A Typical Day at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School

When one enters View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School you will see students and teachers all engaged in D.E.A.R (Drop Everything and Read). This instills a culture that promotes the love of reading for pleasure. When students see their teacher read it models the value of reading.

A visitor will also see students using technology to enhance their classroom learning.

As one enters View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School, one will encounter an exciting student-centered learning environment. Students are actively engaged in the lesson before them, and teachers are engaged in the process of teaching students. The atmosphere is one where learning is prized, excellence demanded, and performance rewarded.

Teachers employ a variety of teaching methods across the curriculum. Teachers express clear leaning goals in writing, visually posted in the classroom and verbally to both students and parents. Teachers have created a classroom with a balance of interactive settings. In general, a visitor will see the majority of class time spent on whole class discussion, or teacher-centered direct instruction, a portion of time on small group learning and the remaining time would be spent in individualized learning or testing. Individualized learning may include guided practice, individual practice or one-on-one instruction. View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School teachers also change the student composition in the small groups to give students an opportunity to learn from different people in the class and to vary the ability groupings, this is also a classroom management strategy. A visitor will see that in all of these classroom settings students remain engaged and teachers are skilled at managing the classroom.

Teachers will be seen effectively scaffolding lessons to engage students in higher order thinking. A visitor to the school will see that teachers are comfortable leading students to think critically. Teachers engage students using real life concepts that are relative to their life experience and build upon students’ prior knowledge.

Student work is visible in every part of the school including the classrooms the hallways and in office spaces.

Outside of the classroom teachers meet weekly in grade level teams to assist each other in developing lesson plans that effectively keep students on target to meet learning goals and work collaboratively to plan thematic units. A visitor to View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will see teachers using the standards to guide lesson planning in every subject area at every grade level. Teachers use formative assessments to make adjustments in their approach and to assess if key learning standards were acquired by students. In addition to formative assessments, teachers consistently ask comprehension questions during instruction.

Teaching Methodologies

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School is a small learning environment that focuses on providing an enriched, standards-based curriculum. View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School intends to provide each student with powerful learning experiences that are differentiated to meet individual student needs. A combination of small-and large-group instruction is utilized to deliver the curriculum with one-on-one help, including mentoring assistance for those who are in need of additional support. View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School seeks to:

- Create small communities of learning where stable, close, mutually respectful relationships with adults and peers are considered fundamental for intellectual development and personal growth; and

- Teach a core academic program that utilizes research-based instructional practices and promotes artistic, scientific, and mathematical literacy, as well as critical thinking and reasoning.

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School understands the importance of utilizing research-based instructional practices to promote student achievement. In order to address how learning best occurs, faculty is trained to:

1. Design standards-based instruction (using the principles of backwards design).
2. Align appropriate assessments to the standards, and;
3. Implement relevant, supplemental instructional activities that are aligned to standards and reflect research-based best practices
4. Teachers will also design instruction that incorporates strategies detailed in Classroom Instruction that Works, by Marzano, Pickering, and Pollock.
1. Direct Instruction – Direct Instruction is an effective instructional strategy for teaching core knowledge at the lower level of Bloom’s Taxonomy, which are often the building blocks for higher levels of learning. The primary means of instruction will be through interactive lectures. Teachers at View Park Prep Middle School will actively teach students the study skills necessary for learning the information such as note taking, summarizing ideas, and using and creating graphic organizers.

2. Generating and Testing Hypothesis – Cognitive engagement and ownership have been identified as key levers in student learning. By generating, testing, and arguing for their own claims, students are active participants in the learning cycle. This takes place in the science classroom through experimentation, but also in other classrooms in generating their own interpretations of the information and writing or discussing their hypothesis.

3. Daily Homework – Homework and practice have been identified as effective practices when they are used to practice and reinforce certain skills, are a direct extension of the classroom learning, and when the student clearly understands the purpose of the assignment. Teachers are encouraged to assign daily homework assignments that are supported by a consistent homework policy, that will be used as a part of the instructional sequence in the next classroom, and that students will receive some feedback on.

4. Socratic Seminars – Current research regarding college readiness, especially that of David Conley, support that students need to be able to participate in academic discourse in order to succeed in college. In order to teach this school, we integrate Socratic Seminars throughout the curriculum.

5. Writing Across the Curriculum – After each unit, students will be required to complete a culminating activity. In many cases, the culminating task will be a written assignment. Based on the research contained in the document published by the California Intersegmental Academic Committee entitled The Minimum Expected Competencies Expected of Entering Freshmen in Academic Literacy, the work of David Conley in college readiness, and the expectations of the Common Core, students must be prepared to create and defend their own arguments in all content areas by providing complex reasoning supported by evidence that moves past formulaic patterns of writing. View Park Middle School has collaborated with K-12 ICEF schools to task analyze college freshman writing assignments and backmap and benchmark specific product goals at each grade level across the content areas. Students in grades 6 and 7 will focus on the building blocks of good argumentative writing, while 8th graders will begin explicitly using an adaptation of Stephen Toulmin’s argumentative model, using claim, clarification, evidence, and warrant.

6. Cooperative Grouping – Cooperative learning is a powerful instructional strategy when it is properly executed using the five driving factors, “positive interdependence, individual and group accountability, interpersonal and small group skills, group processing, and individual and group accountability. New and veteran teachers receive professional development on the different elements of effective cooperative learning including: “using a variety of criteria to group students, using different types of groupings; formal, informal, and base groups, managing group size, and combining cooperative grouping with other classroom structures.” Cooperative grouping may be used to complete in class assignments or culminating tasks, to clarify instructions on individual assignments, to provide feedback other’s work, or to make meaning of the concepts just discussed in class.

Backward Mapping/Backward Design

The method, known as “Backward Design,” is an instructional design method with a strong research base currently being employed in reform efforts across the nation. Originally published in “Understanding by Design,” by Grant Wiggins and Jay McTighe, this process of instructional planning provides teachers with a method for aligning standards, assessment, and instruction. This process is one in which teachers start with the desired results (goals or standards) – and then derive the curriculum from the evidence of learning (performances) called for by the standard and the teaching needed to equip students to perform. There are three distinct stages of this process that View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School uses. The three stages are as follows:

Stage 1: Unpacking and Prioritizing State Content Standards

Teachers and administrators apply specific tools necessary to “unpack” and prioritize content standards. This is a necessary pre-requisite step to effectively designing assessments that are aligned to standards. Specifically, teachers:

- Understand the three steps of the backward design process (identifying desired results, designing and aligning assessments to those results, differentiating instruction to meet the needs of all learners).
- Apply a concrete process for analyzing standards which helps teachers internalize the standards as well as determine the following information:
  - Level of thinking (based on Bloom’s Taxonomy) required by students to reach mastery of the standard (this will be tied to creating assessments)
  - Percentage of questions from the STAR exam (CST & CAT 6) that relate to each strand of the standards (this will be tied to creating assessments)
  - Identification of standards that will serve as “anchors” upon which units can be based. Other standards are tied to these “anchor” standards within each unit designed by teachers (this will be tied to creating assessments for units as well as individual lessons within the unit).

Teachers in each of the content areas, including Physical Education and visual performing arts use California State Content Standards as part of this process.

Stage 2: Aligning Assessments (formative and summative) to content standards

Teachers design effective assessments that are aligned to standards and provide an accurate measure of a student’s ability to engage in the level of thinking that is required by each standard. Specifically, teachers:
Identify four overarching assessment methods (selected response, constructed response, performance assessment, and personal communication) from which to choose when designing standards-based assessments (both formative and summative).

Analyze content standards to determine the “achievement target” embedded within each standard (achievement targets are the link between standards and assessment).

