the school year and there is space available, then the student will be enrolled. If the student seeks enrollment at the sending school during the school year and there is no space available, the student will be placed at the end of the waitlist. If the student seeks enrollment at the sending school prior to the school year, the student will have an opportunity to be enrolled through the lottery system.

A parent or guardian and student may appeal an Opportunity Transfer by filling out and returning to the school an Opportunity Transfer Appeal Form within 3 weeks of the decision to Opportunity Transfer. When an appeal form is filled out, the Superintendent or a designee who was not involved in the decision to Opportunity Transfer the student will examine the appeal form and all of the evidence that is relevant to the case. If the Superintendent or designee needs clarification or additional information, the Superintendent or designee shall contact the parent or guardian, the student, the school that conducted the investigation or witnesses to gather additional evidence. If the parent, guardian, or student wants to meet or communicate directly with the Superintendent or designee to discuss the appeal, the Superintendent or designee will accommodate that request but there will be no hearing. Within 10 school days of receiving the appeal form, the Superintendent or designee will make a decision as to whether to uphold or to overturn the Opportunity Transfer. The Superintendent or designee will then mail a copy of the decision to the parent or guardian.

Authority to Expel

A pupil may be expelled by the Expulsion Hearing Panel (consisting of three (3) PUC school administrators or PUC school personnel with administrative credential) following an expulsion hearing. To ensure impartiality, reasonable efforts will be made to populate the Expulsion Hearing Panel with school administrators from a different PUC schools’ region. However, it is also permissible for school administrators from the same PUC region as this school to serve as Expulsion Hearing panelists.

Expulsion Procedures

To initiate the expulsion hearing procedure, the Principal’s decision shall be based on the finding of one or both of the following:

- Other means of correction are not feasible or have repeatedly failed to bring about proper conduct
- Due to the nature of the act, the presence of the pupil causes a continuing danger to the physical safety of the pupil or others.

Upon recommendation of expulsion by the principal, the pupil and pupil’s guardian or representative (who may be counsel or other advocate) will be invited to a conference to determine if the suspension for the pupil should be extended pending an expulsion hearing. The determination will be made by the principal upon either of the following determinations:
(1) the pupil’s presence will be disruptive to the education process or
(2) the pupil poses a threat or danger to others.

Upon either determination, the pupil’s suspension will be extended pending the results of an expulsion hearing.

Pupils recommended for expulsion must have an expulsion hearing (whether requested or not by the parent/guardian) to determine whether the pupil should be expelled. Unless postponed for good cause, the hearing shall be held within 30 school days from when the recommendation for expulsion is made. The Principal or designee will be responsible for providing the student with appropriate educational opportunities while the student is on suspension and awaiting an expulsion hearing.

1. The expulsion hearing (which is usually held in closed session, unless otherwise requested 72 hours in advance) will be presided over by the Expulsion Hearing Panel and the outcome will be reported to the Superintendent. The Expulsion Hearing Panel’s decision-making authority includes but is not limited to reinstating the student, reinstateing the student with a behavioral contract, initiating an Opportunity Transfer, or expelling the student.

2. Written notice of the hearing shall be forwarded by the Principal or designee to the pupil and the pupil’s parent/guardian at least ten (10) calendar days before the date of the hearing unless the parent/guardian and pupil wish to waive the 10-calendar day waiting period. Upon mailing the notice, it shall be deemed served upon the pupil. The notice shall include the following:
   a. The date and place of the expulsion hearing
   b. A statement of the specific fact(s), charge(s), and/or offense(s) upon which the proposed expulsion is based
   c. A copy of PUC disciplinary rules which relate to the alleged violation
   d. Notification of the pupil’s or parent/guardian’s obligation to provide information about the pupil’s status at the school to any other school district or school to which the pupil seeks enrollment.
   e. The opportunity for the pupil or the pupil’s parent/guardian to appear in person or to employ and be represented by counsel or an advocate.
   f. The right to inspect and obtain copies of all documents to be used at the hearing.
   g. The opportunity to confront and question all witnesses who testify at the hearing.
   h. The opportunity to question all evidence presented and to present oral and documentary evidence on the pupil’s behalf including witnesses.
   i. Reasonable accommodations and language support
   j. Special rules and procedures for incidents involving sexual assault and/or battery

Recording of Hearing

A record of the hearing shall be made and may be maintained by any means, including electronic recording, as long as a reasonably accurate and complete written transcription of the proceedings can be made. Parent/guardian and student may request access to the recording and will be granted access within five (5) school days.

Presentation of Evidence

While technical rules of evidence do not apply to expulsion hearings, evidence may be admitted and used as proof only if it is the kind of evidence on which reasonable persons can rely in the conduct of serious affairs. The Expulsion Hearing Panel may expel a pupil if it finds the following: 1) substantial evidence that the pupil committed an expellable offense and 2) substantial evidence that other means of correction are not feasible or have repeatedly failed to bring about proper conduct or that the student’s presence causes a continuing danger to the physical safety of the pupil or others.

Findings of fact shall be based solely on the evidence at the hearing. While hearsay evidence is admissible, no decision to expel shall be based solely on hearsay, and sworn declarations may be admitted as testimony from witnesses of whom the Superintendent or the Expulsion Hearing Panel determines that disclosure of their identity or testimony at the hearing may subject them to an unreasonable risk of physical or psychological harm.

If, due to a written request by the pupil who is being considered for an expulsion, the hearing is held at a public meeting, and the charge is committing or attempting to commit a sexual assault or committing a sexual battery, as defined in Education Code Section 48900, a complaining witness shall have the right to have his/her testimony heard in a session closed to the public.

The school will provide translation as requested by the student and/or parent/guardian.