Match an appropriate assessment method to each standard.

Establish and articulate clear criteria for reaching proficient performance on standards.

Stage 3: Differentiating Instruction to Meet the Needs of All Learners

Teachers design innovative instructional strategies by:

- Differentiating the content, process, and products delivered to students in order to provide equal access to standards-based education for all learners (including English language learners and students with special needs).
- Writing effective standards-based lesson plans.
- Exploring how all learners (including ELLs and special needs students) vary in their readiness, interests and learning profiles.
- Using a repertoire of research-based instructional strategies proven to increase student achievement in a standards-based system (e.g. latest research from Marzano, Pickering, Pollock, Schmoker, Tomlinson).
- All coursework will involve a rich repertoire of instructional strategies, curriculum, and materials. Many of the sample instructional strategies listed below incorporate one or more of the nine research-based strategies proven to have a positive effect on student learning as described in Classroom Instruction that Works (Marzano, Pickering, Pollock, 2001). Sample instructional strategies will include:
  - Small projects and other ways of experiencing real-world problems
  - Collaborative investigations and demonstrations
  - Mini-lessons that address specific skills within the context of larger projects
  - Giving guidance and adequate time to self-reflect and self-assess
  - Democratic classrooms and school structure
  - Authentic assessments
  - Direct instruction
  - Research based projects
  - Cooperative group work and projects
  - Inter-disciplinary approaches to curriculum
  - The presentation of clearly defined “Learning Targets” for all students by all teachers
  - Rubric self-assessment
  - The involvement of parents and utilizing community resources as educational partners in instructional presentation
  - mentoring programs
  - peer study groups
  - Creating learning experiences that promote understanding, interest, and excellence
As a result of implementing and using this process, educational objectives become the criteria by which materials are selected, content is outlined, instructional procedures are developed, and tests and examinations are prepared. Teachers use the process on a continual basis to evaluate the effectiveness of materials and instructional strategies used in their classrooms. Thus, the process serves as the vehicle for ongoing conversations among and between grade levels at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School. Specifically, all teachers are charged with the responsibility of meeting weekly, as a staff, to engage in lesson study and the examination of student work in order to critically examine lessons to determine their effectiveness.

Scope and Sequence of Skills to Be Taught Across Grade Levels and Subjects

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School’s curriculum is based on and will ensure that all courses fully address the California State Frameworks and Academic Content Standards. View Park Accelerated Charter Middle School will begin training faculty and staff to understand and integrate the Common Core Standards beginning the summer of 2012, with a full transition expected by 2014 based on state requirements. Grade Level standards students are expected to master by the end of their grade level include, but are not limited to:

8th Grade Physical Science Course Description as of 2011-2012

Brief Course Description:

The study of physical science allows student to explore their world using the naturally occurring principles that govern the universe. Understanding that motion, force, pressure and speed are principles not created by man. Rather they were natural phenomena that sparked the inquisitive nature of the scientist who first reported how they work. It is that same inquisitive nature that we hope to spark in our physical science course.

A. Course goals and/or major student outcomes

Investigation and Experimentation

Scientific progress is made by asking meaningful questions and conducting careful investigations. As a basis for understanding this concept and addressing the content in the other three strands, students should develop their own questions and perform investigations. Students will:

- Plan and conduct a scientific investigation to test a hypothesis.
- Evaluate the accuracy and reproducibility of data.
- Distinguish between variable and controlled parameters in a test.
- Recognize the slope of the linear graph as the constant in the relationship $y=kx$ and apply this principle in interpreting graphs constructed from data.
- Construct appropriate graphs from data and develop quantitative statements about the relationships between variables.
- Apply simple mathematic relationships to determine a missing quantity in a mathematic expression, given the two remaining terms (including speed = distance/ time, density = mass/volume, force = pressure x area, volume = area x height).
- Distinguish between linear and nonlinear relationships on a graph of data.

B. Course Objectives

Motion

The velocity of an object is the rate of change of its position. As a basis for understanding this concept:

Students know position is defined in relation to some choice of a standard reference point and a set of reference directions.
Students know that average speed is the total distance traveled divided by the total time elapsed and that the speed of an object along the path traveled can vary. Students know how to solve problems involving distance, time, and average speed. Students know the velocity of an object must be described by specifying both the direction and the speed of the object. Students know changes in velocity may be due to changes in speed, direction, or both. Students know how to interpret graphs of position versus time and graphs of speed versus time for motion in a single direction.

Forces
Unbalanced forces cause changes in velocity. As a basis for understanding this concept: Students know a force has both direction and magnitude. Students know when an object is subject to two or more forces at once, the result is the cumulative effect of all the forces. Students know when the forces on an object are balanced, the motion of the object does not change. Students know how to identify separately the two or more forces that are acting on a single static object, including gravity, elastic forces due to tension or compression in matter, and friction. Students know that when the forces on an object are unbalanced, the object will change its velocity (that is, it will speed up, slow down, or change direction). Students know the greater the mass of an object, the more force is needed to achieve the same rate of change in motion. Students know the role of gravity in forming and maintaining the shapes of planets, stars, and the solar system.

Structure of Matter
Each of the more than 100 elements of matter has distinct properties and a distinct atomic structure. All forms of matter are composed of one or more of the elements. As a basis for understanding this concept: Students know the structure of the atom and know it is composed of protons, neutrons, and electrons. Students know that compounds are formed by combining two or more different elements and that compounds have properties that are different from their constituent elements. Students know atoms and molecules form solids by building up repeating patterns, such as the crystal structure of NaCl or long-chain polymers. Students know the states of matter (solid, liquid, gas) depend on molecular motion. Students know that in solids the atoms are closely locked in position and can only vibrate; in liquids the atoms and molecules are more loosely connected and can collide with and move past one another; and in gases the atoms and molecules are free to move independently, colliding frequently. Students know how to use the periodic table to identify elements in simple compounds.

Earth in the Solar System (Earth Science)
The structure and composition of the universe can be learned from studying stars and galaxies and their evolution. As a basis for understanding this concept: Students know galaxies are clusters of billions of stars and may have different shapes. Students know that the Sun is one of many stars in the Milky Way galaxy and that stars may differ in size, temperature, and color.
Students know how to use astronomical units and light years as measures of distances between the Sun, stars, and Earth. Students know that stars are the source of light for all bright objects in outer space and that the Moon and planets shine by reflected sunlight, not by their own light. Students know the appearance, general composition, relative position and size, and motion of objects in the solar system, including planets, planetary satellites, comets, and asteroids.

Reactions
Chemical reactions are processes in which atoms are rearranged into different combinations of molecules. As a basis for understanding this concept:
Students know reactant atoms and molecules interact to form products with different chemical properties.
Students know the idea of atoms explains the conservation of matter: In chemical reactions the number of atoms stays the same no matter how they are arranged, so their total mass stays the same.
Students know chemical reactions usually liberate heat or absorb heat.
Students know physical processes include freezing and boiling, in which a material changes form with no chemical reaction.
Students know how to determine whether a solution is acidic, basic, or neutral.

Chemistry of Living Systems (Life Science)
Principles of chemistry underlie the functioning of biological systems. As a basis for understanding this concept:
Students know that carbon, because of its ability to combine in many ways with itself and other elements, has a central role in the chemistry of living organisms.
Students know that living organisms are made of molecules consisting largely of carbon, hydrogen, nitrogen, oxygen, phosphorus, and sulfur.
Students know that living organisms have many different kinds of molecules, including small ones, such as water and salt, and very large ones, such as carbohydrates, fats, proteins, and DNA.