The Expulsion Hearing Panel’s decision shall be made within ten (10) school days following the conclusion of the hearing.

Notification of Expulsion

The principal, following a decision to expel, shall send written notice of the expulsion, including the Panel's findings of fact, to the pupil or parent/guardian. This notice shall include the following:

1. Notice of the specific offense(s) committed by the pupil.
2. Notice that the pupil has a right to appeal and the date and process by which an appeal may be filed.
3. Notice of the pupil’s or parent/guardian’s obligation to inform any new district in which the pupil seeks to enroll of the pupil’s status.
4. Information regarding the type of educational placement during the period of expulsion and/or alternative educational options for pupil.
5. Effective date of expulsion.
6. Date the student to be reviewed for reinstatement.
Expulsion Appeal Process

To initiate an appeal, parent or guardian or student must contact either the school or the Superintendent in writing within three (3) weeks of the date of the expulsion. The school will provide written notice of the date of the Expulsion Appeals Hearing at least three (3) days prior to the hearing date. The written notice will include the day, time, and location of the hearing. The parent/guardian and student will also be informed of the following:

- The opportunity for the pupil or the pupil’s parent/guardian to appear in person or to employ and be represented by counsel or an advocate.
- The right to inspect and obtain copies of all documents to be used at the hearing.
- The opportunity to confront and question all witnesses who testify at the hearing.
- The opportunity to question all evidence presented and to present oral and documentary evidence on the pupil’s behalf including witnesses
- Reasonable accommodations and language support

The rules regarding presentation of evidence at an Expulsion Appeals Hearing are the same as those regarding presentation of evidence at an Expulsion Hearing.

The Superintendent or a designee who was not involved in the original expulsion will gather information from the site principal, student, parent or guardian. The Superintendent or designee will then facilitate an appeals’ hearing involving the original stakeholders to an Expulsion Appeals Panel consisting of three (3) PUC school administrators or PUC school personnel with administrative credential that does not consist of any original Expulsion Hearing Panel members.

Based on the information presented at the Expulsion Appeals Hearing, the Expulsion Appeals Panel may make one of the following decisions regarding the expulsion within five (5) school days after the hearing:

1. Uphold the expulsion
2. Determine that the expulsion was not within the school’s guidelines, overturn the expulsion, and order that all records and documents regarding the disciplinary proceeding be removed from the student’s permanent cumulative record.

The Principal or designee will contact the family by telephone and mail a copy of the decision to the student and/or parent or guardian within five (5) school days of the Expulsion Appeals Panel’s decision. If the expulsion is overturned and the Expulsion Appeal Panel decided to reinstate the student, the principal will immediately work with the family to bring the student back to school no later than 5 days after the family is contacted. If the expulsion is overturned and the Expulsion Appeal Panel decided to Opportunity Transfer the student, the principal will immediately work with the family to bring the student do a different PUC school no later than 5 days after the family is contacted.
PUC Lakeview Charter High School will provide post-expulsion support to facilitate access to education for expelled students by providing homework packets from all the student’s teachers to be picked up by the parent or guardian on a daily basis until the parent or guardian contacts the LAUSD Student Discipline and Expulsion Unit. The school will also provide support by informing the parent/guardian and student that they must call the LAUSD Student Discipline and Expulsion Unit, provide the number to the LAUSD Student Discipline and Expulsion Unit, and allow the parent/guardian and student to use the school’s telephone to make that phone call.

Records and Reporting

Outcome data will include:

- Suspensions
- Expulsions & Expulsion Placements
- Reinstatements
- Out of District Expellees

Prior to the recommendation to suspend or expel a pupil, the Principal, Superintendent or designee shall, in accordance with E.C. Section 48902, notify the local law enforcement authority if certain specified acts have been committed by the pupil. Specified acts include the following:

- Assault with a deadly weapon (Penal Code Section 245);
- Possession or sale of narcotics or a controlled substance;
- Possession of a firearm or firearms at a public school (Penal Code Section 626.9);
- Possession of a dirk, dagger, ice pick, knife having a fixed blade longer than 2 ½ inches, folding knife with a blade that locks in place, razor with an unguarded blade, taser or stun gun, BB, or pellet or other type of air gun, or spot marker (Penal Code Section 626.10)

If a student is under an expulsion order from another school district (LEA), the enrollment request will be reviewed by the Principal, Superintendent or designee. The Principal, Superintendent or designee will determine if enrollment will be granted. Enrollment will be granted if means of correction are feasible or have not repeatedly failed to bring about proper conduct and if the student’s presence does not cause a continuing danger to the physical safety of the pupil or others.

10.5 Rehabilitation Plans and Reinstatement

PUC Lakeview Charter High School’s policies and procedures regarding rehabilitation plans is as follows:

- The term of the rehabilitation plan should not include a date later than one (1) year from the date of expulsion when the pupil may apply to PUC Lakeview Charter High School for readmission.
- The criteria to be set forth in the rehabilitation plan shall include but is not limited to academic, attendance, and behavior requirements.
When a student applies for reinstatement, the timeline shall be as follows:

- Principal or designee shall ask the pupil and/or the pupil’s parent/guardian for the student’s academic records, attendance records, discipline/behavior records, and any other information the pupil wishes to share with the Principal or designee.
- Principal or designee shall review the pupil’s records and the pupil’s rehabilitation plan.
- Principal or designee shall make a determination within ten (10) school days.

Principal or designee shall notify the pupil and parent/guardian with written notice of the determination within five (5) school days.

“The manner by which staff members of the charter schools will be covered by the State Teachers’ Retirement System, the Public Employees’ Retirement System, or federal social security.” (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(K.).)

Charter School shall comply in a timely manner with all applicable federal and state laws and regulations, as they may change from time to time, including but not limited to Internal Revenue Code section 414(d) and related regulations, governing Charter School’s participation in, and/or coverage of its staff members by, the State Teachers’ Retirement System (CalSTRS), the Public Employees’ Retirement System (CalPERS), and/or federal social security.

If Charter School participates in, or otherwise covers its staff members by enrolling or continuing their enrollment in, a “government plan” governed by section 414(d) (e.g., CalPERS), upon dissolution or final liquidation of Charter School, and/or its nonprofit public benefit corporation, notwithstanding any provision in Element 15 to the contrary, Charter School shall distribute its net assets in accordance with section 414(d), related regulations, and the government plan’s requirements.

If Charter School participates in CalSTRS and/or CalPERS, Charter School shall continue such participation for the duration of Charter School’s existence under the same CDS code, if mandated by applicable legal and retirement plan requirements.

11.1 - 3 Retirement Programs for Certificated, Classified, and Other Staff

Classified staff at PUC Lakeview Charter High School will participate in the federal social security system and will have access to other school-sponsored retirement plans for the school’s employees. PUC Lakeview Charter High School certificated staff participate in the State Teachers Retirement System (STRS). PUC Lakeview Charter High School will continue such participation for the duration of the charter school’s existence under the same CDS code. PUC Lakeview Charter High School will contract with the Los Angeles County Office of Education to transmit data to STRS.

The Human Resources and Finance departments at PUC National, which are contracted by the school to manage payroll, are responsible for ensuring that appropriate arrangements for coverage are made.

“The public school attendance alternatives for pupils residing within the school district who choose not to attend charter schools.” (Ed. Code § 47605(b)(5)(L).)

Pupils of Charter School do not have or gain any right to admission in a particular school of any school district, or program of any school district, as a consequence of applying to or enrolling in Charter School, except to the extent that such a right is extended by the school district.

A pupil who chooses not to attend Charter School may attend a public school within the pupil’s school district of residence in accordance with applicable law and that school district’s policies and procedures. The pupil alternatively may seek to enroll in another charter school in accordance with applicable law and the terms of the school’s charter. If LAUSD is the pupil’s school district of residence, an eligible pupil may pursue an inter-district transfer, if available, in accordance with the admission, enrollment, and transfer policies and procedures of the District, as they may change from time to time.

12.1 Admissions Notification

As a public school of choice, PUC Lakeview Charter High School does not have restrictive enrollment based on residence. Parents and students will be informed of their public school attendance alternatives during the enrollment process.
Element 13 – District Employee Rights

Employees of the District who choose to leave the employment of the District to work at Charter School shall have no automatic rights of return to the District after employment at Charter School unless specifically granted by the District through a leave of absence or other agreement or policy of the District as aligned with the collective bargaining agreements of the District. The CDE may ask the county office of education to conduct an audit of the charter school if it has reason to believe that the school received state funding for which it was not eligible.

Charter School shall ensure completion of an independent final audit within six months after the closure of Charter School that includes:

1. An accounting of all financial assets. These may include cash and accounts receivable and an inventory of property, equipment, and other items of material value.

2. An accounting of all liabilities. These may include accounts payable or reduction in apportionments due to loans, unpaid staff compensation, audit findings, or other investigations.

3. An assessment of the disposition of any restricted funds received by or due to Charter School.

This audit may serve as Charter School’s annual audit if it meets all of the requirements of the annual audit.

Charter School shall pay for the financial closeout audit of Charter School. This audit will be conducted by a neutral, independent licensed CPA who will employ generally accepted accounting principles. Any liability or debt incurred by Charter School will be the responsibility of Charter School and not LAUSD. Charter School understands and acknowledges that Charter School will cover the outstanding debts or liabilities of Charter School. Any unused monies at the time of the audit will be returned to the appropriate funding source. Charter School understands and acknowledges that only unrestricted funds will be used to pay creditors. Any unused AB 602 funds will be returned to the District SELPA or the SELPA in which Charter School participates, and other categorical funds will be returned to the source of funds.

For apportionment of categorical programs, the CDE will count the prior year average daily attendance (ADA) or enrollment data of the closed Charter School with the data of the authorizing entity. This practice will occur in the first year after the closure and will continue until CDE data collection processes reflect ADA or enrollment adjustments for all affected LEAs due to the charter closure.

Disposition of Liabilities and Assets
The closeout audit must identify the disposition of all liabilities of Charter School. Charter School closure procedures must also ensure appropriate disposal, in accordance with the District Required Language provisions in Element 11 of this Charter, Charter School’s governing board bylaws, fiscal procedures, and any other applicable laws and regulations, of any net assets remaining after all liabilities of Charter School have been paid or otherwise addressed. Such disposal includes, but is not limited to:

1. Charter School, at its cost and expense, shall return to the District any and all property, furniture, equipment, supplies, and other assets provided to Charter School by or on behalf of the District. The District discloses that the California Education Code sets forth the requirements for the disposition of the District’s personal property and Charter School shall bear responsibility and liability for any disposition in violation of statutory requirements.

2. The return of any donated materials and property in accordance with any terms and conditions set when the donations were accepted.

3. The return of any grant and restricted categorical funds to their sources according to the terms of the grant or state and federal law.
4. The submission of final expenditure reports for any entitlement grants and the filing of Final Expenditure Reports and Final Performance Reports, as appropriate.

If Charter School is operated as or by a nonprofit corporation, and if the corporation does not have any functions other than operation of Charter School, the corporation shall be dissolved according to its bylaws.

Charter School shall retain sufficient staff, as deemed appropriate by the Charter School governing board to complete all necessary tasks and procedures required to close the school and transfer records in accordance with these closure procedures.

Charter School’s governing board shall adopt a plan for wind-up of Charter School and, if necessary, the corporation, in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Code.