Periodic Table
The organization of the periodic table is based on the properties of the elements and reflects the structure of atoms. As a basis for understanding this concept:
Students know how to identify regions corresponding to metals, nonmetals, and inert gases.
Students know each element has a specific number of protons in the nucleus (the atomic number) and each isotope of the element has a different but specific number of neutrons in the nucleus.
Students know substances can be classified by their properties, including their melting temperature, density, hardness, and thermal and electrical conductivity.

Density and Buoyancy
All objects experience a buoyant force when immersed in a fluid. As a basis for understanding this concept:
Students know density is mass per unit volume.
Students know how to calculate the density of substances (regular and irregular solids and liquids) from measurements of mass and volume.
Students know the buoyant force on an object in a fluid is an upward force equal to the weight of the fluid the object has displaced. Students know how to predict whether an object will float or sink.

Brief Course Description

Pre-Algebra (Algebra 1/2)
Algebra ½ is a two-semester mathematics course designed to help students to transition from the concrete concepts of arithmetic to the abstract concept of algebra. The core lessons in this course are a combination of basic arithmetic and algebra. The two most important aspects of the core lessons are the incremental development into the algebraic content and continual practice. Incremental development refers to the division of concepts into small, easily understood, parts that are taught over several lessons. Continual practice means that fundamental skills and concepts are practiced and reviewed in a cumulative manner throughout the year.

CURRICULUM COMPONENTS

• Classic Literature Study

While studying literary elements, students will pay close attention to the characters in the literature that they read. Some of the questions they will explore are: What makes a character good or bad; what do a character’s actions or speech reveal about them; what does an author’s use of language reveal about his/her judgment of the characters? As students read about characters and their choices, they will reflect upon their own choices, actions and character.

• Literature Circles

In addition to the core curriculum, students will be required to independently read several novels during the course of the year. These novels must be chosen from the California Reading list published by the California Department of Education. Students will meet with other students who are reading the same books. These literature circles will discuss, analyze and critique the novels and then prepare a class presentation. In addition, students will write individual book reports.

- 100 Book Team Read Challenge

Consistent and extensive reading is the major contributor to vocabulary development and knowledge of spelling and grammar. Students will be challenged to read 100 books during the course of the academic year to reach the Hall of Fame. Students will then progress from Junior Varsity (25 books), Varsity (50 books), All Star (75 books) and Hall of Fame (100 books). Awards and incentives will be given as students reach each level.

ICEF Public Schools has determined that for its instructional purposes, Physical Education is not a core subject.
Use of Information Technology

- Every student has access to a computer.
- Every student learns to type and use Microsoft Word at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School.
- Every student has supervised access to the Internet at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School.

Additionally each core teacher integrates the California Technology Standards into their core curriculum.

Practical Matters and Teaching Philosophies

Faculty members will work in cadres to develop lesson plans for each core subject: English, math, science, and history. Teachers on each grade level are required to plan their units together, during departmental planning time, develop the similar lesson plans, and instruct students with those lesson plans. Much of this learning occurs where the chalk hits the board and where the pencil hits the paper. It is the basis of learning at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School. Teachers are encouraged to give “project” assignments that spur student creativity and self-reliance.

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School seeks to prepare students to pursue their education through to the highest intellectual reaches of university life. At View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School, we believe in a broad and rigorous liberal arts education that will prepare students to learn whatever they need to learn in their chosen field at any point in their life. The subjects to be studied at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School are English, Math, Science, History, Art, Music, Dance, and Physical Education. Textbooks and Instructional Resources to Be Used View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School places a high value on the quality, condition and availability of textbooks for all students. Textbooks and ancillary materials in core academic areas are selected with a strong focus toward alignment to State standards.

In addition to the instructional materials listed in each course description, View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School also uses the Core Knowledge Program for English Language Arts Enrichment. Core Knowledge complements the skills-based curriculum of Open Court by providing carefully sequenced and challenging knowledge in which to ground skills instruction. Core Knowledge was started by Professor E. D. Hirsch, Jr., author of Cultural Literacy and The Schools We Need, and is based on a large body of research in cognitive psychology, as well as a careful examination of several of the world's fairest and most effective school systems. Professor Hirsch has argued that, for the sake of academic excellence, greater fairness, and higher literacy, early schooling should provide a solid, specific, shared core curriculum in order to help children establish strong foundations of knowledge. After wide consultation, the content of this core curriculum has been outlined in two books — the Core Knowledge Preschool Sequence and the Core Knowledge Sequence, K–8 — that state explicitly what students should learn at each grade level. Currently, hundreds of schools and thousands of dedicated educators are participating in this school reform movement throughout the United States.

Teacher Recruitment

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School involves all stakeholder groups in the school to identify the best teachers to deliver our instructional program. An extensive body of research shows that teacher quality is one of the most important factors related to increasing student achievement. Teachers who are committed, engaged and skillful in their approach to instruction have a powerful, long-term impact on their students’ lives. ICEF has identified teacher recruitment as an organizational priority and has developed a human resources department in the back office to help reach our recruiting goals.

The key factors of success in recruiting are:

- Dedicated Human Resources Staff in the back office
- Centralizing all of the processing of new employees in the back office
• Good Internal Communication between the back office and school sites
• Casting a wide net for candidates using traditional and innovate outreach strategies
• Responsiveness to Candidates – timely return of calls and clear explanation of next steps to perspective candidates
• Rigorous evaluation and selection process

The Human Resources Department works with the Communications Department to raise awareness about ICEF public charter schools as early as November. Most of the hiring is done from March – June. They employ a broad range of outreach tactics, from cultivating individual networks to implementing print and on-line advertising campaigns. A wider pool of candidates will ultimately result in a higher quality of teachers hired. Primary outreach strategies include:

• Information sessions at colleges and graduate schools
• Partnerships with Teach for America, R.I.S.E. and Cal Teach
• Advertisements through organizations
• Newspaper and on-line advertising such as Craig’s List, Edjoin.org and Teacher-teachers.org
• Utilize the network of colleagues from our existing teaching staff

Application and Selection Process
1. Candidate submits a resume and an application
2. The recruitment team reviews the documents submitted including a credential check.
3. If a candidate is qualified, a brief phone interview is conducted
4. Candidates who pass the phone screen are invited to an interview feedback session.
5. Candidates who pass the interview/feedback session are then invited to teach a sample lesson. Parents and students are an integral part of this step in the process.
6. The final step in the process is a reference check.
7. The school director makes a recommendation regarding the selection of a candidate to the Executive Director.

Characteristics of a Strong Teacher Prospect
Teacher candidates should demonstrate most of the following characteristics in their written application, phone interview, and formal interview or during the sample lesson plan:

• Two to seven years of teaching experience
• Clear credential or enrolled in a teacher intern program
• Urban teaching experience
• Commitment to teaching in underserved areas
• Demonstrated use of data-driven instruction
• Demonstrated passion for closing the achievement gap
• Openness to feedback
• Demonstrates a desire for personal and professional growth
• Strong connection with students
• Commitment to a rigorous education
• Strong execution of the sample lesson plan.

Formalized Ongoing Professional Development Program
View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School has implemented a comprehensive model of continuous school improvement which includes staff professional development as well as personalized coaching to help teachers implement concepts in their classroom in a practical way that meets their needs.

Every year since the inception of ICEF public charter schools, teachers have dedicated time during the summer, and throughout the school year, to professional development. Teachers returning to ICEF Public Schools have 150 total hours of professional development embedded within their work day, consisting of: 40 hours prior to the start of school in August, 10 early release days (3.5 hours) spent in content area or grade level cadres across the organization, and 10 early release days (3.5 hours) spent on school site professional development. Early release days occur on Wednesdays when school ends at 12:25. Newly hired teachers have an additional 5 days of professional development prior to the start of school in August for a total of 150 hours of professional development.

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School has identified the following topics for professional development:

- Teachers examine the backward design process and use specific tools (e.g. Bloom’s Taxonomy, STAR Blueprints) and critical questions to “unpack” and prioritize content standards.

- Teachers review their prioritized standards and work collaboratively to cluster standards around “big ideas.” The “big idea” or “key” standards will serve as anchors for units.

- Teachers analyze achievement targets embedded in standards, as well as assessment options available to them in order to design effective assessments that are aligned to standards.

- Teachers establish specific criteria that will be used to determine student proficiency on any given task (essay, projects, oral presentations, etc…) and then communicate the criteria to students prior to giving the assessment.

- Teachers will develop instructional techniques that are proven to have a positive effect on student achievement. Participants will also learn how to differentiate the strategies in order to meet the needs of students with special needs, English language learners and high achieving/talented students.

In addition to the formalized professional development objectives outlined in this charter petition, teachers are encouraged to share with the staff and the charter school director the areas where they feel a need for more support and professional development. Peer support teams, and informal and or formal interdisciplinary teams promote the school as a place for professional and personal growth for every staff member, as well as a place for learning for every student.
Professional development is led by school site leaders, teacher content area leaders, and other curriculum specialists.

English Language Learners

Overview
View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School meets all applicable legal requirements for English Language Learners as it pertains to annual notification to parents, student identification, placement, program options, ELL and core content instruction, teacher qualifications and training, reclassification to fluent English proficient status, monitoring and evaluating program effectiveness, and standardized testing requirement. View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will implement policies to assure proper placement, evaluation, and communication regarding ELL’s and the rights of students and parents.

Home Language Survey
View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School administers the home language survey upon a student’s initial enrollment into school.

CELDT Testing
All students who indicate on their initial home language survey that their home language is other than English are CELDT tested within thirty days of initial enrollment and at least annually thereafter between July 1 and October 31st until re-designated as fluent English proficient.

Reclassification Procedures
Reclassification procedures utilize multiple criteria in determining whether to classify a pupil as proficient in English including, but not limited to, all of the following:

- Assessment of language proficiency: CELDT overall score of 4 or 5 or higher on all subsections. Score 3 or 4 on all Writing Assessments, overall score of Early Advanced or Advanced. ELA CST scale score of at least Basic.
- Participation of the pupil’s classroom teachers and any other certificated staff with direct responsibility for teaching or placement decisions of the pupil to evaluate the pupil’s curriculum mastery as measured by A, B, or C in all core subjects or teacher recommendation for any grade lower, affirming that student will be able to master the material without additional ELD support.
- Additional data to be considered and discussed:
  - Parental opinion and consultation, achieved through notice to parents or guardians of the language reclassification and placement including a description of the reclassification process and the parents opportunity to participate, and encouragement of the participation of parents or guardians in the school district’s reclassification procedure including seeking their opinion and consultation during the reclassification process.
  - Comparison of the pupil’s performance in basic skills against an empirically established range of performance and basic skills based upon the performance of English proficient pupils of the same age that demonstrate to others that the pupil is sufficiently proficient in English to participate effectively in a curriculum designed for pupils of the same age whose native language is English.

The View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will notify all parents of its responsibility for CELDT testing and of CELDT results within thirty days of receiving results from publisher. The CELDT shall be used to fulfill the requirements under the No Child Left Behind Act for annual English proficiency testing.

2 The thirty-day requirement applies to students who are entering a California public school for the first time or for students who have not yet been CELDT tested. All other students who have indicated a home language other than English will continue with annual CELDT testing from their prior school of enrollment.
Strategies for English Language Learner Instruction and Intervention

Teachers will be trained to use Specially Designed Academic Instruction in English (SDAIE) techniques to meet the needs of English language learners identified as Intermediate Level or Above. Students who are identified as Beginning or Early Intermediate English Language Learners will be served through targeted intervention services using High Point Curriculum. These services will be provided to students during the last instructional block of day in addition to – not in lieu of – the instruction they will receive in their core classes.

The instructional design model to be used by View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School places a heavy emphasis on differentiating instruction to meet the needs of English Language Learners based on their academic and language readiness. Through the well-defined professional development plan that accompanies this instructional design model, teachers will be trained on a variety of instructional strategies to be used specifically with English Language Learners. These strategies include, but are not limited to the following techniques:

Total Physical Response (TPR). Developed by James J. Asher, TPR is a language learning tool based on the relationship between language and its physical representation or execution. TPR emphasizes the use of physical activity to increase meaningful learning opportunities and language retention. A TPR lesson involves a detailed series of consecutive actions accompanied by a series of commands or instructions given by the teacher. Students respond by listening and performing the appropriate actions (Asher, 2000a). Asher emphasizes that TPR can be the major focus of a language program or an extremely effective supplement, but that in order for it to be truly effective, training should include "a special course along with hands-on experience monitored by a senior instructor who is also skilled in the intricate applications of TPR" (par. 11). (For a detailed review of the research validating this approach, as well as sample lesson plans and examples of how to use it in the classroom, see Asher, 2000b.)

Cooperative Learning. Robert E. Slavin (1995) has shown cooperative learning can be effective for students at all academic levels and learning styles. Other research indicates that cooperative learning can be an "effective vehicle for learning content and learning in a second language" (Calderon, 2001; Cohen, Lotan, Scarloss, & Arellano, 1999; McGroarty, 1989, as cited in Calderon, 2001, p. 280). Cooperative learning involves student participation in small-group learning activities that promote positive interactions. As Cochran (1989) notes, "Cooperative learning makes sense for teachers who have Limited English Proficient pupils in their classes because all students are given frequent opportunities to speak and because a spirit of cooperation and friendship is fostered among classmates." Through a shared learning activity, students benefit from observing learning strategies used by their peers. ELL students can benefit from face-to-face verbal interactions, which promote communication that is natural and meaningful (Johnson, Johnson & Holubec, 1994; Kagan, 1994). Calderon suggests that "cooperative learning is effective when students have an interesting well-structured task such as a set of discussion questions around a story they just read, producing a cognitive map of the story, or inventing a puppet show to highlight character traits" (2001, p. 280).

Language Experience Approach (also known as Dictated Stories). This approach uses students’ words to create a text that becomes material for a reading lesson (Carrasquillo & Rodriguez, 2002). Students describe orally a personal experience to a teacher or peer. The teacher or another student writes down the story, using the student’s words verbatim. The teacher/student then reads the story back as it was written, while the student follows along. Then the student reads the story aloud or silently. Other follow-up activities can be done with this approach. In this way, students learn how their language is encoded as they watch it written down, building sight word knowledge and fluency as they use their own familiar language. This approach allows students to bring their personal experiences into the classroom—especially important for culturally diverse students (Peterson, Caverly, Nicholson, O’Neal, & Cusenbary, 2000).

Dialogue Journals (Also known as Interactive Journals). This approach is a way for teachers to engage students in writing. Students write in a journal, and the teacher writes back regularly, responding to questions, asking questions, making comments, or introducing new topics. Here the teacher does not evaluate what is written, but models correct language and provides a non-threatening opportunity for ELL students to communicate in writing with someone proficient in English, and to receive some feedback (Peyton, 2000; Reid, 1997). Reid’s literature review and her action research project show dialogue journaling with a teacher to be beneficial in improving spelling and fluency.