Charter School shall provide LAUSD within fourteen (14) calendar days of the Closure Action with written notice of any outstanding payments due to staff and the time frame and method by which Charter School will make the payments.

Prior to final close-out, Charter School shall complete all actions required by applicable law, including but not limited to the following:

a. File all final federal, state, and local employer payroll tax returns and issue final W-2s and Form 1099s by the statutory deadlines.

b. Make final federal tax payments (employee taxes, etc.)

c. Complete and submit all required federal and state filings and notices to the State of California, the Internal Revenue Service, and the Department of the Treasury, including but not limited to final tax returns and forms (e.g., Form 990 and related Schedules).

This Element 15 shall survive the revocation, expiration, termination, cancellation of this Charter, or any other act or event that would end Charter School’s authorization to operate as a charter school or cause Charter School to cease operation. Charter School agrees that, due to the nature of the property and activities that are the subject of this Charter, the District and public shall suffer irreparable harm should Charter School breach any obligation under this Element 15. The District therefore reserves the right to seek equitable relief to enforce any right arising under this Element 15 or any provision of this Element 15 or to prevent or cure any breach of any obligation undertaken, without in any way prejudicing any other legal remedy available to the District. Such legal relief shall include, without limitation, the seeking of a temporary or permanent injunction, restraining order, or order for specific performance, and may be sought in any appropriate court.
Charter School shall comply with all geographic and site limitations and related requirements set forth in Education Code sections 47605.1, 47602(a), and 47605(a).

District-Owned Facilities

If Charter School is using District facilities as of the date of the submission of this charter petition or takes occupancy of District facilities prior to the approval of this charter petition, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities as a condition of the approval of the charter petition. If at any time after the approval of this charter petition Charter School will occupy and use any District facilities, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities prior to occupancy and commencing use. Charter School shall implement and otherwise comply with the terms of any and all applicable facilities use agreements between Charter School and the District.

The circumstances of Charter School’s occupancy of District facilities may change over time such as, but not limited to, enrollment, programs, and the conditions of facilities, and the District has a vested interest in having an agreement that is appropriate for the situation.

For a Sole Occupant Agreement or any other use agreement that is not a Proposition 39 Single Year Co-location Use Agreement or a lease issued through the Notice of Intent and bid process, the term may be co-terminous with the approved Charter, as permitted by law. Charter School and the District shall negotiate any modifications of the agreement with the goal of such amendment or new agreement being considered by the LAUSD Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition. If Charter School and the District cannot execute an agreement in time for such to be considered by the Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition, the approval of the renewal of the charter petition shall be conditioned upon Charter School and the District executing an amendment to the existing use agreement or a new agreement no later than May 1st or within nine (9) months of the date of the Board of Education’s approval of the renewal of the charter petition. During such time period Charter School shall be permitted to remain in occupancy of the District facilities under the terms and conditions of the immediately preceding, executed use agreement; provided, that if Charter School and the District cannot agree upon and execute an amendment or new use agreement by said deadline, Charter School shall vacate the District facilities on or before June 30th of said school year.

Charter School acknowledges and agrees that occupancy and use of District facilities shall be in compliance with applicable laws and District policies for the operation and maintenance of District facilities and furnishings and equipment. Charter School shall comply with all District health, safety, and emergency procedures and requirements and shall be subject to inspection by the District’s Facilities Services Division, OEHS, and other District offices in the same manner as other LAUSD campuses. All District facilities (i.e., schools) will remain subject to those laws applicable to public schools.

In the event of an emergency, all District facilities (i.e., schools) are available for use by the American Red Cross and public agencies as emergency locations, which may disrupt or prevent Charter School from conducting its educational programs. If Charter School will share the use of District facilities with other District user groups, Charter School agrees that it will participate in and observe all District safety policies (e.g., emergency chain of information and participation in safety drills).

The use agreements provided by the District for District facilities shall contain terms and conditions addressing issues such as, but not limited to, the following:

- Use: Charter School will be restricted to using the District facilities for the operation of a public school providing educational instruction to public school students consistent with the terms of the Charter and incidental related uses. Separate and apart from its right as authorizer to observe and inspect any part of the charter school at any time pursuant to Education Code 47607(a)(1), the District shall have and reserves the right to inspect District facilities upon reasonable notice to Charter School.

- Furnishings and Equipment: The District shall retain ownership of any furnishings and equipment, including technology, (“F&E”) that it provides to Charter School for use. Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, shall provide maintenance and other services for the good and safe operation of the F&E.

- Leasing; Licensing: Use of the District facilities by any person or entity other than Charter School shall be administered by the District. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement in the use agreement.

- Programs, Services, and Activities Outside Instructional Program; Third Party Vendors
  1. Any program, service, or activity provided outside the instructional program shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement, and, additionally, may require a license, permit, or additional agreement issued by the District. The term “instructional program” is defined, per Education Code section 47612 and 5 CCR section 11960, as those required educational activities that generate funding based on “average daily attendance” and includes those extracurricular programs, services, and/or activities that students are required to participate in and do not require the payment of any consideration or fee.
  2. Any program, service, or activity requiring the payment of any consideration or fee or provided by a third party vendor (defined as any person or entity other than Charter School), whether paid or volunteer and regardless of whether such may be within the instructional program, shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement and such third party vendor shall be required to obtain a license, permit, or additional agreement from the District.

- Minimum Payments or Charges to be Paid to District Arising From the Facilities
  1. Pro Rata Share: The District shall collect and Charter School shall pay a Pro Rata Share for facilities costs as provided in the Charter Schools Act of 1992 and its regulations. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding facilities costs in the use agreement; and
(ii) Taxes; Assessments: Generally, Charter School shall pay any assessment or fee imposed upon or levied on the LAUSD facilities that it is occupying or Charter School’s legal or equitable interest created by the use agreement.