Academic Language Scaffolding. The term "scaffolding" is used to describe the step-by-step process of building students’ ability to complete tasks on their own (Gibbons, 2002). Academic language scaffolding draws on Cummins’s research into Cognitive Academic Language Proficiency (Chamot & O’Malley, 1994; Cummins, 1981). Scaffolding actually consists of several linked strategies, including modeling academic language; contextualizing academic language using visuals, gestures, and demonstrations; and using hands-on learning activities that involve academic language. These strategies are a central part of sheltered instruction methods, but can be used in any classroom context. (See Gibbons [2002] for specific scaffolding strategies.)

Native Language Support. Whenever possible, ELL students should be provided with academic support in their native language (Thomas & Collier, 2002). Even in English-only classrooms, and even when an instructor is not fluent in a student’s language, this can still be done in a number of ways. According to Lucas and Katz (1994), a student’s native language serves several important functions: it gives students "access to academic content, to classroom activities, and to their own knowledge and experience" (paragraph 5). In addition, they found that it also "gave teachers a way to show their respect and value for students’ languages and cultures; acted as a medium for social interaction and establishment of rapport; fostered family involvement, and fostered students’ development of, knowledge of, and pride in their native languages and cultures" (paragraph 24).

High Achieving Students
View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School believes that all children are entitled to a curriculum that offers the best of what we know about education that which is normally reserved for children identified as high achieving. Students who demonstrate an ability to achieve beyond grade level as well as any students who want the challenge, will be provided with many opportunities to study the core curriculum in-depth and at an accelerated pace, allowing for novelty in student outcomes and emphasizing higher level thinking skills.

Students may be identified as high achieving in grades 1-5. Please note that our definition of High Achieving is not limited to—nor does it use—measures such as IQ which tend to narrowly define “giftedness.” Our belief is that a high achieving child is a gifted child and is one that is able to regularly exceed the performance of his peers. This may be due to natural intellectual capacity, work ethic, motivation, or even exceptional interest in a given area. Children may be identified as high achieving or gifted based first on teacher observation and recommendation for assessment. From there, the school leadership team meets to assess the student’s performance in the core academic subjects. No matter the reason for their high achievement, all children who are capable should be afforded the opportunities usually reserved for the gifted child. Students who are identified as high achieving may be clustered in academic peer groups in each class with flexible academic groupings and specialized programs used as needed. Teachers will provide a qualitatively differentiated curriculum according to California State guidelines.

Intended Goals and Outcomes for High Achieving Students at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School

At View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School, all teachers will participate and contribute to the academic goals of high achieving students as all teachers may have high achieving students in their classroom and are responsible for meeting these students’ needs.

1. High achieving students at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will receive differentiated instruction during language arts and mathematics including use of differentiated materials addressing algebraic and logic instruction that reflects advanced levels of thinking (synthesis and evaluation). Teachers will regroup or cluster students for instruction. Teachers will plan for horizontal curriculum alignment through grade-level meetings, as well as vertical curriculum alignment between grade levels to ensure a continuum of learning that reflects one or more years above grade level.

2. High achieving students at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will study the same core curriculum as their peers in social studies, science, music and art, however, these students will have opportunities to study topics in detail, and will be required to demonstrate their understanding through projects, experiments, and other means of creative expression. Teachers will continually modify instructional strategies to include flexible groupings and hands-on learning experiences.

3. High achieving students at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will participate within the regular classroom as a means of developing and encouraging social awareness and understanding. Each teacher will participate in the organization of classroom populations, addressing the school goals for the high achieving students and using the enrichment periods (art, music, computer, library time, and P.E.) to further the opportunity for differentiated instruction time.

High achieving Students Assessment and Evaluation
1. Teachers will continually assess program design and progress at grade level meetings; and, teachers will make reports to parents and committee members at Curriculum Committee meetings.
2. Students will keep portfolios and participate in self-assessments, demonstrating achievement of curricular standards appropriate to a higher-grade level.
3. Students will make presentations to parents.
4. Teachers will analyze STAR test results and other assessments of advanced performance such as participation in national math competitions to determine the strengths and weaknesses of programs in place.

Strategies to Improve the Performance of High Achieving Students

1. Teachers use the Icons of Depth and Complexity in the Classroom, along with open ended questions, in order to engage students’ higher order thinking skills.
2. Students will be encouraged to choose additional assignments and/or alternative assignments from a menu of extension activities.
3. High Achieving students will be offered the opportunity to participate in Honors Course offerings. Honors courses are offered within the regular classroom but require students to enter into a contract with the classroom teacher that they agree to complete additional assignments that go beyond the regular curriculum.
4. When appropriate, as evidenced by students’ early mastery of course content, students may be available for course advancement through independent study, online learning programs, and/or enrolling in courses at View Park Preparatory High School as space permits.

Students Achieving Below Grade-Level

At View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School low-achieving students are identified as students who are below or far below basic on standardized tests or who receive an “F” in any core content area. It is important to note that a child who is low achieving in any one area may achieve at high levels in another area, or may achieve at low levels after having demonstrated earlier high achievement. A major emphasis of View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School curriculum structure and instructional strategies outlined here are designed to maximize the learning opportunities of low-achieving students. Low-achieving students are thoroughly integrated into the entire student body at the school and participate fully in all aspects of the curriculum. We have high expectation for all ICEF Middle School students to do well.

Parents of low-achieving students will be contacted by the end of the sixth week of the school. Parents will be notified of available interventions including the Extended Learning Program through the use of a Student Success Team (SST) meeting. At the end of the second grading period, parents will be notified if their child has not made sufficient progress towards meeting the standards for promotion. They will be informed at another SST meeting which standards their child is still not meeting at grade level.

Teachers at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will use paraprofessionals for academic support and reinforcement. The on-site after-school program will work collaboratively with the teaching staff at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School to make the after-school program an extension of the learning during the school day.

Identifying Students Performing Below Grade Level

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School screens the following data to identify at-risk students:

1. Students scoring Below Basic or Far Below Basic in Language Arts, or Math.
2. Students who are at least one year below grade level in the areas of reading, written language and math, identified by student performance on diagnostics administered in Revolution Prep, The MDTP, and the ICEF writing diagnostic.
3. ELL students who do not advance a performance level over the course of a year based on CELDT data and internal curricular ELD assessments.

Intended Goals and Outcomes of Students Performing Below Grade Level

1. View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will work to raise the CST scores of our low-performing students by at least 5 percentage points each year. Low-performing students will have their achievement test scores individually monitored, comparing their progress from year to year.
2. All students performing below grade-level will be referred to attend the after-school program which provides small group tutoring to students in the core content areas, monitoring of student completion of homework, and with additional time on the Revolution Prep program.
3. Low-achieving students’ will be scheduled to spend time using the Revolution Prep program to fill in gaps in knowledge and skills and to monitor students achievement through regular assessment. This may occur after-school, in small group break outs during core content instruction, or during study hall or elective periods. Progress toward standards mastery will be monitored at least twice per month through assessments administered on Revolution Prep.

Strategies to Improve the Performance of Below Grade-Level Students

1. By the end of the eighth week of school, all parents of students at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School, identified as low achieving, will have been informed of their child’s academic standing.
2. At Back to School Night and parent education workshops, parents will be given specific suggestions as to how to help their child at home.
3. Teacher will use data to target gaps in core knowledge and skills and conference with students regarding those gaps. Teachers will engage students in setting measureable, incremental goals.
4. Teachers use cognitively oriented strategies, which blend the teaching of procedural knowledge with conceptual knowledge and encourage meta-cognition.
5. Small group break outs in within the core content class to access online intervention programs, participate in peer tutoring, or take part in small group individualized instruction.
6. All full-time, contracted teachers are required to hours “office hours” after school for tutoring at least once per week. Low achieving students will be strongly encouraged to attend and parents will be personally contacted with the recommendation.

7. A list of available tutoring, library and enrichment resources will be developed and made available for parents of all students.

8. Staff development sessions will be devoted to differentiated instruction including how to meet both the needs of low achieving students and high achieving students.

9. Preparation and follow-up activities such as field trips, guest speakers and assemblies will focus on language development and conceptual understanding of material presented and/or experiences shared.

10. A centralized list of targeted low-achieving students will be kept by the administrator to monitor student progress, to track services, and to provide the ICEF Chief Academic Officer or his designee with periodic updates on the progress of student achievement. Confidentiality will be maintained and data will be provided without names.

11. Annual assessments of strategies will be conducted.

Students of Low Socio Economic Status

The majority of students at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will likely be students of low socio economic status. A major emphasis of View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School curriculum structure and instructional strategies outlined here are designed to maximize the learning opportunities of low-socio economic students. Low-socio economic students tend to come to school with lower levels of academic and social readiness and often do not have as many opportunities for intellectual enrichment outside of school. We have high expectation for all ICEF Middle School students to do well.

Parents of low-socio economic students will be contacted by the end of the sixth week of the school and will be notified of available interventions including the Extended Learning Program through the use of a Student Success Team (SST) meeting. At the end of the second grading period, parents will be notified if their child has not made sufficient progress towards meeting the standards for promotion. They will be informed at another SST meeting which standards their child is still not meeting at grade level.

The on-site after-school program will work collaboratively with the teaching staff at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School to make the after-school program an extension of the learning during the school day so that students receive additional small group tutoring, access to online intervention programs, and expand their network of caring and supportive adult relationships.

Identifying and Supporting Students of Low Socio Economic Status

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School screens the following data to identify at-risk students:

1. Students who participate in the free and reduced lunch program.
2. Students who are homeless, living in foster care, and/or not living with immediate family members.
3. Students who request financial assistance in purchasing uniforms or school supplies or who indicate lack of access to a computer or internet.
4. Student or parent indicators of gang affiliation.
5. Teacher observations regarding insufficient nutrition, health care, sleep, hygiene, and or parental support/involvement.
6. Students scoring at below basic or far below basic on the California Standards Test

Intended Goals and Outcomes of Students of Low Socio Economic Status
1. View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will work to raise the CST scores of our low-socio economic status students by at least 5 percentage points each year. Low-socio economic students will have their achievement test scores individually monitored, comparing their progress from year to year.
2. Students of low socio economic status will be referred to attend the after-school program and their after school care costs may be subsidized by ICEF on a sliding scale.

Strategies to Improve the Performance of Low Socio Economic Status Students
1. By the end of the eighth week of school, all parents of students at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School, identified as being of low socio-economic status, will have been informed of their child’s academic standing.
2. Low SES students who also demonstrate low-achievement or other at-risk behaviors will be assigned an adult mentor who will check-in with them regarding progress and obstacles on a weekly basis.
3. Parents will be explicitly recruited to attend parent information sessions regarding the transition to high school, the A-G requirements, and early college planning.
4. Staff development sessions will be devoted to strategies for connecting with and involving parents of Low Socio Economic Status, to the affects of poverty on student achievement, and culturally relevant pedagogy.
5. All students and parents will be provided with information regarding community resources for free or low cost health, dental, and eye care.
6. All teachers are trained and encouraged to routinely use cooperative groups, which has been positively correlated to increased achievement in low SES students.
7. Teachers work with students to set personal and academic goals in order to promote motivation and psychological attachment to school.
8. A centralized list of targeted low-achieving students will be kept by the administrator to monitor student progress, to track services, and to provide the ICEF Chief Academic Officer or his designee with periodic updates on the progress of student achievement. Confidentiality will be maintained and data will be provided without names.
9. Annual assessments of strategies will be conducted.

A full-time Parent Outreach Coordinator will work with parents to devise strategies to involve all parents in school programs that support meeting the needs of all children.

Special Education Program
All charter schools must adhere to all terms and conditions of the Chanda Smith Modified Consent Decree ("MCD") and any other court orders and/or consent decrees imposed upon the LAUSD as they pertain to special education. Charter schools must ensure that no student otherwise eligible to enroll in their charter school will be denied enrollment due to a disability or to the charter school’s inability to provide necessary services. Policies and procedures are in place to ensure the recruitment, enrollment and retention of students with disabilities at charter schools.

Prior to Los Angeles Unified School District (“LAUSD” or “District”) Governing Board approval, View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will execute a Memorandum of Understanding (“MOU”) by and between LAUSD and View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School regarding the provision and funding of special education services consistent with the requirements of the LAUSD Special Education Local Plan Area (“SELPA”) Local Plan for Special Education.

SELPA Reorganization
The Los Angeles Unified School District is approved to operate as a single-District SELPA under the provisions of Education Code § 56195.1(a) and intends to continue operating as a single-District SELPA as in the current structure but will now create two school sections (District operated Programs and Charter-operated Programs) under the administration of one single Administrative Unit pursuant to a reorganization plan approved by the Board of Education on January 4, 2011 (149/10-11). The Charter-operated schools will not have a LEA status but will function in a similar role in that each charter school will be responsible for all special education issues including services, placement, due process, related services, special education classes, and special education supports. Charter schools will apply for membership in the Charter-operated Program section of the SELPA. These schools will receive support from a Special Education Director for the Charter-operated Programs.

*Modified Consent Decree Requirements
All charter schools chartered by LAUSD Board of Education are bound by and must adhere to the terms, conditions and requirements of the Chanda Smith Modified Consent Decree (“MCD”) and other court orders imposed upon District pertaining to special education. The MCD is a consent decree entered in a federal court class action lawsuit initially brought on behalf of students with disabilities in LAUSD. It is an agreement of the parties approved by the federal court and monitored by a court-appointed independent monitor. The MCD includes eighteen statistically measureable outcomes and facilities obligations that the District has to achieve to disengage from the MCD and federal court oversight. All charter schools are required to use the District’s Special Education Policies and Procedures Manual and Welligent, the District-wide web-based software system used for online Individualized Education Programs (“IEPs”) and tracking of related services provided to students during the course of their education.

As part of fulfilling the District’s obligations under the Modified Consent Decree, data requests from charter schools that are not connected to the District’s current Student Information Systems (“SIS”) are made on a regular basis. The requested data must be submitted in the Office of the Independent Monitor’s required format and are as follows:

The Independent Charter School Suspension/Expulsion Report, due monthly throughout the school year.

Paper SESAC Report and Welligent Student Listing Verification, due monthly
throughout the school year.

CBEDS, which is due at the end of October of Each School Year.

All Students Enrolled December 1 of Each School Year, due at the end of December every school year.

Graduation Status of 12th Grade Students Enrolled on December 1, due at the end of June every school year.

The District is currently in the process of developing an Integrated Student Information System ("ISIS") as required by the MCD. Although most charter schools are not currently utilizing the District’s current SIS, the MCD requires all charter schools to implement the use of ISIS once it is developed.

How the Goals of the Program Enable Students to Become Self-Motivated, Competent and Life-Long Learners

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will enable students to become self-motivated, competent and life-long learners by accomplishing two main goals. First, the program seeks to bring all student achievement to grade level or above. If students are on target academically they are less likely in the future to fall several grade levels behind and get discouraged. Second, View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School seeks to develop each student’s analytical and critical thinking skills. This is the key ingredient in life-long learning. Students have to know how to learn and know how to access new knowledge.