- Maintenance & Operations Services: In the event the District agrees to allow Charter School to perform any of the operation and maintenance services, the District shall have the right to inspect the District facilities, and the costs incurred in such inspection shall be paid by Charter School.

  (i) Co-Location: If Charter School is co-locating or sharing the District facilities with another user, the District shall provide the operations and maintenance services for the District facilities and Charter School shall pay the Pro Rata Share. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such in the use agreement.

  (ii) Sole Occupant: If Charter School is a sole occupant of District facilities, the District shall allow Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, to provide some operations and maintenance services for the District facilities in accordance with applicable laws and LAUSD’s policies on operations and maintenance services for facilities and F&E. NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING, the District shall provide all services for regulatory inspections which as the owner of the real property it is required to submit, and deferred maintenance, and Charter School shall pay LAUSD for the cost and expense of providing those services. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such services in the use agreement.

- Real Property Insurance: Prior to occupancy, Charter School shall satisfy requirements to participate in LAUSD’s property insurance or, if Charter School is the sole occupant of LAUSD facilities, obtain and maintain separate property insurance for the LAUSD facilities. Charter School shall not have the option of obtaining and maintaining separate property insurance for the LAUSD facility IF Charter School is co-locating or sharing the LAUSD facility with another user.

Non-District-Owned Facilities

Occupancy and Use of the Site: Prior to occupancy or use of any school site or facility, Charter School shall provide the CSD with a current Certificate of Occupancy or equivalent document issued by the applicable permitting agency that allows Charter School to use and occupy the site as a charter school. Charter School shall not exceed the operating capacity of the site and shall operate within any limitations or requirements provided by the Certificate of Occupancy and any applicable permit. Charter School may not open or operate without providing a copy of an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD. If Charter School intends to move or expand to another facility during the term of this Charter, Charter School shall adhere to any and all District policies and procedures regarding charter material revision and non-material amendment. Prior to occupancy or use of any such additional or changed school site, Charter School shall provide an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD for such facility. Notwithstanding any language to the contrary in this Charter, the interpretation, application, and enforcement of this provision are not subject to the Dispute Resolution Process outlined in Element 14.

Facility Compliance: Prior to occupancy or use of any non-District-owned school site and/or facility, Charter School shall ensure that the site and/or facility complies with all applicable building codes, standards and regulations adopted by the city and/or county agencies responsible for building and safety standards for the city in which Charter School is to be located, federal and state accessibility requirements (including the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Section 504), and all other applicable fire, health, and structural safety and access requirements. This requirement shall also apply to the construction, reconstruction, alteration of or addition to the facility. Charter School shall resolve in a timely manner any and all corrective actions, orders to comply, and notices issued by any authorized building and safety agency. Charter School cannot exempt itself from applicable building and zoning codes, ordinances, and ADA/Section 504 requirements. Charter School shall maintain on file readily accessible records that document facilities compliance and shall promptly provide such documentation to the CSD upon request.

SELPA Reorganization

The Los Angeles Unified School District is approved to operate as a single-District SELPA under the provisions of Education Code section 56195.1(a). As a single-District SELPA, the District has created two charter school sections (District-operated Programs and Charter-operated Programs) under the administration of one single Administrative Unit pursuant to a reorganization plan approved by the Board of Education on January 4, 2011 (149/10-11). Full implementation of the reorganized LAUSD SELPA commenced in the 2013-2014 school year requiring all District-authorized charter schools to elect one of the three options available under the LAUSD SELPA. Prior to an option election, all District-authorized charter schools were required to participate as a school of the District under the District-Operated Programs Unit. Prior to the beginning of the 2013-2014 school year, all District-authorized charter schools, other than those that had previously executed an Option 3 Memorandum of Understanding (“MOU”), were required to execute a new MOU setting forth the LAUSD SELPA option election for the remainder of the charter petition term. The Charter-operated Program schools do not have LEA status for the purposes of special education but will function in a similar role in that each charter school will be responsible for all special education requirements, including but not limited to services, placement, due process, related services, special education classes, and special education supports. Charter schools that have elected to participate in a District-operated programs option may apply for membership in the Charter-operated Program section of the SELPA. Charter schools accepted for participation in the Charter-operated Programs section receive support from a Special Education Director for the Charter-operated Programs.

Modified Consent Decree Requirements

All charter schools approved by the LAUSD Board of Education are bound by and must adhere to the terms, conditions and requirements of the Chanda Smith Modified Consent Decree (“MCD”) and other court orders imposed upon the District pertaining to special education. The MCD is a consent decree entered in a federal court class action lawsuit initially brought on behalf of students with disabilities in LAUSD. It is an agreement of the parties approved by the federal court and monitored by a court-appointed independent monitor. The MCD includes nineteen statistically measurable outcomes and facilities obligations that the District has to achieve to disengage from the MCD and federal court oversight. All charter schools are required to use the District’s Special Education Policies and Procedures Manual and Welligent, the District-wide web-based software system used for online Individualized Education Programs ("IEPs") and tracking of related services provided to students during the course of their education.

As part of fulfilling the District’s obligations under the MCD, student level data requests from District-operated and Charter-operated charter schools are made on a regular basis. The requested data must be submitted in the Office of the Independent Monitor’s (“OIM”) required format in accordance with the OIM’s required timelines and as follows:

- End of Year Suspension

  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, date of birth, gender, grade, date of suspension, number of days suspended, and reason for suspension.

- Statewide Assessment Data

  The standard file including District ID.

- Norm day

  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, date of birth, gender, grade, location code, school name and local district for all students enrolled on norm day.

- All Students enrolled as of December 1 of each school year

  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, date of birth, gender, grade, location code, school name and local district for all students enrolled on norm day.

- Dropout

  District ID, SSIS ID, last name, first name, middle name, date of birth, grade, last location, school name and local district

- Monthly SESAC and Suspension data

- Graduation roster from all charter schools with 12th grade students with disabilities

The MCD requires charter schools to implement the District’s integrated student information system, which is currently referred to as My Integrated Student Information System (MiSiS). MiSiS is a suite of applications which is designed to capture all District student data. All charter schools are required to utilize MiSiS directly or interface with MiSiS via a web based Application Programming Interface (API) in compliance with the requirements of the MCD and applicable timelines. Upon charter school full utilization of MiSiS either directly or via a web based API, the list of required data above will automatically be captured within MiSiS.

STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Charter School shall establish and implement policies and procedures to ensure full compliance with federal and state laws and regulations regarding the discipline of students with disabilities. If a student is recommended for expulsion and the student receives or is eligible for special education, pending the completion of the expulsion process, Charter School shall identify and provide special education programs and services at an appropriate interim educational placement determined in coordination with the LAUSD Division of Special Education.

B. Was the misconduct a direct result of Charter School’s failure to implement Section 504 Plan?

Notwithstanding and apart from the documentation sent to the Charter Schools Division as indicated above, if the student is a resident of a school district other than LAUSD, Charter School must notify the superintendent of the student’s district of residence within 30 days of the expulsion. Charter School’s governing board shall adopt rules establishing a procedure for the filing and processing of requests for readmission and the process for the required review of all expelled pupils for readmission. Upon completion of the readmission process, Charter School’s governing board shall readmit the pupil, unless Charter School’s governing board makes a finding that the pupil has not met the conditions of the rehabilitation plan or continues to pose a danger to campus safety. A description of the procedure shall be made available to the pupil and the pupil’s parent or guardian at the time the expulsion order is entered and the decision of the governing board, including any related findings, must be provided to the pupil and the pupil’s parent/guardian within a reasonable time.

Transfer of the complete and organized original student records to the District, in accordance with District procedures applicable at the time of closure, shall occur within seven (7) calendar days of the effective date of closure.

2. Charter School’s process for transferring copies of student records to receiving schools shall be in accordance with applicable law and LAUSD procedures for students moving from one school to another.

3. Charter School shall prepare and provide an electronic master list of all students to the Charter Schools Division in accordance with the District procedures applicable at the time of closure. This list shall include the student’s identification number, Statewide Student Identifier (SSID), birthdate, grade, full name, address, home school/school district, enrollment date, exit code, exit date, parent/guardian name(s), and phone number(s). If the Charter School closure occurs before the end of the school year, the list also shall indicate the name of the school to which each student is transferring, if known. This electronic master list shall be delivered to the CSD in the form of a CD or otherwise in accordance with District procedures.

4. Charter School must organize the original cumulative files for delivery to the District in two categories: active students and inactive students. Charter School will coordinate with the CSD for the delivery and/or pickup of student records.

5. Charter School must update all student records in the California Longitudinal Pupil Achievement Data System (CALPADS) prior to closing.

6. Charter School must provide to the CSD a copy of student attendance records, teacher gradebooks, and Title I records (if applicable).

7. Charter School must provide to the CSD the name, title, and contact information of the person designated to maintain all Charter School personnel records after the closure. Personnel records to be transferred to and maintained by the designee must include any and all employee records, including but not limited to, records related to performance and grievance. Charter School must provide to the CSD and the designee a list of all active and inactive employees and their periods of service. Both Charter School and the designee, individually and separately, shall inform the CSD immediately upon the transfer of Charter School’s employee records to the designee.

8. Charter School shall ensure that all records are boxed and clearly labeled by classification of documents and the required duration of storage in accordance with District procedures.

9. Charter School shall provide to the responsible person(s) designated by the governing board of Charter School to conduct all closure-related activities a list of students in each grade level and, for each student, a list of classes completed and the student’s district of residence.
Financial Close-Out

After receiving notification of closure, the California Department of Education (CDE) will notify Charter School and the authorizing entity of any liabilities Charter School owes the state, which may include overpayment of apportionments, unpaid revolving fund loans or grants, and/or similar liabilities. The CDE may ask the county office of education to conduct an audit of the charter school if it has reason to believe that the school received state funding for which it was not eligible.

Charter School shall ensure completion of an independent final audit within six months after the closure of Charter School that includes:

1. An accounting of all financial assets. These may include cash and accounts receivable and an inventory of property, equipment, and other items of material value.

2. An accounting of all liabilities. These may include accounts payable or reduction in apportionments due to loans, unpaid staff compensation, audit findings, or other investigations.

3. An assessment of the disposition of any restricted funds received by or due to Charter School.

This audit may serve as Charter School’s annual audit if it meets all of the requirements of the annual audit.

Charter School shall pay for the financial closeout audit of Charter School. This audit will be conducted by a neutral, independent licensed CPA who will employ generally accepted accounting principles. Any liability or debt incurred by Charter School will be the responsibility of Charter School and not LAUSD. Charter School understands and acknowledges that Charter School will cover the outstanding debts or liabilities of Charter School. Any unused monies at the time of the audit will be returned to the appropriate funding source. Charter School understands and acknowledges that only unrestricted funds will be used to pay creditors. Any unused AB 602 funds will be returned to the District SELPA or the SELPA in which Charter School participates, and other categorical funds will be returned to the source of funds.