Therefore, View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School teachers must give students opportunities for hands-on learning in addition to direct instruction so that students gain first-hand experience to solve problems. At View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School students will become proficient or master the California Standards for their grade level while being immersed in a rigorous program based on the principles of learning, organizing for effort, clear expectations, accountable talk, academic rigor, fair and credible evaluations, recognition of accomplishments, socializing intelligence, learning as apprenticeship, and self-management of learning.

School’s Assessment Plan

All ICEF schools use PowerSchool to track data underlying the principles of our academic model. Teachers update and analyze data for individual students. In addition to PowerSchool, ICEF is implementing new software, Data Director, which will facilitate data analysis and allow us to compare and monitor student progress over time. The principal of View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School and the Chief Academic Officer will meet periodically to review student achievement data to identify students needing intervention.

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will meet all of the California State accountability expectations pursuant to AB1137.
ELEMENT 3
METHOD BY WHICH STUDENT OUTCOMES WILL BE MEASURED

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School’s curriculum and assessment systems are grounded by the California Content Standards and State Frameworks. View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will work cooperatively with the District to monitor progress in meeting student outcomes.

Throughout the year teachers will use a variety of assessment data including short-term and long-term projects, portfolios, chapter tests, homework, etc., to continually monitor student progress as well as to adapt curriculum and develop effective instructional strategies. School leaders and teachers will use Data Director to analyze CST data as well as student achievement on benchmark exams. Benchmark assessments will be given quarterly in the areas of English Language Arts, Mathematics, Science and History to monitor student progress toward mastery of the California Standards. These assessments are administered by teachers and results will be collectively analyzed by teacher content area teams during an organization wide content areas cadre meeting, which are held monthly on and early release Wednesday. They are also used to assess students in English Language Arts and mathematics and the results determine flexible groupings for remediation and extension activities. Teachers regularly use various assessments to evaluate, adjust and plan future instruction. View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School teachers will conference with students and parents to discuss student mastery of the content areas.

At the beginning of the school year, achievement test and CST scores from the previous year are analyzed. Teachers are given a list of students who scored at the Basic, Below Basic, and Far Below Basic in specific subjects so that they can analyze and plan intervention activities to fill gaps in core knowledge and skills. They are also given an analysis of their impact on their previous students’ achievements by comparing efficiency bands of their students at the beginning of the prior school year (on the CST from two years ago) with their students’ achievement at the end of the year (on prior year’s CST). This also allows teachers to analyze their impact on student achievement, identify areas for professional growth and development, and to analyze and refine their teaching practice. These reports are provided by the ICEF Central Office, but school leaders facilitate conversations each October with individual teachers using these reports. Also on the list are students that did not reach benchmark on the last periodic subject assessments from the previous year. Scores from the achievement tests, CST and periodic assessments are used to determine differentiation from at risk to high achieving students. Low-performing students are tracked from year to year so that school leaders can analyze their performance in particular classroom settings and place them with teachers who have a track record of increasing student achievement in low performing students.

At View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School teachers serve as testing coordinators to ensure that state pupil assessments including achievement tests, CST, and CELDT are administered. Teachers at View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School are also involved with ongoing professional development directly addressing assessment.

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will conduct pupil assessments pursuant to EC60602.5.

The View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School faculty will continue to use informal and formal assessments to monitor student progress in mastering grade level standards in all subject areas. This progress will be shared with parents through quarterly report cards, parent-teacher conferences, and additional means as necessary.

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School will comply with state and federal law in collecting and reporting student and school performance and demographic data. This will include preparation and distribution of an annual School Accountability Report Card (“SARC”) to provide parents and the community with descriptive and comparative information about the school.

View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School shall also collect and analyze student performance data each year and shall utilize the data to monitor and improve

Testing
The Charter School agrees to comply with and adhere to the State requirements for participation and administration of all state mandated tests. If the Charter School does not test (i.e., STAR, CELDT, CAHSEE) with the District, the Charter School hereby grants authority to the state of California to provide a copy of all test results directly to the District as well as the Charter School.

1. The governance structure is designed to assure that every member of the school community shares in the decision-making process.

2. Cadres address site-based priority areas of concern. These areas of concern are defined through a data-gathering process. Having thoughtfully defined an area of challenge, an inquiry process is followed to address the area of challenge.

3. The Steering committee facilitates communication between cadres and the School as a Whole.

Cadres

Cadres are small work groups formed on an as needed basis to address specific concerns. An inquiry process is followed by the cadre to explore possible solutions to previously prioritized areas of concern and suggests solutions to the Steering Committee. Once the Steering Committee agrees to a proposed solution, this solution is presented to the School as Whole for full implementation through a consensus process. Cadres do not have decision-making power, however their suggestions are considered by the Steering Committee and upon their approval forwarded to the School as a Whole for action and adoption. Cadres are comprised of members from the school community: teachers, support staff, administrator(s), parents, students, and those community members who are active participants in the school. Below are examples of typical cadres in an ICEF School.

Labor Procedures

Unless otherwise specified in an employment agreement, employment with ICEF, and our community of schools, is “at will.” This means that employment may be terminated for any reason, with or without advance notice or cause, at any time, by either the employee or ICEF. Additionally, ICEF reserves the right to change an employee’s position, title, job responsibilities, benefits, compensation level, or any other terms and conditions of employment at any time, within its sole discretion, with or without cause or advance notice. ICEF also reserves the right to impose discipline of whatever type and for whatever reasons the ICEF, in its sole discretion, determines appropriate without compromising the at-will nature of employment.

Nothing in this petition, or in any other document or statement, shall limit ICEF’s right to terminate an employee at any time, with or without cause, or to make changes to an employee’s position, title, job responsibilities, benefits, compensation level, or any other terms and conditions of employment.

No manager, supervisor, or other employee of ICEF, or any of our schools, has any authority to enter into any agreement for employment for any specified period of time or to make any agreement for employment other than “at will” employment. Only the CEO and the President at ICEF has the authority to make any agreement with another employee, which must be in writing signed by the employee and the CEO of ICEF, for any employment term other than “at will” employment.

The support, evaluation, and intervention process for ICEF faculty and staff is constantly being improved. More than an evaluation process, it is a philosophy. This process considers all aspects of the person at work: from the teacher in the classroom to the colleague in the faculty meeting or the staff person at a school or in the ICEF “home” office. Currently, ICEF has a truncated version of this process; however, as we grow, we expect this process to evolve. The process will involve three components that directly relate to each other, but also function independently of each other. These three components are Ongoing Support, Evaluation and Intervention. The ICEF “home” office will use these three structures for administrative functions as well. ICEF’s office formal evaluation process will typically occur annually.

1. Ongoing Support
ICEF believes that being an educator is a professional role that can be enhanced through continued scholarship, collegial interaction, evaluation, goal setting, self-assessment, and involvement in educational work beyond the school. Therefore, to assure that faculty and staff participate in meaningful activity beyond the classroom, the Directors and Departments Chairs (with other ICEF staff in the future) plan time for professional development that challenges and enhances their teaching. This work may include structured dialogues, conferences, workshops, school visits, peer observation and coaching, etc.

2. Evaluation
   All new and developing staff and faculty are evaluated every school year. The purpose of the evaluation is to identify effective performance, improve the instructional program and encourage professional growth. Administrative staff participates in the evaluation by classroom visitations and conferences.