Charter School shall ensure the completion and filing of any annual reports required. These reports include but are not necessarily limited to:

1. Preliminary budgets
2. Interim financial reports
3. Second interim financial reports
4. Final unaudited reports

These reports must be submitted to the CDE and the authorizing entity in the form required. These reports should be submitted as soon as possible after the Closure Action, but no later than the required deadline for reporting for the fiscal year.
For apportionment of categorical programs, the CDE will count the prior year average daily attendance (ADA) or enrollment data of the closed Charter School with the data of the authorizing entity. This practice will occur in the first year after the closure and will continue until CDE data collection processes reflect ADA or enrollment adjustments for all affected LEAs due to the charter closure.

Disposition of Liabilities and Assets

The closeout audit must identify the disposition of all liabilities of Charter School. Charter School closure procedures must also ensure appropriate disposal, in accordance with the District Required Language provisions in Element 11 of this Charter, Charter School’s governing board bylaws, fiscal procedures, and any other applicable laws and regulations, of any net assets remaining after all liabilities of Charter School have been paid or otherwise addressed. Such disposal includes, but is not limited to:

1. Charter School, at its cost and expense, shall return to the District any and all property, furniture, equipment, supplies, and other assets provided to Charter School by or on behalf of the District. The District discloses that the California Education Code sets forth the requirements for the disposition of the District’s personal property and Charter School shall bear responsibility and liability for any disposition in violation of statutory requirements.

2. The return of any donated materials and property in accordance with any terms and conditions set when the donations were accepted.

3. The return of any grant and restricted categorical funds to their sources according to the terms of the grant or state and federal law.

4. The submission of final expenditure reports for any entitlement grants and the filing of Final Expenditure Reports and Final Performance Reports, as appropriate.

If Charter School is operated as or by a nonprofit corporation, and if the corporation does not have any functions other than operation of Charter School, the corporation shall be dissolved according to its bylaws.

Charter School shall retain sufficient staff, as deemed appropriate by the Charter School governing board to complete all necessary tasks and procedures required to close the school and transfer records in accordance with these closure procedures.

Charter School’s governing board shall adopt a plan for wind-up of Charter School and, if necessary, the corporation, in accordance with the requirements of the Corporations Code.

Charter School shall provide LAUSD within fourteen (14) calendar days of the Closure Action with written notice of any outstanding payments due to staff and the time frame and method by which Charter School will make the payments.

Prior to final close-out, Charter School shall complete all actions required by applicable law, including but not limited to the following:
a. File all final federal, state, and local employer payroll tax returns and issue final W-2s and Form 1099s by the statutory deadlines.

b. Make final federal tax payments (employee taxes, etc.)

c. Complete and submit all required federal and state filings and notices to the State of California, the Internal Revenue Service, and the Department of the Treasury, including but not limited to final tax returns and forms (e.g., Form 990 and related Schedules).

This Element 15 shall survive the revocation, expiration, termination, cancellation of this Charter, or any other act or event that would end Charter School’s authorization to operate as a charter school or cause Charter School to cease operation. Charter School agrees that, due to the nature of the property and activities that are the subject of this Charter, the District and public shall suffer irreparable harm should Charter School breach any obligation under this Element 15. The District therefore reserves the right to seek equitable relief to enforce any right arising under this Element 15 or any provision of this Element 15 or to prevent or cure any breach of any obligation undertaken, without in any way prejudicing any other legal remedy available to the District. Such legal relief shall include, without limitation, the seeking of a temporary or permanent injunction, restraining order, or order for specific performance, and may be sought in any appropriate court.

Additional Provisions

Facilities

Charter School shall comply with all geographic and site limitations and related requirements set forth in Education Code sections 47605.1, 47602(a), and 47605(a).

District-Owned Facilities

If Charter School is using District facilities as of the date of the submission of this charter petition or takes occupancy of District facilities prior to the approval of this charter petition, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities as a condition of the approval of the charter petition. If at any time after the approval of this charter petition Charter School will occupy and use any District facilities, Charter School shall execute an agreement provided by the District for the use of the District facilities prior to occupancy and commencing use. Charter School shall implement and otherwise comply with the terms of any and all applicable facilities use agreements between Charter School and the District.

The circumstances of Charter School’s occupancy of District facilities may change over time such as, but not limited to, enrollment, programs, and the conditions of facilities, and the District has a vested interest in having an agreement that is appropriate for the situation. For a Sole Occupant Agreement or any other use agreement that is not a Proposition 39 Single Year Co-location Use Agreement or a lease issued through the Notice of Intent and bid process, the term may be co-terminous with the approved Charter, as permitted by law. Charter School and the District shall negotiate any modifications of the agreement with the goal of such amendment or new agreement being considered by the LAUSD Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition. If Charter School and the District cannot execute an agreement in time for such to be considered by the Board of Education with the renewal of the charter petition, the approval of the renewal of the charter petition shall be conditioned upon Charter School and the District executing an amendment to the existing use agreement or a new agreement no later than May 1st or within nine (9) months of the date of the Board of Education’s approval of the renewal of the charter petition. During such time period Charter School shall be permitted to remain in occupancy of the District facilities under the terms and conditions of the immediately preceding, executed use agreement; provided, that if Charter School and the District cannot agree upon and execute an amendment or new use agreement by said deadline, Charter School shall vacate the District facilities on or before June 30th of said school year.

Charter School acknowledges and agrees that occupancy and use of District facilities shall be in compliance with applicable laws and District policies for the operation and maintenance of District facilities and furnishings and equipment. Charter School shall comply with all District health, safety, and emergency procedures and requirements and shall be subject to inspection by the District’s Facilities Services Division, OEHS, and other District offices in the same manner as other LAUSD campuses. All District facilities (i.e., schools) will remain subject to those laws applicable to public schools.

In the event of an emergency, all District facilities (i.e., schools) are available for use by the American Red Cross and public agencies as emergency locations, which may disrupt or prevent Charter School from conducting its educational programs. If Charter School will share the use of District facilities with other District user groups, Charter School agrees that it will participate in and observe all District safety policies (e.g., emergency chain of information and participation in safety drills).

The use agreements provided by the District for District facilities shall contain terms and conditions addressing issues such as, but not limited to, the following:

- Use: Charter School will be restricted to using the District facilities for the operation of a public school providing educational instruction to public school students consistent with the terms of the Charter and incidental related uses. Separate and apart from its right as authorizer to observe and inspect any part of the charter school at any time pursuant to Education Code 47607(a)(1), the District shall have and reserves the right to inspect District facilities upon reasonable notice to Charter School.

- Furnishings and Equipment: The District shall retain ownership of any furnishings and equipment, including technology, ("F&E") that it provides to Charter School for use. Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, shall provide maintenance and other services for the good and safe operation of the F&E.

- Leasing; Licensing: Use of the District facilities by any person or entity other than Charter School shall be administered by the District. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement in the use agreement.

- Programs, Services, and Activities Outside Instructional Program; Third Party Vendors

  (i) Any program, service, or activity provided outside the instructional program shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement, and, additionally, may require a license, permit, or additional agreement issued by the District. The term
“instructional program” is defined, per Education Code section 47612 and 5 CCR section 11960, as those required educational activities that generate funding based on “average daily attendance” and includes those extracurricular programs, services, and/or activities that students are required to participate in and do not require the payment of any consideration or fee.

(ii) Any program, service, or activity requiring the payment of any consideration or fee or provided by a third party vendor (defined as any person or entity other than Charter School), whether paid or volunteer and regardless of whether such may be within the instructional program, shall be subject to the terms and provisions of the use agreement and such third party vendor shall be required to obtain a license, permit, or additional agreement from the District.

- Minimum Payments or Charges to be Paid to District Arising From the Facilities:

  (i) Pro Rata Share: The District shall collect and Charter School shall pay a Pro Rata Share for facilities costs as provided in the Charter Schools Act of 1992 and its regulations. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding facilities costs in the use agreement; and

  (ii) Taxes; Assessments: Generally, Charter School shall pay any assessment or fee imposed upon or levied on the LAUSD facilities that it is occupying or Charter School’s legal or equitable interest created by the use agreement.

- Maintenance & Operations Services: In the event the District agrees to allow Charter School to perform any of the operation and maintenance services, the District shall have the right to inspect the District facilities, and the costs incurred in such inspection shall be paid by Charter School.

  (i) Co-Location: If Charter School is co-locating or sharing the District facilities with another user, the District shall provide the operations and maintenance services for the District facilities and Charter School shall pay the Pro Rata Share. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such in the use agreement.

  (ii) Sole Occupant: If Charter School is a sole occupant of District facilities, the District shall allow Charter School, at its sole cost and expense, to provide some operations and maintenance services for the District facilities in accordance with applicable laws and LAUSD’s policies on operations and maintenance services for facilities and F&E. NOTWITHSTANDING THE FOREGOING, the District shall provide all services for regulatory inspections which as the owner of the real property it is required to submit, and deferred maintenance, and Charter School shall pay LAUSD for the cost and expense of providing those services. The parties may agree to an alternative arrangement regarding performance of the operations and maintenance services and payment for such services in the use agreement.

- Real Property Insurance: Prior to occupancy, Charter School shall satisfy requirements to participate in LAUSD’s property insurance or, if Charter School is the sole occupant of LAUSD facilities, obtain and maintain separate property insurance for the LAUSD facilities. Charter School shall not have the option of obtaining and maintaining separate property insurance for the LAUSD facility IF Charter School is co-locating or sharing the LAUSD facility with another user.

Non-District-Owned Facilities

Occupancy and Use of the Site: Prior to occupancy or use of any school site or facility, Charter School shall provide the CSD with a current Certificate of Occupancy or equivalent document issued by the applicable permitting agency that allows Charter School to use and occupy the site as a charter school. Charter School shall not exceed the operating capacity of the site and shall operate within any limitations or requirements provided by the Certificate of Occupancy and any applicable permit. Charter School may not open or operate without providing a copy of an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD. If Charter School intends to move or expand to another facility during the term of this Charter, Charter School shall adhere to any and all District policies and procedures regarding charter material revision and non-material amendment. Prior to occupancy or use of any such additional or changed school site, Charter School shall provide an appropriate Certificate of Occupancy to the CSD for such facility. Notwithstanding any language to the contrary in this Charter, the interpretation, application, and enforcement of this provision are not subject to the Dispute Resolution Process outlined in Element 14.

Facility Compliance: Prior to occupancy or use of any non-District-owned school site and/or facility, Charter School shall ensure that the site and/or facility complies with all applicable building codes, standards and regulations adopted by the city and/or county agencies responsible for building and safety standards for the city in which Charter School is to be located, federal and state accessibility requirements (including the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) and Section 504), and all other applicable fire, health, and structural safety and access requirements. This requirement shall also apply to the construction, reconstruction, alteration of or addition to the facility. Charter School shall resolve in a timely manner any and all corrective actions, orders to comply, and notices issued by any authorized building and safety agency. Charter School cannot exempt itself from applicable building and zoning codes, ordinances, and ADA/Section 504 requirements. Charter School shall maintain on file readily accessible records that document facilities compliance and shall promptly provide such documentation to the CSD upon request.

Pest Management: Charter School shall comply with the Healthy Schools Act, Education Code section 17608, which details pest management requirements for schools.

Asbestos Management: Charter School shall comply with the asbestos requirement as cited in the Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act (AHERA), 40 C.F.R. part 763. AHERA requires that any building leased or acquired that is to be used as a school or administrative building shall maintain an asbestos management plan.