3. Intervention
   All ICEF schools’ faculty and staff are expected to work to create a positive atmosphere. This means that each of us must attempt to resolve issues of concern directly and in a supportive manner. The following intervention process is designed to have issues of concern resolved and to have a successful faculty and staff. Please note that this process does not apply to: (1) complaints of harassment or discrimination, which are governed by a separate section in the Employee Handbook, or (2) other situations requiring immediate response as determined by ICEF’s sole discretion. The Human Resources Director will act as the point person in the intervention process.

   a) Go to the Source. IF NOT SUCCESSFUL, then
   b) Document efforts and consider using a voluntary intervention team. IF NOT SUCCESSFUL, then
   a. Use an Administrative Team. IF NOT SUCCESSFUL, then
   b. The Director may need to take action.

This intervention process does not change any employee’s employment status, which remains at-will at all times, or as otherwise outlined in an employment agreement. Nor does it guarantee any rights or process prior to a disciplinary decision or termination of employment.

If remaining in the room becomes too dangerous, or when the shaking stops, teachers will proceed with their students to the evacuation site or other safety zone. Teachers will take roll and report any missing students to the administration. Teachers will stay with their classes for the duration of the emergency. In the event of an earthquake or national disaster, teachers are designated “Civil Defense Workers” and are not allowed to leave the school until they receive official clearance from administrative staff.

Student Supervision

Students are supervised at all times by teachers, paraprofessionals, or other qualified adults according to state law.

Specifically, View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School focuses its outreach efforts on the surrounding area including the Greater Crenshaw area, the area surrounding the Harbor Freeway and South Los Angeles. Diversity Recruitment Plan

The Inner City Education Foundation’s (ICEF) mission emphasizes a focus on providing an educational experience for each member of the ICEF schools community that offers consistent opportunities for excellence in both learning and teaching. A central feature to this mission is a personal approach to learning that encourages students to return to the community in which they were raised to be the next generation of leaders, teachers, professionals, and contributors. To this end, ICEF recognizes and values diversity within its schools’ communities. This includes diversity in ethnicity, language, culture, socio-economics and individual learning needs.

ICEF’s Board has identified major objectives they believe, when accomplished, will further strengthen and facilitate diversity at each ICEF campus and throughout the ICEF school community:

1. Beginning in 2011-12, ICEF schools will enhance its publicity for providing notices of its lotteries, particularly in areas where there are significant concentrations of students who qualify for free or reduced-price lunch and students who are Hispanic and/or English learners.

2. Once students have enrolled, ICEF will analyze demographic information from families so that the leadership of ICEF can note, in real-time, the success of its efforts to recruit linguistically, racially and socio-economically diverse applicants as well as applicants with more diverse learning needs.

3. Current ICEF families enrolled at our schools have been our most effective ambassadors to the communities we serve. ICEF will continue to further develop its parent volunteer programs so that parents can continue to provide natural leadership in supporting ICEF’s efforts, including its outreach efforts.
4. As additional resources become available to ICEF, we will use these resources to augment our efforts to recruit ICEF school communities that exemplify the diversity of our neighborhoods and service areas.

5. A staffing priority in our prior years of operation has been finding highly qualified faculty who can effectively teach and serve our school communities. As our ICEF community becomes more diverse, particularly linguistically diverse, ICEF will continue to seek individuals who can most effectively serve the needs of its students and families.

6. ICEF will continue to develop its outreach to further include the nurseries, Head Start/State Preschool programs, Crystal Stairs family programs, churches and libraries in its school communities. In addition, ICEF will increase its contacts with Regional Center, The Foundation for the Junior Blind and the LAUSD office of Special Education to further broaden and deepen diversity throughout its school communities.

7. ICEF will also continue to make documents available to families in both English and Spanish.

Suspension shall be preceded by an informal conference conducted by the Director or the Director’s designee with the student and his or her parent and, whenever practicable, the teacher, supervisor or school employee who referred the student to the Director.

The conference may be omitted if the Director or designee determines that an emergency situation exists. An "emergency situation" involves a clear and present danger to the lives, safety or health of students or school personnel. If a student is suspended without this conference, both the parent/guardian and student shall be notified of the student’s right to return to school for the purpose of a conference.

At the conference, the pupil shall be informed of the reason for the disciplinary action and the evidence against him or her and shall be given the opportunity to present his or her version and evidence in his or her defense.

This conference shall be held within two school days, unless the pupil waives this right or is physically unable to attend for any reason, including, but not limited to incarceration or hospitalization. 2) Notice to Parents/Guardians:

At the time of the suspension, the View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School Director or Office Manager shall make a reasonable effort to contact the parent/guardian by telephone or in person. Whenever a student is suspended, the parent/guardian shall be notified in writing of the suspension. This notice shall state the specific offense committed by the student. In addition, the notice will state the date and time when the student may return to school. If school officials wish to ask the parent/guardian to confer regarding matters pertinent to the suspension, the notice may request that the parent/guardian respond to such requests without delay.

3) Suspension Time Limits/Recommendation for Expulsion

Suspensions, when not including a recommendation for expulsion shall not exceed five (5) consecutive school days per suspension. All arrangements will be made to provide the student with classroom material and current assignments to be completed at home during the length of the suspension. When possible, suspended students will be given the opportunity to get classwork and homework before they leave campus. Suspended students will also be given the email address of their teachers so that they may complete coursework during their suspension. In certain situations where the safety of the school or the integrity of the learning environment could be substantially compromised, the Director or the Head of School can extend the number of days suspended up to but not more than ten (10) consecutive school days per suspension.
Authority to Expel

A student may be expelled following a recommendation by the Director of View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School. The AEP will include at least one teacher or retired teacher or administrator from outside of View Park Preparatory Accelerated Charter Middle School to ensure an unbiased process. The AEP may recommend expulsion of any student found to have committed an expellable offense(s) listed above in the "Grounds for Suspension and Expulsion." The AEP reports to the ICEF Board of Trustees for ratification of its recommendations.

Expulsion Procedure

Students recommended for expulsion are entitled to a hearing to determine whether the student should be expelled. The hearing shall be held within thirty (30) school days after the Director finds that the student has committed one of the acts listed under "Grounds for Suspension and Expulsion."

The hearing will be presided over by the AEP. Written notice of the hearing shall be forwarded to the student and the student’s parent/guardian at least ten (10) calendar days before the date of the hearing. Such notice shall be sent by the Director or Office Manager. The notice shall include:

A decision to expel by the Administrative Expulsion Panel must be supported by substantial evidence that the student committed any of the acts listed in "Grounds for Suspension and Expulsion" above.

Findings of fact shall be based solely on the evidence at the hearing. While no evidence shall be based solely on hearsay, sworn declarations may be admitted as testimony from witnesses of whom the Principal or designee determines that disclosure of their identity or testimony at the hearing may subject them to an unreasonable risk of physical or psychological harm and are exceptions to hearsay.

If, due to a written request by the expelled pupil, the hearing is held at a public meeting, and the charge is committing or attempting to commit a sexual assault or committing a sexual battery as defined in Education Code Section 48900, a complaining witness shall have the right to have his or her testimony heard in a session closed to the public when testifying at a public meeting, as determined by the Discipline Cadre, Principal or designee would threaten serious psychological harm to the complaining witness and there are no alternative procedures to avoid the threatened harm, including, but not limited to, video-taped deposition or contemporaneous examination in another place communicated to the hearing room by means of closed-circuit televisions.

Families may request up to 30 calendar days to determine whether to file an appeal. The student will be considered suspended until a meeting is convened to hear the appeal (within ten working days) at which time the student’s parent must attend to present their appeal. The appeal will be heard by a fair, impartial, disinterested panel of school administrators assigned by the Head of Schools. At the appeal the student/parent will be allowed to present evidence to the panel under the same guidelines as the original hearing. The decision of the appeal panel will be communicated in writing to the student no more than three calendar days following the hearing of the appeal. The decision of the panel will be final.
